THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMpanion—By Dr. A. M. Maurideau, Professor of Diseases of Women—Tenth edition, 16mo, pp. 250—Price, $1—Years of sufferings, of physical and mental anguish to many an affectionate wife, and premature decrepitude of the frame, might have been spared by a timely possession of this work. It is intended especially for the married, or those contemplating marriage, as it discloses important secrets which should be known to them particularly.

To those whose health does not permit of an increase of family, it is of paramount importance.

Here, also, every female—the wife, the mother—the one either holding into womanhood, or the one in the decline of years, in whom nature contemplates an important change—can discover the causes, symptoms, and the most efficient remedies, and most certain modes of cure, in every complaint to which her sex is subject.

[Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in Dayton, Ohio.]

DAYTON, May 1, 1847.

DR. A. M. MAURIDEAU:

My Dear Sir—My wife has been perceptibly sinking for some three years or more, in consequence of her great anxiety and sufferings some months before and during her confinement; every succeeding one found her more and more debilitated and prostrate, and I had begun to despair of her life in imminent danger, and which was, on the last occasion, despaired of. I supposed that this state of things was inevitable, and resigned myself to meet the worst. At this time, (now about two months,) I heard your book highly spoken of, as containing some matters touching my case. On its receipt and perusal, I cannot express to you the relief it afforded my distressed mind, and the joy its pages imparted to my wife, on learning that the great discovery of M. M. Dupuytren provided a remedy. It opened a prospect to me, which I little conceived was possible. But for this, my mother-in-law would have passed over my head, to old maidenhood probably, my wife would have been in her grave, and my children left motherless.

It is, of course, impossible to convey more fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage.
