Respite of Otto Grunzig.

In the case of Otto Grunzig, convicted for the murder of his wife, and sentenced to be executed on the 23d inst, the following are copies of the official documents sent to Sheriff Carnly, wherein the Governor sets forth the reasons for granting the respite :—

STATE OF NEW YORK, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, ALBANY, Jan. 21, 1852.

SIR:—It is represented that Otto Grunzig has been encouraged to hope for a new trial, on a bill of exceptions settled by Judge Edmonds, and that he has made no preparation for the awful change which awaits him. This consideration would prompt me, from motives of humanity, to allow him a short time for religious contemplation. A careful examination of the case has satisfied me that he has no ground to hope for a new trial. This opinion is confirmed by a consultation with the Judges of the Court of Appeals. But the counsel of Grunzig deems it his duty to submit the bill of exceptions, on a motion for a writ of error; and by arrangement between the District Attorney and Mr. Clinton, that question will be argued before Judge Harris on Friday. I enclose a reprieve, respiting the execution of the sentence for one week. Very respectfully, WASHINGTON HUNT.

THOMAS CARNLY, Esq., Sheriff.

The People of the State of New York, by the Grace of God Free and Independent—to all to whom these presents shall come Greeting :—

Whereas, at a court held in and for our city and county of New York, in the month of November, 1851, Otto Grunzig was convicted of murder, and was thereupon sentenced to be executed on the 23d day of January inst., and application having been made to grant him a respite, Now, know ye, that we have respited, and by these presents do respite the said Otto Grunzig from the execution of said sentence, until Friday, the thirtieth day of January instant

In testimony whereof, we have caused the great seal of our State to be hereunto fixed. Witness—Washington Hunt, Governor of our said State at our city of Albany, the twenty first day of January, eighteen hundred and fifty-two. [L. S.]

WASHINGTON HUNT.

Passed the Secretary's Office, this 21st day of January, 1852. HENRY S. RANDALL Secretary of State.

It is very possible that Judge Harris, on the facts presented, will allow the writ of error and stay of proceedings.

THE STEAMSHIP ARCTIC.—We published on Wednesday a despatch from Providence, stating that one of the Collins steamers, supposed the Arctic, then expected from Liverpool, was seen from Newport on the 20th at 3 P. M., standing westward. The report was correct, as the following statement from Capt. Luce shows, though the vessel was sixty-five miles from Newport at the time. It was but the reflection, however, of the vessel, that was observed, produced by that curious atmospheric phenomenon called mirage:—

STEAMSHIP ARCTIC, January 20, 1852.

Tuesday, 3 P. M. Beaver Tail Light, off Newport Harbor, bore true N. N. W., quarter W., distant 62 miles Newport town, consequently distant about 65 miles; at this time a vapor like that arising from hot water, was floating over the sea, from one to four feet above its surface. Several of my passengers observing, and wondering at this appearance, asked me its cause. That night, the lights all showed as two, one above the other, the lower, or what seemed the reflected light, appearing several minutes before the upper or real light.

DEPARTURE OF A FLEET OF STEAMERS.—To-day a fleet of six steamers will leave this port, if the state of the river will permit, namely:—Atlantic, for Liverpool; Winfield Scott, for the Pacific; Georgia, for Chagres; Alabama, for Savannah; Marion, for Charleston, and the Roanoke, for Richmond.

LAUNCHED.—At Elliot, Me., 21st inst., by Mr. Samuel Hanscom, jr., ship Josphine, 1,000 tons, owned by Gen. Joseph Andrews, of Salem, and intended for the freighting business, under command of Capt. William Jameson. There is already a freighting ship of this name, owned in Kennebunk.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION IN MISSISSIPPI.—The democrats of Mississippi called a convention of all who are willing to support the candidate of the Baltimore Convention, to be held on the 8th inst.

EXPENSIVE AGITATION.—It is said that the secession movements in Mississippi have cost that State forty thousand dollars.

