FOR SALE AND TO LET.

VILLA PLOTS—THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC is respectfully invited to that splendid property belonging to Platt Stratton, Esq., lying west of Flushing Bay, between College Point and Flushing. One hundred and forty-five acres of this property has been surveyed and laid out into village lots 50 by 100 feet, with convenient streets and avenues, 60 feet wide, and is to be sold under such restrictions as shall be deemed necessary to guard against all manner of nuisances, and preserve the respectability of the place. This plan has been adopted to meet the wants of those who desire larger building lots. Our only object in this arrangement is to make Strattonport just such a place as any gentleman or lady would wish for a country residence. This village, or College Point, is the healthiest place for 100 miles around New York. The beauty of this property, together with the convenience of the location as well as the general arrangement, cannot fail to render it the most desirable yet offered to the public. The western portion, bordering upon the Flushing Bay, rises to an elevation of about 20 or 30 feet, embracing a very fine view of Harlem, and having an extensive water front, also forms the most splendid village in sites. In the bay there is plenty of fish, clams and oysters. In front of these lots is, also, the great advantage of lying on the edge of deep water, so that passengers can land from steamers at the lowest ebb tide, it is only some 500 yards from Flushing. The site consisted, a short time ago of about 800 lots; 200 were, however, sold. Payments will be made in easy monthly instalments, for six mos his. There will be a dock built, to be completed soon, and the fare will be no more than 12½ cents, and probably less in order to obtain the minimum price of the lots, apply at No. 227 Wooster street. The title comes from Stratton's heirs. Those desirous of seeing the spot would do well to call any morning before 9 o'clock, at the office, 227 Wooster street, one door from Amity street.

VILLA PLOTS—THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC is respectfully invited to that splendid property belonging to William H. Morris, Esq., lying west of Morrisania Village, and between the railroad and Harlem river. Two hundred and forty acres of this property has been surveyed and laid out into villa plots, containing from one to five acres each, with convenient streets and avenues, and is to be sold under such restrictions as shall be deemed necessary to guard against all manner of nuisances, and preserve the respectability of the place; this plan has been adopted to meet the wants of those who desire to purchase larger building plots than can be obtained in villages, as they are generally laid out, and who wish to locate in some place where they will be protected from those objections which exist in every city and village, where the property is sold unconditionally. It is presumed that no reasonable person will object to restrictions; their advantages have been fully tested in the villages of Morrisania. Our only object in this arrangement is to make West Morrisania just such a place as any gentleman or lady would desire for a country residence. The beauty of this property, together with the advantages of the location, as well as the general arrangement, cannot fail to render it the most desirable of any yet offered to the public. The eastern portion, lying directly upon the railroad, rises with a gentle slope, to an elevation of from twenty to thirty feet, forming most beautiful building sites, and affording a fine view of East Morrisania, the model village of Westchester county. The western portion, bordering upon the river, rises to an elevation of about the same height, embracing a very fine view of the Harlem river, and having an extensive water front, also forms the most splendid villa sites. The central portion of this property is still more elevated—commanding an extensive and delightful prospect of the surrounding country, embracing a view of Carmanville, Manhattanville, the palisades of the Hudson, the village of Harlem, Harlem and East rivers, Astoria, Will mansburgh, also a distinct view of the celebrated Cypress Hill Cemetery, located upon Long Island, a distance of more than ten miles. This property will be sold at moderate prices, and on easy terms; for further particulars, apply at 455 Broadway, or at the Land Office, Morrisania Village Depot, where maps can be seen, and all necessary information given. A person will be in attendance at the Depot to accompany parties to the ground, on the arrival of the cars, which leave the City Hall at 10 o'clock A. M., and at 1½ and 3 P. M. N. MCGRAW, Agent.

