ARTHUR LEEK, Editor and Proprietor.
G. G. GLANZMANN, Business Manager.

For President in 1904:
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

When a man tried to collect a bill down in Beresford, the fellow invited to pay pulls out a gun instead of the cash and shoots. That's what happened the other day when A. W. Swenson asked Philip Neuharth to pay him what he owed. Neuharth is in jail and will have to pay a good deal more than Swenson's bill before he gets out.

Judge Aikens won a great victory in a recent law suit at Mitchell, where he defended F. L. Stevens, the Plankinton banker, who had once been convicted of receiving deposits in his bank after it was claimed that it was insolvent. Judge Aikens is a fighter and a lawyer as well, and when he goes in to win a case he generally succeeds.

Hon. M. K. Armstrong of St. James, Minnesota, has been forced to make an assignment during his sickness. Mr. Armstrong is worth about $600,000 mostly real estate, and while sick his enemies took advantage of him. We feel satisfied, from what we hear of him, that he will come out of the trouble in good shape and to the discredit of his enemies.

The republic of Colombia is making a great howl over the friendship of Uncle Sam for the little new republic of Panama. Those South American gentlemen thought they could hold up the United States for twenty million dollars instead of ten, and refused to ratify the canal treaty. The United States and the commerce of two oceans can't fool away time with a lot of political highwaymen in Central America, and the patriots of Panama were given a hint to do business for themselves, and they did. Uncle Sam at once recognized the little republic and the canal business will soon be flourishing.

Editor Sturges of the Beresford Republic has arranged for a big corn day at Beresford on Tuesday Nov. 24. Prof. J. S. Cole of the Brookings College will address the assembled farmers in the afternoon about corn and corn judging, after which a corn husking contest will be held. Hon. M. F. Greeley of Deuel county, will deliver an address in the evening on the "Possibilities of the Landed Home." Editor Sturges is doing a great work for the benefit of the farmers down in that part of the state, and his efforts should meet with hearty co-operation on the part of those he is doing so much to help.

BRILLIANT WEDDING CEREMONY.

Professor G. W. Nash and Miss Adelaide Warburton Married at Pierre November 17.

Large Number of Distinguished Guests Honor the Event and Witness the Ceremony.

Pierre, Nov. 17.—Special: The marriage of Professor George W. Nash, state superintendent of public instruction, to Miss Adelaide Warburton, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Howard G. Fuller, of the supreme court, was consummated at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the Fuller residence in this city. The prominence, wide acquaintance, and unbounded popularity of the couple has rendered the event one of surpassing interest in the social affairs of the state and in Pierre it has, ever since the announcement of the engagement, on the sixth of June last, been the topic of most absorbing interest.

The prenuptial week has been overflowing with functions preliminary to the grand event. On Wednesday Miss Mary Mead gave an elaborate party in honor of the bride. On Thursday the Misses Schuberth gave a handkerchief shower to Miss Warburton, which was conducted in a novel and most ingenious manner. Saturday Mrs. Frank Crane entertained the bride and her friends at a luncheon, which in every appointment was elegant and sumptuous, and upon the same day Mesdames Corson, Mead, Cummins and Dowell promoted a most successful linen shower. For ten days the arrivals of friends from abroad has been almost daily. For the guests at the ceremony proper only a relatively few were chosen and they of the immediate families or the most intimate friends. From out of town there were Mr. Nash's parents, sisters and brother, Mr. Henry Cooper, wife and daughter, and Mr. Lars T. Wirstad and Judge Frederick T. Cathbert of Canton, Miss Edith Warburton, sister of the bride and Judge and Mrs. Barron, of Ipswich, Thad Fuller of Milbank, Howard Fuller of Vermillion, Governor and Mrs. Herried and daughter and James M. Brown and wife of Enreka, Frank Crane and wife of Watertown, Miss Mabel Davis of Chicago, Alex. C. Johnson and wife and daughter of Winona, D. W. Burright and wife of Mitchell, President Henry K. Warren of Yankton college, C. Louis Allen and Doan and Miss Robinson of Aberdeen. From Pierre only the members of the supreme court and their families, Professor Dunlevy, Professor and Mrs. Lang, the Misses Bowen, and the relatives of the bride who reside here were chosen.

