Fans Repeatedly Cheer Mays, Who Shuts Out the Tigers by 10 to 0—Giants and Dodgers Victorious

MAYS PITCHING, SHUTS OUT TIGERS

Returns to Game With Skill Unimpaired—Pratt Bats in Seven Runs.

By WILLIAM B. HANNA.

Carl Mays received a welcome of genuine and spontaneous warmth from New York fans yesterday when he appeared on the diamond for the first time since he pitched the fast ball last Monday which accidentally struck and cut short the life of Ray Chapman of the Clevelands. He pitched the game against the Tigers, who had been prowling and devouring at the Polo Grounds, and did so well the Michiganders were shut out. The score was 10 to 0.

Mays had no reason to be in doubt as to how he stood with the baseball patrons of the metropolis. They cheered and applauded him when he first appeared on the field, when he went out to warm up and when he went to the box at the start of the game. He lifted his cap in acknowledgment, and it was plain that he was deeply appreciative of this unmistakable proof that the fans held him blameless for the death of the Cleveland star and that their feeling for him was one of friendship and sympathy.

Mays came through the ordeal—and it is no mild ordeal for a man when he first resumes his work after being the principal figure in an accident which resulted fatally to a fellow workman—exceedingly well. He had a steady, firm grip on himself in an unobtrusive sort of way and as one who had his job to do to the best of his ability no matter how great his regret for what had happened.

He scattered the hits, pitched like a pitcher of good nerve, and in blanking the Detroiters had support without a blemish and with it fine throwing by Ruth. The Babe has a whip as potent as his bat. He threw out Bush trying to reach third on Cobb's single and he threw out Cobb trying to make a two bagger of a single.

Pratt at His Best.

Were it not that the occasion was out of the ordinary, the outstanding figure would have been not Mays but Pratt. Pratt rioted with the bat. He wrenched lose a home run, a two-bagger and two singles from the assorted and sometime declassee pitching he faced, and he batted in the astonishing total of seven runs. That, one may venture without recourse to the "dope," is quite the most productive and featureful batting of the year for one game for one small—or medium-sized—person.

With Pratt to swing the quirt, the game was made easy for Mays early and often. Take the first inning. The Detroits had been checked by Ruth in a play of considerable importance. Possibly it meant the difference between Mays's getting away well or poorly. Bush had been passed and was surging for third on the high on a single to Ruth from Cobb. Ruth cut the ball over to Ward perfectly, and without so much as a by your leave Bush slid into an out.

Something—that play, maybe—took the heart right out of the Tigers. They couldn't make any headway against Mays and appeared to be listless and apathetic. A home run by Pratt may have contributed to that dispirited state. Pratt hit into the left field stand in the first inning after Pipp had singled and Ruth had walked.

Leonard was ineffective, though he struck out Ruth in the third. In that inning Pratt doubled and scored Pipp, who had doubled ahead of him. Ward hit a high home run into the left field stand in the fourth. It plopped into the seats so close to the foul line that it appeared to strike the rope which indicates the line.

Ruth Overcomes "Interference."

Pratt hit the ball in the fifth inning on which one of the two runs of that period was flushed, though on an error. Ruth had taken occupancy of first by his favorite method—of the pitchers' favorite method—a walk. Pratt hit a high bounce to Jones, who threw low past Hellman. Ruth came home in a center despite the urgent efforts of Donie Bush to "ride him off." Bush "interfered" with the Babe half way from third to the plate.

Lewis's sacrifice and Bodie's fly to Cobb brought Pratt around. Oldham passed Mays in the sixth, and after Peck and Pipp had struck out Ruth doubled to the wall. A little more lift would have made it a homer. Pratt singled and brought in these two. Pipp and Ruth drew passes from Morrisette in the eighth and Pratt's single sent Pipp in.

The Tigers could have had a run if Young hadn't loafed in the seventh. They bunched three hits—Hale, Bush and Cobb. Young, who had forced Hale, jogged in from second on Cobb's hit, and, making leisurely progress, he was in the act of stepping on the plate when Cobb was cut down at second by Ruth's quick, swift throw to Pratt. This was a good decision of Nallin's. Young wasn't there when Pratt made his play.

Nehf Pitches Giants to 10-3 Triumph Over Cards

Frisch Hoists Ball Into Right Field Bleachers—Perritt Reports.

Special to THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 23.—Art Nehf held the Cardinals in check to-day while his mates slammed the offerings of Jesse Haines, Marvin Goodwin and Elmer Jacobs for a 10 to 3 victory over the Cardinals. Haines was removed to make room for a pinch hitter in the sixth inning. Goodwin relieved the pinch hitter and pitched the seventh inning. He was succeeded in the eighth by Jacobs, who finished the game.