MOREHEAD'S MAGNETIC PLASTER—THE GREATest strengthener and pain destroyer in the world. This unrivalled composition is warranted to be the cheapest and best article ever invented, presented to the public. It is put up in air tight tin boxes, thus keeping it always fresh and pure. Each box will make six to eight plasters, and any child can spread them. Price 25 cents a box. The inventor of Morehead's magnetic plaster has long believed that a really good plaster was wanted by the American people, and he has spent time and labor in bringing this article to perfection. He now feels confident that the impartial trial to be universally approved; while its trifling cost places it within the reach of all who may need its benefits. Morehead's magnetic plaster requires no long story. It simply combines all the virtues of the best preparations which have ever been invented, together with the invaluable addition of the magnetic power, which is most wonderful, and developed in its use. It pretends to nothing magical or mysterious, but is simply a scientific combination of vegetable gums, juices, and resins, such as nature has endowed with valuable medicinal virtues. To nature, also, is it indebted for its wonderful magnetic influence. It claims nothing from Art, but the ability and experience which have been requisite to combine these admirable properties in a permanent form, and to preserve them enduring and unchanged. Morehead's magnetic plaster possesses sedative, anodine and stimulating properties. These it derives from the valuable gums, juices, and resins, of which it is composed. It is tonic, strengthening and vitalizing. These properties arise from the wonderful influence of its magnetic power. From these facts it will be easy to see in what diseases the magnetic plaster must be highly beneficial. First, it is preeminently a great strengthening plaster, and is therefore most valuable as a great restorative in all cases of general debility, strengthening the weakened body, giving tone to the various organs, and invigorating the entire system. Second, it is a great absorbent plaster, causing copious perspiration, which thus enables the innumerable pores of the skin to absorb the virtues of the plaster in all parts, and by this means it cures every kind of pain and ache, acute and chronic rheumatism, lameness and stiffness of the joints, pain in the side, back, or any part of the body, in spinal complaints, it is used with the most surprising success, and even in curvature of the spine it has done wonders. In severe cases of hip complaints it has shown almost magical and in fever complaints it has never been known to fail. Pain cannot exist where this plaster is applied. Third—It is a great Nervine Plaster, possessing, as it does, the wonderous and unparalleled virtues of magnetic influence, and it will, therefore, be found of surpassing value in all nervous diseases, such as neuralgia, tic doloreux, nervous tremors, dyspepsia, which is entirely a nervous disease, deficiency of nervous and physical energy, and all those distressing complaints which arise from a derangement of the nervous system. By its constant supply of magnetic electricity, it subdues nervous irritability, equalizes the animal heat, restores the balance of the circulation, promotes healthy secretion of the liver and kidneys, removes all spasmodic affections, and allays nervous irritation. Lastly—In the happy combination of the above properties, it will be self evident that the Magnetic Plaster, must be of unrivaled benefit in coughs, colds, asthma, oppression of the lungs, weakness of the chest or back, and all those slight, but dangerous complaints which lead to consumption. Persons whose business obliges them to sit or stand much; those who are predisposed to affections of the lungs, and have pains in the side or breast, and indeed, every one who suffers from the sudden changes of our climate, will find the greatest ease and security by wearing this healthful and beautiful plaster. It is very pleasant and it is therefore highly recommended to delicate ladies for weakness and many of those distressing complaints to which females are especially liable. Morehead's Magnetic Plaster has been tested during the past winter, in the private practice of some of the first physicians of the city of New York, and its effects have so much surpassed expectation, that the proprietor has been urged to immediately introduce it to the public in a popular form, and at the lowest possible price. A sense of duty leads him to adopt this course; and to show the feeling which exists, the following letter is published. The name was confidential, but it is from one of the oldest and most respected of our physicians.