The floral decorations at the Fuller mansion were elaborate and profuse, the scheme being set in white chrysanthemums relieved in roses. The bride carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses most elegant in arrangement and delicate in effect.

Miss Mabel Davis, of Chicago, was the bride's maid and Miss Edith Warburton the maid of honor. Judge Frederick T. Cathbert was best man and Lars T. Wirstad the groom's man. Mrs. Charles H. Barron presided at the piano. The ceremony took place under a canopy of smilax and chrysanthemums in the bay-window of the front parlor, the ceremony being performed by Dr. William A. Lyman of the First Congregational church. After the congratulations a delightful wedding repast was served in six courses. Little Misses Harriet Haney, Ruth Hyde, Marguerite Karcher, and Sybil Holmes gracefully assisting in the dining-room.

The bride was gowned in greenish chiffon trimmed in embroidered chiffon and embellished with pearls and diamonds, gifts of the groom. The maid of honor wore cream crepe de chine trimmed in point Venice lace. The bride's maid wore white net over white taffeta.

From eight to eleven p. m. an open house reception was given Professor and Mrs. Nash, in which most of the citizens of Pierre participated. Light refreshments were served.

The presents were rich and numerous and all in exquisite taste. Professor and Mrs. Nash leave on the early train tomorrow morning for a short visit with friends in Minneapolis, returning on Thanksgiving day to Canton where they will be given a reception at the Nash homestead.

Business and Toothache.

Mr. D. O. Storjohann of Inwood, was a visitor Tuesday. He is a member of the firm of Brande, Storjohann & Co., the leading merchants of Inwood, and one of the most progressive firms in northwest Iowa. The LEADER printed a handsome catalog for them in October, and we believe the first catalog issued by any business house in this section of the northwest, outside of the large cities, and this evidence of the progressive business methods of the Inwood gentlemen indicate that they know how to reach the people and sell goods all over Lyon and Sioux counties, and over in Osceola. These gentlemen have learned one of the secrets of success—a liberal use of printers ink, and no successful merchant today has neglected this important feature in his business relations with the people. The Chicago catalog houses do business and make money because they use printers ink by the barrel. Montgomery Ward would soon be compelled to close his great commercial house were it not for the use of printers ink. The day has come when our local merchants must reach out with proper inducements after local trade and head off the Chicago catalog houses. Messrs Brande, Storjohann & Co., have set the pace. They do not propose to allow Chicago houses to come into their territory and do business because they can do better by their home customers than any Chicago house can, and they are doing it now. We didn't start out to write on business matters, we only intended to say that Mr. Storjohann came over to Canton to discuss dentistry with Dr. O'Neill, but before going to the Doctor's office he dropped into the LEADER office to get a fresh grip on his courage, and he got it, at any rate, he left us without a smile or an indication that he was going to a tea party with his best girl. He just looked severely solemn and in no hurry to leave, and we believe would have preferred visiting with us until train time, had it not been for a strong, silent and jumping demand for his presence elsewhere. He didn't return and hence we are of the opinion that Dr. O'Neill put him through the ordeal without suffering or regret. Come again brother when your thoughts are not of the dental chair.

At Opera House, Monday evening, Nov. 23.

The Man in the Moon.

We suppose you have heard the story that the girls just love to stand and look at the moon. Why? Because there is a man in the moon. Do you know that Opland Bros. make it a specialty always to keep on hand more imported delicacies, especially from Norway and Sweden than any other store in Canton. Gaffelbiter in cans, Anchovis, Smoked Herring, Kjoboller in cans, Gammelost, Tyteber, Lutefsik, Fiskeboller, Gedeos, Norsk Fedalsik, and many other good things. We also have Swedish snuff for sale. OPLAND BROS.

