Our Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, March 2, 1851.

The Last day—Terrible State of Affairs.

"That awful day will surely come,—
The appointed hour makes haste."

The two houses of Congress are in a fix. They knew, at the beginning, that the session must expire with the 3d of March, and that certain appropriation bills were indispensable to the support of the goverament, for the six months after the first of July next. The appropriations of last year run out on that day. The constitution inhibits the president from spending money out of the treasury, not authorized by law. If the appropriation bills fail there is no law, no authority to the president to touch a dollar for the support of the government, excepting unexpended balances, after the first of July. The treasury may be full of money; and the office-holders may be starving; but the money can't be touched till authorized by Congress.

Now, how do we stand? The civil and diplomatic bill, for the pay of the first session of the next Congress, and from July next, for the subsistence of the executive departments, the judiciary, the general land establishment, and our diplomatic establishment, &c., &c., the army bill, and the navy bill, have all yet to be acted upon by the Senate. To do them justice, and justice to the public treasury, these three bills ought to take up two weeks steady deliberation. They all depend upon the last day of the session. But good may come out of it. The Senate may be driven to take the Army and Navy bills as they come from the House, retrenching upon the estimates to the tune of some $3,000,000. If they do notpass in that form, there is great danger of these bills going by the board.

But, in addition to these bills, the Senate have to act upon Father Ritchie's resolution; and the old man is in great danger. If he has a single inveterate enemy in the Senate, his case is gone.

Again, the House have made some amendments to the Senate bill on cheap postages, which only require the action of the Senate, to become a law, upon the three and five cent rates.

But there is, also, the River and Harbor bill from the House, standing over as the unfinished business of the Senate from Saturday night, or rather Sunday morning; and upon that issue, the question of an extra session depends. If the majority insist, and the minority do not give way, the appropriation bills will be swamped, and an extra session will become a necessity.

We rather suspect, the majority in this case will give in, and that the rivers and harbors will be dished.

Such is the present deplorable and shameful state of the public business on the last session. It may turn out better than we apprehend it will; but it will be bad enough at the best. We shall attempt to analyze all this business when the result is made out. It is full of useful suggestions—full of important facts at the bottom.

Theatrical and Musical.

BOWERY THEATRE.—This evening, Thomas S. Hamblin, the great tragedian, whose long career in the theatrical profession in this city has gained for him an imperishable name, not only for his great histrionic abilities, but also for his cleverness in catering well for the amusement and delight of his numerous patrons, will appear, by general request, in his inimitable representation of the character of Virginius. It is some considerable time since Mr Hamblin has played a round of characters, and we have no doubt, that during this week, the Bowery theatre will be crowded to its utmost capacity, to witness the great histrionic abilities of this old and celebrated tragedian. Miss Wemyss will appear as Virginia, and Mr. Tilton as Appius Claudius. Miss Hiffert will sing a favorite ballad, and the entertainments will conclude with the admired "Comedy of Errors." This is a great bill, and, no doubt, will attract the usual large assemblage. We understand the beautiful piece of "Belphegor" will shortly be produced.

BROADWAY THEATRE.—TWO NEW PIECES—GREAT SUCCESS OF MISS JULIA BENNETT.—Last evening were produced at Broadway Theatre, two new plays, in a manner which reflects much credit upon the theatre; and its proprietor, Mr Marshall, with his usual enterprise, has succeeded in getting a trump card in Miss Julia Bennett, and is playing a winning game. Last week she brought crowded houses, and, if we may judge from last night, she will continue to attract overflowing audiences for the remainder of the present week, the term of her engagement. The house was crowded to excess in every part, and the fair actress was received with most enthusiastic applause. We regret we have not room for the plot to-day, but shall probably give an outline of it to morrow. Although there is not much speaking in the part assigned to Miss Bennett, she makes it a magnificent part by her acting, and has proved that she is equally well qualified to delineate the tender passions and lofty emotions as to pourtray the wit and playful levity of genteel comedy, in which she so delighted her audience the last week. She was completely successful, and looked remarkably well in the dark velvet close-fitting dress she wore. Belphegor is the principal character in this intensely interesting drama, and Conway, who performed the part, made "a palpable hit." He has done nothing so well since he made his appearance in this city. The character seems exactly adapted to him. This play will undoubtedly have a long run. In "The Housekeeper," a beautiful comedy, in two acts, written by Douglas Jerrold, and performed for the first time here, Miss Bennett carried the house by storm as Felicia. The scene is laid in London in the year 1722, and is mixed up with the contests of "the roses," and the conspiracies to bring the Pretender to the throne. It is full of interest, and the play will prove a decided favorite. We perceive that both these successful pieces will be repeated this evening.

