FLAYS AMERICANS' IRISH MEDDLING

citizens are to be embodied in this extra police to the number of 50,000 men, paid and directed by the Government.

"In the rest of Ireland, loyal citizens are equally invited to enroll. We think this a complication. Recruits are not likely to be numerous and would require to be sifted. But for other reasons these methods are unsuitable for employment outside Ulster. The south must either be a dead letter or seriously deepen social antipathies.

"For northeast Ulster, we decisively welcome the new movement so far as it goes. It is a serious step. It is defensible only as an alternative to burning and massacres such as might otherwise break out at any moment. Must that be the alternative and nothing else?

"As the Unionists will have practically overwhelming civic power in their hands, their responsibility is proportionate. They are bound to protect the quiet elements of the Catholic minority. The latter, on its side, must keep the peace. Sections of it, especially in Belfast, are desperate and well armed, better than most of the Covenanters. If these sections were criminally mad enough to challenge conclusions by an outbreak, Ulster, under the new system, could deal better with it than with the late troubles.

"The Ulster force will be practically embodied in the army of order. But let us not be misled about what has compelled this development. The Sinn Fein and the murder clubs have already a sporadic army of anarchy and separation scattered all over Ireland. It was high time in the north at least, to bring stands men together in their scurried ranks.

Urges Speeding Home Rule.

"But the whole situation is still a makeshift. It can be regularized only by passing the Home Rule bill through both houses as soon as possible after the meeting of Parliament. We decline to believe that the Peers will obstruct it if the Government is at last aroused and in earnest. By now the Peers know the consequences of their vote in the Dyer case have been disastrous enough in India. They would incur a more insupportable responsibility in Ireland by resisting the only constructive proposals which have a shadow of a chance.

"It means life or death to get the bill passed quickly and for Ulster to start what we have called Home Rule at the other end. Then the new policy arrangements in the North would carry far more authority, the Catholics would be largely represented in the Belfast Legislature. Conditions would be far more conducive to peace and to adjustment between the two sects in the northeast and between the six counties and the rest of Ireland. The present nondescript interval would be replaced by a strong and popular regime in Ulster.

"Thereafter the prospects of a closer union ever coming in Ireland depend entirely upon the replacement of the present extremism of Sinn Fein by a more reasonable and orderly temper. Except upon the basis of such temper a real Irish nationality, whole and united like the Scottish and Welsh, never can begin to be created while time lasts. This is the key and the only key, but the sure key, as all real, deep, non-partisan thinkers on Irish affairs have known for a century.

"The first necessity for the rest of Ireland is what the Prime Minister has declared: 'The murders must stop.' And can they be stopped? It is futile to say that Sinn Fein does not control the murder clubs though the two things overlap and interlink somewhat like Parliamentarianism and Socialism in Parnell's and Davitt's agitation after 1879. Official Sinn Fein, public opinion and the Church can stop the murderers. If they do not effectually reprobate, they connive. Why does not American opinion recognize that if there is ever to be Irish peace the internal problem between the North and South is paramount; that it can only be settled by Nationalist moderation and order instead of Sinn Fein extremism and crime? Why doesn't the United States cry to Catholic Ireland as we do: 'Que Messieurs les assassins commencent?'

"Instead of that, the murder clubs are financed from America by the Clan-na-Gael—which badly wanted Parnell's life at one time—and Sinn Fein extremists are interlocking with a more secret organization, preparing, we fear, a climax of anarchy. We beg Sir Hamar Greenwood to give his attention to the symptoms and to speak with promptitude.

Not a Local Question.

"We began by showing, as we have long shown in vain, that the Irish question is the real pivot of the world's politics. It is unutterably futile and worse; it is ominous to treat it as a local complaint. The next few months will be of irrevocable significance. For the various reasons we have given there is a great point of departure to be marked. That point should have been marked by a last signal act of clemency, accompanied by a statement to the whole world which would have compelled respect and which every sane Irishman would ponder. Concurrently with the establishment of Ulster under arms the Lord Mayor of Cork ought to have been released. But he lingers into the sixth week to lengthen the anti-British films. The psychic touch has been missed. Where that is missed in Ireland, all is missed. The majority will believe once more that there never is any true equality of concession or repression—that the dice are loaded against them.

"In any case, we have to pick up the pieces. Pass the bill. Let Ulster work its part. Invite the rest of Ireland to work its own wide share of home rule and negotiate for rational cooperation with Ulster through the joint council. If it is refused by the Sinn Fein tribalists, who do not know what constructive nationalism means, leave them to their chaos. Concentrate on the vital maritime points of the Irish fringe. Hold them. Firmly evacuate the rest. Leave it in its welter. But having done all we can by legislative concession consistently with the assured fundamental integrity of the United Kingdom, let us explain to all whom it may concern that we have said our last word. Let us then stick to it like steel—and at the same time take it easy. Above all, if this plan and programme are not thought acceptable, let some other intelligible policy give proof at last of consecutive mind and vertebrate will."

TO-DAY MAC SWINEY'S 40TH; SENDS MESSAGE

Thinks 'God Intervened to Stay Tragedy.'

LONDON, Sept. 20 (Monday).—Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, to-day will send the following message on behalf of himself and the hunger strikers in Cork jail to Irishmen throughout the world, according to the Daily Mail:

"To-morrow I shall have completed forty days without tasting food, and, though lying here shelpless, my faculties are as clear as ever. I attribute this to the spiritual strength I receive from my daily communion, bringing me bodily strength, assisted by a world of masses and prayers.