Sleighing, Sleighing, Sleighing.--Parties can get good accommodation at KELLINGER'S Mansion House at Yonkers, sixteen miles from City Hall. Here the people call in round numbers, and are taken care of so as to induce them to repeat their calls. The Doctor is a concentrated lump of good nature, slightly tinctured with conviviality, and very largely disposed to harmonize with his patrons. Don't be afraid all things are orderly. Best Wines, Cigars, and Refreshments must please, as they are purchased mainly of the old importing houses of Ingersoll & Brother, 230 Pearl street; A. M. Bininger, 325 Greenwich street; Mr. Henry D. Felter, corner of Broadway and Prince streets.

Girard House, Philadelphia.—The above house, by far the most magnificent and extensive in the United States, will be opened on Monday next, under the experienced management of Messrs. Pressburg & Billings. Success must attend the enterprise of the proprietors; and travellers, as well as permanent boarders, will find their utmost expectations realized in the extent and magnificence of their accommodation, and the well known courtesy of the proprietors.

To be Dispesed of, at 11 o'clock this day, an immense Turkey, at 166 Vesey street.—A mammoth Turkey, weighing, when dressed, thirty-three pounds, and measuring four feet five inches in length, can be seen at 166 Vesey street. The above Turkey was raised by Alexander Shreeve Burlington county, New Jersey. This is acknowledged to be the largest Turkey ever raised in the universe.

Commercial Bank, New Jersey.—Notes on this bank are redeemed at twenty five per cent discount, by E. EVANS, No. 70 and 72 Fulton street, in payment for ready made clothing.

Narrow Escape.—Mr. Brown would unquestionably have frozen to death last night, but that he had bought one of my $16 overcoats for $12. I have some overcoats as low as $5. Black, blue, and green, for $12—I put the price down that no man may have any excuse for going without one. G. D. CLARK, 115 William street.

"Go it while you're young, for when you get old you can't."—If you do go it boys, go first to T. Smith's, Jr., 102 Fulton street, and secure a suit of good comfortable water clothing, it will only cost a capital sleigh ride. You will be sure then not to go astray, and there will be no difficulty in getting the girls to go with you.

To Gentlemen of Taste and Fashion.—Clumsy, ill-fitting shirts are dear at any price. None such have ever left, or will ever be permitted to leave, Green's Establishment, No. 1 Astor House. His system of fitting is infallible, the style of his shirts matchless. One purchase at Green's and you become a permanent customer.

It is really wonderful how those Men, at Odd Fellow's Hall, can sell Clothing at such low prices.—We called in there to look at one of them fine Dollar Suits, and we assure our readers we were astonished. Clean Cass, Cassimere Pants, and fancy Vest, fit for a prince. Overcoats, beautifully trimmed, and the finest style, from $5 to $10. Give them a call, corner of Grand and Centre streets.

Fire—Removal.—Watkins, Bootmaker, informs his friends that he has removed to 110 Fulton street, second story, front room, (next door to his old stand,) Business continued as usual.

M. Morales, 113 Nassau street, invites his friends and the public generally, to visit his store and examine for themselves his new and superior brands of Segars. The Flores, La India, La Leonardita, La Cuvida, La Free Coronas, etc., cannot be equalled in this city. Importing all his own stock immediately from Havana, he can safely warrant his segars as genuine. M. MORALES, 113 Nassau street.

Herring's Safes.—We stated in our last that one of Alex. S. C. Herring's Safes (Wilder's patent) which was exhibited in the World's Fair, in London, had received a prize medal, as high an award as was made to any one of the multitude of first class exhibitors from various countries—some of them far larger, and more elaborate and costly in their exhibits than the Safe under Wilder. While himself in London, A. C. Herring deposited $1,000 in gold in his Safe, in the Exhibition, hung up the key to the United States office, a few feet distant, and posted on the Safe a notice whoever would open it, either with or without the key, was welcome to the money. It was tried, but not opened, and remained closed while Mr H. took a tour of a few weeks on the continent. On his return, he opened the Safe and took out his money, so give the Yankee a chance to inspect the Exhibitor. He was desirous to test the relative and unique qualities of his Safes, by subjecting them to prejudiced and interested hands, but found no opportunity for doing so. On this side of the Atlantic, from Quebec to San Francisco, the excellence of Herring's Safe was already a well known fact, and to trial was needed to establish its credit and popularity. It has become improved out of the ruins of too many extensive conflagrations (that of the Tribune establishment, among others), for them. Its manufacture and sale are already most extensive, and are destined to a still further increase.