NIBLO'S GARDEN.—The splendid ballet troupe, under the direction of the Rousset Family, will again appear this evening. The first piece will be the French vaudeville of "Les Vieilles Amours," in which the talented French artists, Mlle. Felice and M. Bressiani, and M. Richart, will appear in the principal characters. The next feature will be the beautiful ballet of "Giselle," which has been produced with such splendor at Niblo's. Mlle. Caroline, as Giselle, may justly be said to have no equal. She is exceedingly graceful—is as nimble as a sylph, and in carriage and expression is the most fascinating Terpsichorean artist we have ever seen. She is assisted by her three sisters, her father, and an excellent corps de ballet. The scenery is beautiful, and the dresses and decorations of the most gorgeous character.

BURTON'S THEATRE.—This establishment, evidently now the most successful place of amusement in this city, is nightly visited by crowded and fashionable audiences, who generally retire, proclaiming that they have been delighted with the performances and that Burton richly deserves the great success which attends his indefatigable exertions as one of the best managers that ever governed a Thespian temple. The performances will commence with the beautiful comedy by Coleman, entitled the "Heir at Law." Mr. Burton, who in every character is a host in himself, will personate the character of Dr. Pangloss, Blake as Duberly, Lester as Dick Dowlas, Johnston as Zekiel Homespun, Bland as Stedfast, Mrs. Skerrett as Jicely, and Mrs. Hughes as Lady Duberly. A favorite duet by Mr. and Mrs. Holman, a favorite dance by Miss Walters and M. Frederic—the gems of the opera by the orchestra, and all will conclude with the popular piece of the "World's Fair."

NATIONAL THEATRE.—The same splendid programme of entertainment is announced for this evening. The performances commence with the new local drama, entitled the "Beauty Queen of New York, or the Vicissitudes of an Orphan," with Messrs. Taylor, Brandon, La Favor, Seymour, Miss Mestayer, Mrs. Grattan, Mrs. Barnett, and other talented artists in the principal characters. Miss Malvina will appear in an aerial dance, which will be followed by the new drama entitled the "Road to Riches." This piece is greatly admired, and is every night received with the warmest demonstrations of pleasure. Miss Malvina will next appear in a Swiss dance, and the performances will conclude with the ballet of the "Cadi's Daughter." Who can dispute that the value of twenty-five cents is not given at the National? Let them go and judge for themselves.

BROUGHAM'S LYCEUM.—The programme of this evening consists of the comedy of the "Fast Man," with Brougham, Lynne, and Raymond, in the principal characters—also Miss Kate Horn, who is a general favorite and a fine actress. The next feature will be the dancing of a beautiful polka by Mlle. Ducy Barre and Mr Smith. The next in succession will be the splendidly produced piece, entitled the "World's Fair," in which Miss Mary Taylor, who represents the part of Columbia, keeps the audience in roars of laughter—she is a credit to any establishment. Mr. Dunn's burlesque of the beautiful song of the "Red, red Rose," is rendered with great sweetness and melody. The entertainments will conclude with the new farce of "Allow me to Apologize."