A single through the box by Smith started the Giants on the way to a run in the third inning, and a fine throw by McHenry deprived them of another. Nehf followed Smith's hit with a one base poke to centre, but was forced at second by Burns. Smith and Burns then made a double steal, Smith crossing the plate. Bancroft struck out and Young slammed a single to left, but Burns, trying to score, was nailed at the plate on McHenry's perfect throw to Clemons.

Frisch, first up in the fourth inning, hoisted the ball into the right field bleachers.

The Cardinals got to Nehf for a run in their half of the fourth. Hornsby singled to centre and McHenry to Bancroft, whose toss to force Hornsby was too late. Lavan advanced the runners with a sacrifice. Doyle made a great play on Heathcote's smash and threw him out, Hornsby scoring. Clemons filed to Young.

In the sixth inning Young walked and Frisch singled to left. Frisch was forced by Kelly, but Young crossed the plate while Lavan was throwing out Spencer. Doyle's grounder went through Janvrin's legs, Kelly scoring. Smith crashed one into the right field stand, scoring Doyle ahead of him. In the Cardinals' half of the same inning Hornsby opened with a single to centre and Burns backed up against the left field bleachers for McHenry's tremendous drive. Leaping high, he got his gloved hand on the ball, but it bounded off into the stand, McHenry jogging over the plate behind Hornsby.

With Goodwin pitching in the seventh, Bancroft singled to centre and advanced to second on Young's out and scored on a single by Frisch. Frisch stole second and Kelly and Spencer walked, filling the bases. Doyle singled to right, sending Frisch and Kelly home.

Jacobs, pitching for the Cardinals in the eighth, hit Burns with a pitched ball. Hornsby and Janvrin retired Bancroft. Young beat out a hit to Jacobs, and when the pitcher threw low and wide to first base Burns scored.

Poll Perritt reported to John McGraw to-day and if he shows up well will sign a contract for the remainder of the season. With McGraw's permission Perritt pitched part of the season with the San Antonio club of the Texas League. The score:

INDIANS LOSE ONE GAME IN THE 13TH

Capture Other From Red Sox—Speaker Plays.

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—(American.)—Boston and Cleveland divided a double header to-day, the visitors winning the first game, 2 to 1, and the home team capturing the second, 4 to 3, in thirteen innings.

Manager Speaker returned to the game as a pinch hitter in the first game and played for a few innings in centre field in the second, but he did not seem to act like himself and was replaced by Evans. Speaker arrived at the park while the first game was in progress, having come direct from Cleveland.

Gardner won the first game for Cleveland with a single that scored Wambsganss in the eighth inning. The second game was warmly contested, Boston twice coming from behind to tie the score. The break came in the thirteenth inning when Scott's single to centre scored Hendryx with the winning run. The scores:

DODGERS WHITEWASH PIRATES BY 3 TO 0

Pfeffer Wins 7th Straight—Makes Three Hits.

Special to THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 23.—With Jeff Pfeffer hurling in masterly style the Dodgers opened their series here this afternoon with a victory over the Pirates by 3 to 0. Pfeffer's batting played an important point in the victory. He made three hits—a triple and two singles. It was about the best pitching contest the big right hander has turned in so far this season, and it was his seventh consecutive triumph.

Carl Hamilton, a southpaw, hurled for the Pirates and was hit rather freely, but with the exception of the last chapter he was invincible with runners on the bases.

The Dodgers scored their first run in the third frame and it was helped along by an error by Walter Schmidt. With one out Pfeffer hit over second for a single. Olson followed with a two bagger past third and Jeff reached the far corner. The Pirates claimed Olson's wallop was foul, but their arguments were fruitless. Johnston then hit to Hamilton. Pfeffer hesitated near third and the pitcher threw to Grimm, disposing of Johnston. Pfeffer then started for the plate, but moved slowly. Grimm threw to Whitted, who relayed the ball to the plate. It was dropped by Schmidt and Pfeffer was safe. Olson went to third on the play, but was left, after Nels walked and Wheat struck out.

Myers opened the Dodgers' half of the fourth with a triple, but was nailed at the plate when Koney hit into a double play.

In the next two stanzas the Dodgers succeeded in hitting safely, but could not advance a runner over the plate. In the ninth, however, they bunched three hits and clinched the game. Koney started off with a single and Kilduff sacrificed. Miller was tossed out and Pfeffer followed with a triple to the scoreboard in centre, Koney scoring. Olson's single to centre sent Pfeffer home. Johnston drew a pass and Nels struck out.

A near fight between Olson and Southworth featured the Pirates' half of the sixth. Southworth opened with a two bagger and Cutshaw followed with a grounder to Pfeffer. Southworth was run down and tagged by Olson. The Pirate was trying to get back to second safely and ran headlong into Olson, who held the ball. Olson immediately rushed at Southworth, but before any blows were struck Umpire Rigler was between the players. The score:
