☞ GOURAUD'S POUDRE SUBTILE FOR COMPletely, permanently and safely eradicating superfluous hair from females' upper lips, moles, low foreheads, or the more stubborn beard of man, always tested at the original office, 67 Walker street, 1st Store FROM Broadway. Directions—French, Spanish and English, accompany each bottle.

☞ WHAT IS THIS LIFE?—For what do we strive and scheme, and live, but to become a something above our fellows—some have large extenuated, conceptive, brilliant minds, aristocratic and manly forms—they would be courtei—their manners, their air, their "tout assemble," are superlative, aye, manly, natural, winning, courtly and beautiful, and if they had what they might have for eighty eight cents, that is, a fine, long, curly, dark, soft silky head of hair, and a clear, healthy, noble brow, fine healthy cheeks, white neck, and soft, white, smooth hands, they would be. Ah, reader, you doubtless think we are puffing—perhaps—so, still should you try a three shilling bottle of Jones' Hair Restorative, and a fifty cent cake of Jones' Chemical Soap, you would then really and truly believe with us, that these articles really and truly do all we represent; the one forces the hair to grow, stops it falling off, cures scurf or dandruff, and rough, harsh, dry, or rusty hair, soft, dark, silky and beautiful—the other is well known to cure any eruption or disfigurement of the skin and render the skin beautifully soft, smooth, clear and white. Both are sold at the sign of the American Eagle, 82 Chatham street, or 323 Broadway. Reader be very careful and buy the latter article no where else but at the above places in this city, or you will be swindled with an ignorant, shabby-genteel counterfeiter.

MONEY MARKET.

Tuesday, Sep. 10—6 P. M.

There was a very general improvement in the quotations for fancy stocks to-day. The greatest advance was in Canton Co., which was doubtless caused by the report that the government intend locating a dry dock on the lands of the company. The rumor evidently has a favorable influence on the stock. At the Old Board, Long Island went up ½ per cent; Canton Co. 4; Mohawk 1; Harlem 1½; Norwich and Worcester 1½; Stonington ½; Reading Railroad ½; Farmers' Trust ½; Ohio 6's, ⅞; Morris Canal 1¼; Pennsylvania 5's, ¼; Kentucky ¼; North American Trust ¼. At the New Board, Long Island advanced ¼; Canton 3¾; Mohawk 1½; Harlem 1; Norwich and Worcester 1½; Farmers' Loan ½; Morris Canal ¾.

Foreign exchange is at present in very limited demand. Buyers have not yet made their appearance in the market for remittances by the Great Western. Sterling bills rule at 9¾, but some drawers are very firm at 10 per cent premium. Bills on Paris are held at 5f. 22½.

The receipts of the Reading Railroad this year have been very large compared with last. Very few roads even in this country can show an increase of more than fifty per cent.

We learn that a new banking institution will soon go into operation at Allentown, Pennsylvania, called the Lehigh County Bank, under the direction and control of the financiers who now control the Plainfield Bank of New Jersey. It appears that a charter was obtained of the Legislature of Pennsylvania last winter to incorporate a bank, to be called the Lehigh County Bank, with a capital of $100 000. Commissioners were appointed to dispose of the stock of the institution, who passed a resolution not to allow any individual to possess more than twenty shares, their object being to distribute them as much as possible. The subscriptions progressed very slowly, and up to the first of August only about $15 000 were taken. The project was on the point of falling through, when the spirits who preside over the destinies of the Plainfield Bank, stepped forward and subscribed for the balance, $85,000, the instalment of which on 10 per cent to be paid in Plainfield bills, that bank being at present a specie paying bank, and its funds specie funds, which is all the charter of the new bank requires. The public, particularly that portion situated in the vicinity of Allentown, will soon be made sensible of the beauties of banking, and those who place any trust in the financiers who direct the Lehigh County Bank and the Plainfield Bank, will ere long discover that they have built upon the sand. The people of Allentown doubtless procured this charter for the purpose of establishing a bank to advance the prosperity of their immediate neighborhood, but we will assure them that their bank has fallen into the hands of those who will make it a curse to the country in which it is located. The laboring classes of this city will, no doubt, sap some of the benefits to be derived from the abundance of a shinplaster currency. This city will be the greatest field for operations for a time. It is to the increase of banks similar to this that we can attribute so much difficulty in our commercial operations, and so many losses by the mechanical classes.

