

The Canton Leader.

ARTHUR LIND, Editor and Proprietor.
G. G. GLENDINING, Business Manager.

For President in 1904:
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

The Centerville Chronicle feels as proud as a peacock. It has commenced its 31 year and it will be old enough to vote for President Roosevelt next year.

The grand old man of Rome, honored by all christendom, passed away at four minutes past four o'clock Monday afternoon, and the world mourns a sincere christian who guided the destinies of his church with superior discretion and judgment. His administration was crowned in a blaze of glory.

Secretary Nash of the Soldiers' Home board reports the orchard at the home as being in splendid condition. The cherry trees bore well, and the plum, peach and pear trees are bearing nicely, and the apple trees of course are loaded. The writer takes as much pride in that orchard as if it was his own. In company with Quartermaster Phillips, we put in many days of hard work in getting the orchard started, and we are very glad to know it is doing well.

A very destructive hail storm struck southwestern Iowa last Monday afternoon. Chicago was visited by a hail storm Tuesday that did a great deal of damage, and Hartford, Conn., got a hard pounding from chunks of ice the same day. The Iowa-Minnesota storm was unusually severe and covered a large strip of country. The writer saw a corn field that was in the path of the storm, from the car window, but saw nothing to indicate that corn had been growing there this season. The corn stalks had been out to the ground and everything washed away by water.

Manager Ryan of the Red Wing Company, left for Chicago Thursday to consult with the Chicago headquarters relative to business interests and increased facilities to handle additional business that is crowding the Canton branch.

Canton was without water Monday night and no ray of light flickered across the waterless bosom of a troubled city. It all came about through an accident at the pumping station, where things got busted and disconnected and broke.

THE HETLESATER-NASH NUPTIALS

A Noted Society Event Wednesday Afternoon and a Brilliant Reception in the Evening.

Several Hundred Guests Took Part in the Grand Reception at the Home of the Bride's Parents.

One of the prettiest weddings ever witnessed in Canton was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of the Hon. N. C. Nash on west 5th street. It was a society event that had been expected for sometime and the consummation of the wedding vows found a host of friends anxious to extend their heartiest congratulations.

The wedding ceremony took place amid surroundings that were harmonious in effect and elegant in simplicity of decoration and witnessed only by relatives and a few intimate friends. The interior of the elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Nash had been turned into a bower of floral beauty in honor of the event under the direction of Mesdames Averill and Conklin. In the north and south parlors sweet peas and ferns predominated while the dining room was gorgeous with nasturtiums.

At 5:45 the bridal party marched into the south parlor under the inspiring strains of Grieg's beautiful wedding march played by Miss Grace Miner of Yankton, a college classmate of the bride. Doctor Reinert Hetlesater, the groom, was escorted by Prof. G. W. Nash, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the bride, Miss Clara W. by her father, Hon. N. C. Nash. The bride's mother and sister, Nina, were escorted by the bride's brother F. F. Nash, to the left of the groom, who, with the bride, stood beneath a beautiful floral bell in the arch of the baywindow, facing the assembled guests in the parlors. The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. G. B. Hawkes of the Congregational church and the words that hath charmed the human race were pronounced with a solemn and beautiful effect.

The bride was most becomingly gowned in white voile heavily trimmed with lace and carried a bouquet of bride roses and looked charmingly sweet. The groom was attired in the conventional black and looked fit to be the husband of the best woman on earth.

The usual informalities preceding a reception continued until 8 o'clock when the reception began and continued until 11. From the opening moment of the reception until the closing good night, a continuous line of guests extended hearty congratulations and it took the house and lawn to accommodate the happy guests who came mostly in evening dress to do honor to the bride and groom.

The north parlor looked like a fairy land in its trimmings of floral beauty fringed with the magnificent creations of the goldsmith, of the mint and of the silversmith, and around and amid all this evidence of wealth and love there was a charming profusion of the beautiful work of the oriental loom and European glasscutter, the American jeweler and the engraver and the artist and skilled artisan. The presents numbered over one hundred and represented solid gold and solid silver, cut glass, choice and elegant wares, rugs, and so much that a detailed description would tax the descriptive power of a genius.

The ladies who were in immediate charge of the refreshments were Mesdames Cooper, J. D. Cloud, Naylor, Clark and Havn, and the young ladies who served were Misses Conklin, Brenner, Clark and Harlan, while Miss Pearl Mallory, radiant in white, gracefully received the guests as they arrived.