"New York, January 21, 1851.
"D. G. Morehead, M. D.—My dear Sir—I have distributed among my friends and patients all the Magnetic Plaster you sent me last November; and as you request my opinion of its merits, I take pleasure in saying, that it has fully equalled your promises. Those who have used it are anxious to know where to get a future supply when wanted, and I have told them I have no more. I know not your intentions regarding it, but I would suggest, that it be introduced in some popular form to the public, and placed at a low price, so that all can obtain it. The poor, who are most liable to exposures and sickness, have not the means to buy expensive remedies; and as I think so highly of this plaster, I shall be glad to know that these facts have not been forgotten should you conclude to give the public the benefit of your beautiful discovery of the 'magnetic plaster.' I am truly yours."
Many other certificates could be given, but the proprietor intends dispensing with all these, being determined that the Magnetic Plaster shall make its own way without any testimonials, and stand or fall, solely on its own merits. Put up in air-tight tin boxes, sufficient to spread six to eight plasters, and warranted to keep pure and fresh for years in any climate. Price 25 cents a box, with full directions. Manufactured and sold by the inventor and proprietor, D. C. MOREHEAD, M. D., 132 Broadway, New York. For sale by all respectable druggists and dealers in genuine medicines, throughout the United States.

COUGHS AND COLDS.—DR. KELLINGER'S LINIMENT cured Mr. L. Lent, the celebrated equestrian manager, who was thought to be in a decline; and also Mr. James Gordon Bennett, editor, who was afflicted with a perpetual cough for several years. It braces the patient daily, by a new and very agreeable treatment, by which it is impossible to fail to cure, if there is anything left to build on. For fear some might lose their directions, for the benefit of those abroad, we are induced to publish the prescription:—Take thirty drops three times a day, in any simple syrup, and form four thicknesses of cotton cloth, like a false shirt bosom, large enough to cover the throat and chest; saturate thoroughly with the fluid; tie it on, retiring, which, by a few applications, will extract the inflammation and soreness, and allay the irritation and coughing, break up the cause at the bottom, and leave the patient free, and clear of trouble, at the fountain head. These two cases will immortalize the Doctor, and he has hundreds of others. Sold in large family bottles, at $1 each, at 230 Pearl street, and 476 Broadway, white front house, where the Doctor can be consulted daily, gratis. He will be extremely happy to see and converse with the faculty generally, who shall at all times have a trial, free of expense. The Doctor is fast gaining favor with this great body of professional martyrs. They are all astonished with its curative effects, but not more so than they are with the Doctor's adaptable qualities. They all leave him agreeably disappointed.

GRAEFENBERG MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTItute for the treatment of the Diseases of Females.—The Graefenberg Company beg leave to announce to the public, that in consequence of the extraordinary success which has attended the use of their remedies in cases of prolapsus uteri (falling of the womb), and other diseases peculiar to females, they have been induced to establish an Institute devoted especially to their treatment. It will be under the direction of able physicians and surgeons (employed by the company), who have devoted many years in this and other countries to the study and practice of that branch of the profession referred to. The treatment is strictly upon Pathological principles, and it is far in advance of that pursued by Dr. Vandervere, Abley and others. No abdominal supporters are used to afford temporary relief. A prompt and permanent cure may be relied upon in all cases undertaken, upon consultation with the physician in attendance. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 12 M. No charge for consultation until the patient is under treatment. Advice to the poor gratis, on Saturdays, from 3 to 5 P. M. Consultation by letter, stating particulars of the case, and enclosing a fee of $5, will be promptly attended to. Consulting rooms of the Institute, for the present, at the office of the Graefenberg Company, 214 Broadway.

DR. JOHN WILLIAMS, VETERINARY SURGEON, respectfully informs his numerous friends and the public, that he continues practising successfully on the different diseases incidental to that noble animal, the Horse, at his old establishment at the rise of the Golden Horse, 131 Christie street, between Broome and Delancey streets, New York. Dr. Williams, in thanking his numerous friends for their kind patronage during a period of twenty-two years, in this city, receiving from six to eight hundred horses per annum, begs a continuance of their favor. Dr. Williams's experience for examining horses for soundness, favors neither party.

AMUSEMENTS.