The annexed table will be very interesting to many at this time, when the disposal of our large surplus of agricultural products is a subject of much importance. The outlets for our flour, showing the increased demand from some countries and decreased demand from others, may convey some information to those engaged in the trade, so that supplies can be furnished and our stocks reduced as much as possible. We have treaties of commerce with sixty-one foreign governments, admitting into their dominions grain grown in the United States.

Since 1840 the exportation of flour from the United States has been gradually falling off, and the value greatly diminishing. The total amount exported in 1843 will, of course, be somewhat larger than the amount given above, but the reduced price will not admit of much increase in the total value. The difference in the value of the exports for 1839 and 1840 is very trifling compared with the immense difference in the quantity. The large quantity exported in 1840, a quantity much larger than ever shipped before or since, was called for in consequence of the short supplies in Europe, from bad harvests, &c. The demand has since been falling off, and at present we see nothing that will increase it, but two or three bad harvests, not only in Great Britain but throughout the continent. The producers of this country can have, at present, but little confidence in the repeal of the corn laws of Great Britain. A very strong party favorable to the repeal of those laws, exists, and is steadily increasing in strength. Very unfortunately for the more rapid advancement of the principles of this party, the crops of Great Britain have been, for a few years past, very good, and the harvests more than an average. Two years' bad harvests would do more to strengthen this party than anything else. The importation of agricultural products into Great Britain from other parts of the world, since 1841, have been steadily declining. We annex a table showing the amounts received from the colonies and from the United States for three years.

In nine months ending June 30, 1843, the only exports of this nature from the United States to Great Britain were a few thousand barrels of flour. The importations into England from her colonies have been reduced a very large per cent. in the past three years.—The agricultural products of Great Britain increase faster than the consumers. The harvests for the past four years will average much larger than for the previous ten, and the result is, that the demand on foreign countries has been proportionably reduced. From advices recently received, we are induced to believe that the crops throughout Great Britain this year, will be larger than ever before. The harvests throughout the United States have turned out larger than ever before known, and between the surplus here and the reduced wants on the other side, we have no doubt but that prices will fall to a very low point. By official accounts published, it appears that the stocks of grain on hand in Great Britain this year were larger than last.

This stock is very small compared with the consumption from that time to harvest, but it shows the healthy state of the market, and how little we have to expect from that country in the way of a customer for our agricultural products. An outlet for our surplus agricultural products is always very anxiously looked for, and immediately supplied but when we compare our greatest exports with the immense amount produced, it appears but a drop in the bucket. The annexed table shows the quantity of grain produced in this country for three years.

The returns for 1844 must show a very great increase in the production, and, perhaps, an increase in the exportation.

ST. GEORGE HOTEL
61 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

THE subscriber begs leave to announce to his friends and the public generally, and especially to the former patrons of the Waverly House, while he was its proprietor, that he has purchased the lease of the above establishment for a term of years, and that the house is now opened for the reception of company.

The house was newly fitted up and refurnished last winter, and will compare favorably with the best houses in Broadway, having made arrangements with the present owner of the property to enlarge, improve and beautify the establishment to a great extent, (the alterations and improvements to take place during the dull season of the year.) He flatters himself that when the contemplated improvements shall have been completed, that this hotel will possess advantages rarely to be met with, and it will then assume at least the same rank and position that it formerly did while known as Mrs. Mann's, and more recently as the Globe Hotel. The hotel will be conducted upon the American plan of keeping hotels. Breakfast from 7 o'clock till 12. Dinner at 2 and 3 o'clock. Tea from 6 to 12 at night. Supper 9 till 12 o'clock.

Charges for board per day, single gentlemen one dollar and fifty cents. Ladies' rooms two dollars each person.

For the liberal and distinguished patronage bestowed the present season upon the Hamilton House at the Narrows, L. I., the subscriber tenders his grateful acknowledgments.