The New Orleans Grand

Colored Concert Company

At the Canton Opera House, Monday night, Nov. 23. Here is what the Williamsport, (Pa.) Argos thinks of this company: "A fine concert. The concert last night given by the New Orleans Grand Colored Concert Company was a treat. The violin solos of A. M. Damon, the soprano of Mme. Knox, and Sloan Edwards' splendid bass proved a revelation, the quartet work was excellent, and the wonderful voice of Miss Julious was really startling, many thinking a man was concealed somewhere doing the singing for her. The church was packed to the doors and will be again, should the company ever return."

White Slavery Says Tribune.

Hudson Tribune.—The "Farmer case" at Canton promises to become the source of a long continued, bitter neighborhood fight. Bro. Linn of the LEADER, is bitter in his condemnation of the whole proceedings while Bro. Nash, of the News, is equally bitter on the other side. We may be "sickly sentimental," but we are nevertheless, opposed to the law granting unto a person or association the initial right to separate children from parent except upon the ground of immorality of the home. If Mrs. Farmer is not now insane, and Judge Jones says she is not, it is only a question of a few months 'till she will be, if the Children's Home society keeps up an attempt to keep her children from her. We recognize the fact that the law of our state grants the right in this case and the county judges is but following its provisions, but we do say "D— such a law in a civilized state." We are not swearing when we use this expression. We use the word in the strict sense of the term. The Children's Home society has done great good in taking care of and securing homes for orphan children, but when it steps in and attempts to break up homes, it should be frowned upon by all who believe that the Almighty gives children to their parents. Many who uphold the "Home" in its acts have shed tears as they read the accounts of the taking of children from their parents in slavery days. We frankly confess, we fail to see the difference.

The South Dakota delegation in congress is a busy one, and are laying the foundation for a great deal of needed legislation for the state.

Dan Metz who cut a man with a knife in Worthing some time ago, and was placed in jail with a bail bond of $750, waiting satisfaction, was released Thursday on his Missouri friends putting up the cash. Dan will have to be "shown" the way back to Canton, perhaps, when court meets.

Eastern Star Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Eastern Star will be held in Masonic hall Monday night, November 23. There will be degree work, then the annual election of officers will be held. All eastern stars are expected to be present on that occasion.

DANDRUFF WON'T WASH OUT.

The Germ that Causes It Has to Be Destroyed to Cure Dandruff.

Many a woman spends an hour twice a week scouring her scalp, thinking scrubbing off the scurf will cure the dandruff. Two hours a week, at the age of 40 years she has spent 260 days of twelve hours each, or two-thirds of a year of her life, in that vain hope: vain because you can't cure dandruff without killing the dandruff germ, and the only hair preparation on earth that will do that is "Noid's Dandruff Cure"—also a delightful hair dressing, and thoroughly antiseptic against all contagion from use of other's hair brushes. Call at Dr. Noid's drug store Canton, and procure a bottle at once, or order by mail.

The Firemen Dance.

The annual firemen's dance was held in the opera house Monday evening, and it proved one of the best annual events ever given by the gallant firemen of our city. Ainsworth's orchestra furnished the music and it was fine of course. A large number of firemen and their friends participated in the enjoyment of the evening. The Canton firemen are entitled to the best of everything.

A Good Name.

From personal experience I testify that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are unequalled as a liver pill. They are rightly named because they give strength and energy and do their work with ease—W. T. Easton, Boerne, Tex. Thousands of people are using these tiny little pills in preference to all others, because they are so pleasant and effectual. They cure biliousness, torpid liver, jaundice, sick headache, constipation, etc. They do not purge and weaken, but cleanse and strengthen. Sold by I. M. Helme & Co.

—Tosini has an alarm clock for the holiday trade that will delight the little folks. Something unique.