With the gifts of friendship and love, came telegrams and letters of congratulation from dear ones who were far away and could not attend. There were present from out of town J. F. Hall and Mrs. Bickford of Redfield, Miss Grace Miner of Yankton, J. E. Nash and wife and son of Hawarden, and Orlando Alexander and wife from Canton township.

Amid good byes and with messages of love Dr. Hetlesater and bride departed for the east on the 2:30 a. m. train, and after a wedding trip, the Doctor and his bride will return to Chicago where he will take a graduate medical course for a period of six weeks, and thence home to Canton.

Clara W. Nash was born in Wisconsin and came to Canton when a babe. Her education began in the Canton public schools when she soon developed into a bright and careful student. From Canton she entered the Yankton college from which she graduated in 1896 with the degree of A. B. In 1898 she taught in the A. M. A. school in Mobile, Alabama, and in 1901-3 taught in the Iowa Institute at Hull. Her specialty was in Latin and German. Clara has always been a Canton favorite and her sweet sunny disposition won admirers wherever she went.

Reinert Hetlesater, M. D., is a graduate of the University of Christiania. After coming to the United States he located in Des Moines, Iowa, where he took a medical course. Then entered the Iowa college of P. & S. Drake University, after which he taught chemistry and pharmacy and before he began practice in 1889 he took a post graduate course in Chicago. He became a citizen of Canton in 1899 and has won the confidence of our people by his honorable conduct and gentlemanly deportment. He is at present superintendent of the county board of health and a deacon in the congregational church.

The LEADER joins with a host of friends in extending congratulations, and hopes that the hundreds of packages of dream cake carried away by guests will result in joy and happiness like unto that which they so sweetly represented.

Mrs. E. D. Lewis of Worthing and Mrs. C. E. Taylor of Emmetsburg, Iowa, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cooper Sunday. Mrs. Taylor left for her Iowa home Tuesday morning.

E. L. Davis of Springdale was in town Thursday and had the LEADER sent to Spooner, Wis., where his father Albert Davis has gone to make his home in the future. E. L. Davis is working his fathers farm this year, after which he will turn it over to the new owner John Smeek, who purchased the land last spring. Mr. Davis senior had been a resident of Lincoln county many years, and was a gentleman who had won the esteem of all who knew him. May his new home at Spooner, be all he hopes for and may his brightest expectations be realized. His sons E. L. and Fred will remain in Springdale.

DANDRUFF WON'T WASH OUT.

The Germ that Causes It Has to Be Destroyed to Cure Dandruff.

Many a woman spends an hour twice a week scouring her scalp, thinking scrubbing off the scurf will cure the dandruff. Two hours a week, at the age of 40 years she has spent 260 days of twelve hours each, or two-thirds of a year of her life, in that vain hope, vain because you can't cure dandruff without killing the dandruff germ, and the only hair preparation on earth that will do that is "Noid's Dandruff Cure"—also a delightful hair dressing, and thoroughly antiseptic against all contagion from use of other's hair brushes. Call at Dr. Noid's drug store Canton, and procure a bottle at once, or order by mail.

Highland Hums.

The godly and the ungodly met in battle array last Sunday and played ball. It was a champion contest between the Beloit Bloomers and the Highland Hummers and the Bloomers won out but the Hummers are never going to lay down their bats in defeat. They are getting in trim and they expect to trim Beloit in a neat and elegant manner if Beloit will keep professionals out of the Bloomer aggregation. Highland aint afraid of anything that swats a ball if home talent is used, but it don't care to play Beloit, Canton, and Sioux Falls in a bunch. The Highland boys are a husky lot of youths, and in early days could always lay out the Norway youths and walk over the Grand Valleyites with ease, either in foot racing ball playing or dancing. The Highland Hummers are preparing for all kinds of sport, and none but Highland boys shall take part in any of the future contests with outsiders.

Sander Brynjulson and Gilbert Gudmunson were the first farmers in Highland township to begin the harvest this year, and they are among the best men and most successful farmers in the county.

A number of young people spent last Sunday evening at Gilbert Gudmunson's home. A most enjoyable time was the result of the gathering, and all went home happy about midnight. Refreshments were served and social amusements constituted the program.

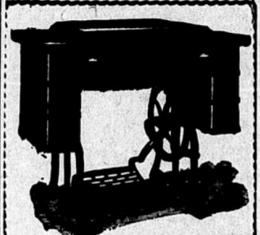

The young people always enjoy a visit at the bachelor home of Gilbert, but there are not many down this way who believe Gilbert will be a bachelor much longer, in fact several young ladies think it a shame that such a fine young man should be compelled to suffer the torments of bachelor life where there are so many fair maids of marriageable age.