CHRISTY'S MINSTRELS.—The bill for this evening contains a fine selection of negro melodies, instrumental performances, burlesque operatic sketches, exquisite singing and beautiful dancing. The house is every night crowded to its utmost capacity. The solos on the guitar and violin are performed with great taste and judgment.

FELLOWS' MINSTRELS.—This band is, as usual, giving general satisfaction by their performances. To-night, Mr Donniker, the celebrated violinist, late of Christy's Minstrels, will make his first appearance. Mr. Rumsy will play a banjo solo. Mr. Horn takes his benefit. It is hoped his friends will rally on this occasion.

AMERICAN MUSEUM.—The performances which are given every afternoon and evening, at this old and favorite establishment, are so well selected and so light and entertaining, that the saloon is every day crowded in each department. The actors are all talented, and with Mr C W. Clarke, and Miss Chapman, as the prominent features, we are not surprised at Barnum's great success.

NEW YORK CIRCUS.—The return of Madame Tournaire, and the French equestrians, to the American Amphitheatre, in the Bowery, has produced a sensation among our circus-going citizens, especially as rumors of their extraordinary success in Boston have circulated pretty freely for the past two weeks. We are glad to notice at this establishment the re appearance of that very clever and pleasing artist, Monsieur Benoit; he would be a valuable acquisition to any circus. Madame Tournaire's is as graceful, as daring, and as bewitching as ever, while the other members of the troupe all acquit themselves to the great satisfaction of the audience. Messrs. Juno & Co. may depend upon a succession of densely crowded houses.

PANORAMA OF IRELAND.—Nothing can surpass the beautiful paintsings exhibited here, and the brilliant illustrations of the lecturer.

WASHINGTON HALL.—The Panorama of the Pilgrim's Progress is still drawing large assemblages.

City Intelligence.

THE WEEKLY REPORT OF THE CITY INSPECTOR—DEATH BY STARVATION.—It will be seen that diseases of the lungs still maintain their fearful preponderance. Out of 563 deaths, 77, or between one-fourth and one-fifth of the entire mortality are from that cause. If that number were to die of cholera, or yellow fever, the city would be thrown into a panic; yet because they are only deaths from consumption, there is no alarm, and very little precaution against the insidious attacks of the "King of Terrors" in that quarter. It is true the climate has something to do with the mortality from consumption; but imprudence, and inattention to the laws of our physical being, have far more. We observe that there is one death from starvation in the returns of the City Inspector—a record almost unprecedented. The case is that of a child, two years old, named John P. Miller, who died at 113 Washington street, on the 22d of February.

THE GRAND CASS BALL.—There is to be a splendid ball given to the Hon. Lewis Cass, at Tammany Hall, on Thursday night next. General Cass has promised to be present, in the following style:—

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1851.

GENTLEMEN:—I had hoped and intended to return home quietly and quickly, immediately after the adjournment of Congress, but I cannot resist accepting the warm invitation you have given me, in terms, indeed, as unmerited as they are unexpected, to attend the ball with which it is proposed to honor me, on the 6th instant, Tammany Hall, and the democracy of New York—the one endeared by its associations, and the other by its zealous and unshaken devotion to the great principles of human freedom, to the constitution and the Union—have claims to the regard of every believer in the political views of Washington, Jefferson, and Jackson. In this feeling I fully participate, and I propose to pay my respects to my fellow citizens who may assemble upon this occasion, and to thank them for one of the most acceptable marks of public approbation which it has been my fortune to receive during a long life, now drawing to a close. I am, gentlemen, with great regard,

Your friend and fellow citizen,
LEWIS CASS.

HENRY ARCULARIUS, Jr., C. S. BOGARDUS, Esqrs.,
GEO. HENRY BROWNE, Committee, &c.

Now, old hunkers and barnburners, huge paws and white kids, let us see what sort of a ball you will give the Michigan Senator. Choose your partners, and think of the contest of 1852.