"I believe God has directly intervened to stay the tragedy for a while for a divine purpose of His own. It is incredible that the people of England will allow this callous, cold blooded murder to be pushed to the end. I think that God is giving them their last chance to pause and consider. But if their determination is to go on, our resolution was prepared from the beginning and we are prepared to die."

ONE HUNGER STRIKER SAID TO BE AMERICAN

Joseph Kenny's Citizenship Reported Established.

CORK, Sept. 19.—The Rev. T. Carroll of Greenagh called at the Cork jail this evening and notified the governor of the jail that Joseph Kenny, one of the hunger strikers, is an American citizen. He said that Kenny, who was arrested on suspicion of being an Irish Republican soldier, had lived for many years in Montana and that he was the father of seven children. Father Carroll, who is a fellow townsman of Kenny, said he had communicated with the American authorities and had received documents establishing Kenny's American citizenship. Kenny was married in Montana and returned to Ireland owing to impaired health, according to the statement of the minister.

LONDON ASKS WHO IS FEEDING MACSWINEY

'Times' Hears Talk That His Relatives and Friends Are Keeping Him Alive.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The condition of Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, was reported as practically unchanged in three bulletins issued to-day by the Irish Self-Determination League, although he appeared somewhat refreshed by two hours' sleep during the night. This evening's bulletin, given out by the league after Mrs. MacSwiney's visit to her husband, said: "He is extremely weak, but still conscious."

Talk was occasioned to-day by a paragraph appearing in the Sunday Times under the head, "Who Is Feeding Mr. MacSwiney?" It says: "Everybody is asking who is feeding him. There is no doubt at all that the Government is not giving him food or any of the prison officials. It is suggested that his visitors, priests and relatives are giving him sufficient food to keep him alive."

Pointing out that Mr. MacSwiney and the Cork hunger strikers have virtually equalled Dr. Tanner's forty days' fast, the paper asks how the first twelve men to be found—Mayor MacSwiney and the eleven in Cork—when they tried to go without food could equal Dr. Tanner's record, which excited the wonder of the world.

In reply to this Bart O'Brien, of the Irish Self-Determination League, said to-night: "No nourishment or food of any kind is being given to the Lord Mayor."

The fast of Dr. Henry S. Tanner, which lasted forty days, was carried out under the supervision of a New York medical college in the summer of 1880. Dr. Tanner had previously abstained from food for periods of many days, one of his efforts, unofficially reported, covering a period of forty-two days. It was the doubt expressed regarding this achievement that impelled him to undergo his world famous forty day fast. He was then forty-nine years of age and he lived to be eighty-seven.

GREENWOOD OFFERS NO HOPE FOR MAYOR

Government Reversal Not Expected by Him.

BELFAST, Sept. 19.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, has informed the magistrates of County Louth that he can hold out no hope that the British Government will reverse its decision in the case of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork. The magistrates recently sent a communication to Sir Hamar demanding full self government for Ireland, with powers not less comprehensive than those enjoyed by any dominion, and calling for the immediate release of MacSwiney. The Chief Secretary's reply to the magistrates says:

"I can hold out no hope of reversal of the decision of the Government in the case of the Lord Mayor of Cork. I can assure you the Government is desirous of granting the fullest possible measure of self government to the Irish people and would welcome an expression of moderate opinions directed to the unfortunate state of affairs."

SINN FEINERS MAKE BIG RAID FOR ARMS

Seize 20 Motor Cars From Week End Tourists.

BELFAST, Sept. 19.—With twenty automobiles captured from week end pleasure seekers, Sinn Feiners in Mid-Tyrone Saturday carried out one of the biggest raids for arms in the history of Ireland. Early in the afternoon, when large numbers of persons were starting on week end tours, a body of men armed with revolvers stationed themselves at the entrance to Gort-in-Glenns, a favorite drive, and held up all motor cars, the passengers being sent to the farm houses adjacent.

When twenty machines had been captured a gang of 100 masked men, all heavily armed and led by an officer, descended from the adjoining mountainside and entered the cars, the drivers of which, with revolvers at their heads, were compelled to drive the raiders around the country, visiting houses in search of arms.

Soldiers who had been in ambush since early morning surprised a body of Sinn Feiners at bombing practice in the hills to-day. One Republican was killed, two were wounded and thirty-five captured.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

to every smoker of Robt. Burns Cigars

FIRST let us make plain three facts:

[1]

During the past few years the prices of Havana and Sumatra tobaccos have steadily advanced. The profit on Robt. Burns Cigar has at times fallen distinctly below a safe business margin. This margin of profit has at times approached the vanishing point

[2]

At no time have we compromised in the slightest the quality of Robt. Burns Cigar. To this formula we stand committed: Full, long-leaf Havana filler of fine selection, toned to agreeable mildness through our special process of curing and wrapped in the finest obtainable Sumatra leaf.

[3]

Our latest purchases of Havana and Sumatra leaf for Robt. Burns were made with our usual care and after the widest possible survey of market conditions.

Yet for that leaf we had to pay much higher prices than ever before

IT IS OUR BELIEF that the smoker of Robt. Burns would much prefer to pay a slight advance in price rather than face the slightest let-down in the quality of his cigar.

To maintain that quality it has become imperative that we add 2c apiece to the retail price of Robt. Burns Cigar.

The price of Robt. Burns Invincible is now changed to 15c; the new price of Longfellow is 17c.

There are no indications in sight at the present to warrant a decline in the price of Havana and Sumatra leaf tobacco. When such time arrives, we promise that the smokers of Robt. Burns Cigars will receive the benefit at the earliest possible moment.