FIRE.—Yesterday morning, at three o'clock, a fire broke out in house 586 Grand street, occupied by J. Meodinyer as a bakery and dwelling. It broke out in the back room of the first story. It was extinguished with but trifling damage—perhaps $100.

DROWNED.—James Powell, a colored waiter on board the steamboat Belknap, fell, yesterday forenoon, at half-past ten o'clock, from Pier 1, North river, into the water, and was drowned. The body was recovered at two o'clock in the afternoon, an inquest was held, and a verdict of accidental death by drowning returned.

RESCUED FROM DROWNING.—James Kelly, one of the crew of the ship Garrick, lying at Pier 13, E. R., fell overboard, at eleven o'clock, on Sunday night, and was rescued from drowning by policemen Kelly and Ashton.

LECTURE ON THE UNION.—On Friday evening next, at Hope Chapel, Mr Charles Whitney is to deliver a lecture upon the Union. Mr. Whitney has recently returned from England, where he has been lecturing on this country, and giving imitations of the principal American orators. No doubt the coming lecture will afford a rich treat to the audience.

UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.—The medical commencement of the New York University was held, yesterday evening, at the University edifice, Washington place. The proceedings were witnessed by a large and brilliant audience. The degree of Doctor of Medicine was conferred on 1 6 graduates, after which Professor Gross delivered the valedictory address. The report of the proceedings we are unavoidably compelled to lay over until to-morrow.

THE SAD EFFECTS OF INTEMPERANCE.—At half-past nine o'clock, on Sunday evening, a man, named Thos. Burns, fell down in William street, near Anne street, in a state of intoxication. In the fall he burst an artery, and was in danger of bleeding to death. He was taken to the City Hospital.

Two men hired a boat at the North river, on Sunday morning, for a pleasure excursion, which boat was afterwards found adrift down the bay, and picked up by the steamer Huguenot. It is feared some accident has happened to them.

Supreme Court—Special Term.

Decisions by Hon. Judge Edwards.

MARCH 3.—Henry Velverton and others, vs. Sheldon and others.—Exceptions to report of referee allowed.

James Petit, vs. John Barling.—Order dismissing complaint, set aside on the ground of irregularity, without costs.

Same, vs. Same.—Motion that the attorney for the plaintiff be ordered to pay the costs, denied without costs.

Edward W. Bradley, vs. Peter Van Zant.—Motion to set aside judgment, denied.

John P. Lee, vs. Lekey, Farnham and others.—Motion to strike out the special matter contained in the answer granted, except as to so much thereof as alleges the issuing of the attachment and the taking of the property under it.

John A. C. Gray, vs. Robert S. Chamberlain.—Motion to change place of trial denied.

Timothy Powell, vs. Ann Eliza Powell.—Ordered that the report of the referee allowing alimony, &c., be confirmed.

United States Circuit Court.

Before Judge Betts.

MARCH 3.—Charge of Murder on the High Seas.—Douglass, Clements, and Benson, the three men charged with the murder of Mr Havens, one of the mates of the American ship Glinn, were brought up this morning and arraigned. After the court had assigned Messrs Benedict and March as counsel for Clements and Benson—Messrs. Betts and Bonshue having been already engaged for Douglass, the prisoners were called upon to plead; and each, by the direction of his counsel, pleaded not guilty. The trial was then fixed for Monday next.

MIDDLETOWN, (CONN.,) March 2.—SERIOUS FIRE.—A fire broke out in this city at 1½ o'clock this morning, in J. S. Parmelee's variety store, and spread to the store of J. C. Beebe adjoining, and to the block owned by C. Elliott, and occupied by H. & F. Johnson, shoe store; A. Pulman, book bindery; Bain's Telegraph office; F. A. Grant, barber; and the Sentinel and Witness office—all of which establishments were destroyed. The goods were removed from the stores in all the blocks adjoining, damaging them to a considerable extent. Stephen Crittenden's loss was $2,000; insured for $1,200. Beebe lost $200, and Pulman $1,000, saving nothing and having no insurance. Baine's Telegraph office, nothing saved and no insurance. Elliott's building was insured for $8,100. The loss in the Sentinel and Witness office was $3,500; insured for $1,500—books and papers all lost. Johnson's insurance on his stock will cover his loss. Grant's, the barber's loss is $300.

CITY TRADE REPORT.

MONDAY, March 3—6 P. M.

BREADSTUFFS.—Flour—There was a good degree of firmness in the market to-day for Western and State flour, but the demand was not very active. The city trade were buying rather sparingly, and there was but little done for the East. Common State was in some request for shipment, but at prices under the views of holders, which restricted the transactions. The sales since Saturday amounted to 4,000 barrels, at $4 25 a $4 37½, for No. 2, superfine; $4 50 a $4 62½, for common to straight State, chiefly at $4 56 a $4 62½; $4 68¾ a $4 87, for common to good Ohio, received via New Orleans; $4 75 a $5, for mixed to fancy Indiana and Michigan; $4 81 a $4 94, for good and round hoop Ohio; $4 87 a $5, for pure Genesee; and the fancy and extra brands at previous rates. Canadian flour was very dull, with trifling sales of ordinary to good brands at $4 68¾ a $4 76, in bond. There was a fair inquiry for Southern flour, but prices had a drooping tendency. We note sales of 700 bbls., ordinary to straight Alexandria, Baltimore, Brandywine, and Georgetown, at $4 75 a $5; and fancy ditto, at $5 25 a $5 62½. Rye flour was steady at the decline noticed in our last, with sales of 100 barrels, a $3 75 a $3 87½. Corn meal was nominally the same and very quiet. Wheat was in limited request, and the market was heavy, though holders evinced no disposition to press sales. Genesee was quoted nominal, at $1 12 a $1 18; Michigan, $1 10 a $1 14; Canadian, (in bond) $1 04 a $1 08, and Ohio, $1 a $1 04. Oats were more active, and the market was steady. Considerable sales of Northern were made at 42c a 51c; and Jersey at 46c. a 49c. Barley and barley malt were scarce and quiet. The former was held at $1 12 a $1 25, and the latter at $1 15 a $1 25. Rye was dull and the market nominal, at 73c. cash. There was a firmer feeling exhibited in the market for Corn, with a limited supply, and a good demand for distilling, and for the East. There has been nothing doing for export since the receipt of the Europa's news. The unfavorable character of her advices, added to the increased pretensions of holders, keeping buyers out of the market. The operations sum up 16,000 bushels, chiefly from store, at 64c. a 65c. for new Southern and Jersey, and 65½c. for do and do, delivered.

COTTON.—The market appears steady, at the decline of ¼ a ⅜c. on the Europa's accounts, at which about 2,500 bales were disposed of to-day. It is difficult to affix quotations. The rates paid on forced sales are as annexed:—

PROVISIONS.—Pork continued in steady request, in part for the city trade and on speculation, but the market was a shade lower for mess. Some 700 bbls. were sold at $13 44 for new Ohio mess; $13 for old; $12 for sour; $11 25 for new prime; $10 for old; and $8 for sour. Beef was held with much firmness, at $8 75 a $10 75 for mess; and $5 a $6 for prime, at which 170 barrels were taken. Prime mess was more inquired for, and we noticed sales of 200 tierces, on terms not allowed to transpire. Beef hams were steady, and saleable at $14 75 a $15. Cut meats were pretty active, at 5¾c. a 9c. for hams, and 6c a 6¼c. for shoulders. A steady business has been done in Lard, without change in value; about 150 barrels sold at 8¼c. a 8¾c. Butter was in better request, and prices were firm. Cheese was dull at 5½c. a 6¾c.