Curling Hair and Whiskers skilfully, beautifully, and in every case entirely conforming to the shape and size of the head, as well as the entire appearance of the wearer, at Hiles, the Inimitable, corner of Pine and Nassau streets.

Gouraud's Liquid Hair Dye is without exception or reservation the very best ever invented; equally preferred to Gouraud's Medicated Soap for curling ringlets, curling moustaches, whiskers, etc. Sold by Fouere, Proprietor, 1 Astor House. Depot, corner of Broadway and Liberty street, New York; Callender, 88 S. Third st., Philadelphia.

Ladies and Gentlemen can have their Hair colored any shade in twenty minutes, by using Ballard's Genuine Hair Dye, warranted and demonstrated at No. 215 Broadway. The hair also positively prevented from falling off, in less than forty eight hours, by using Ballard's Oriental Hair Fastener. Depot, corner of Broadway and Maiden lane street.

Hair Dye.—Batchelor's celebrated Liquid Hair Dye is the best yet discovered for coloring the hair or whiskers, the moment it is applied. The wonderful ease and dreamy wish with which this favorite and old-established Hair Dye performs is astonishing. It is for sale, or applied, at BATCHELOR'S Wig factory, No. 1 Wall street. Copy the address.

Wigs and Toupees.—Batchelor's New style of Wigs are pronounced the most perfect imitation of nature yet invented. Those wanting a very superior article, should call at BATCHELOR'S celebrated Wig Factory, No. 1 Wall st., where can be found the largest and best assortment in the city. Copy the address.

MONEY MARKET.

FRIDAY, Jan. 23—6 P. M.

There was an improvement, to-day, in quotations for several of the leading fancies. Reading Railroad was freely offered, and as freely taken, without any material change in prices Erie Railroad was not so active, notwithstanding which, prices have slightly advanced. Harlem does not move much either way We have not heard much about the traffic of the company since the opening to Albany, but have no doubt it has its full share of through travel. Delaware and Hudson Canal Company has been steadily advancing for some days, and sold to-day at a premium of one and three-quarters per cent. It has long been our impression that this stock was unwarrantably depressed, and we should not be surprised to see a handsome advance in the market value. There were no sales of Zinc Company—Sussex fell ½ per cent. The improvement in Reading Railroad is attributed to anticipated damage, upon the breaking up of the ice and melting of the snow, to the navigation companies connected with the coal transportation business. It is expected, or rather, it is reported by large holders of Reading Railroad stock, that the Schuylkill and Lehigh canals are sure to be demolished by freshets and floating ice, upon the opening of spring. The effect of such an event has already been realized, and should such event actually occur, the probability is that the market price of the stock would depreciate. Everything good or bad in Wall street, is anticipated. Speculators in Reading, for a rise, will not find this an exception.

The variations in quotations at the first board were as follows:—Delaware and Hudson advanced 1½ per cent; Reading Railroad ¼; Erie Railroad ¼; Erie bonds, 1871 ¼. At the second board, the market was not so active, but prices in several instances improved materially. Reading Railroad advanced ¼ per cent; Erie Railroad ¼; Morris Canal ½. It would not surprise us much if the speculators in Reading Railroad run up prices several per cent above those now current. It will, however, be all among themselves, and holders in this city will, without doubt, avail themselves of the opportunity to get rid of all the stock they have.

The receipts at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of this port, to-day, amounted to $100,292 36; payments, $26,172 41--balance, $2,196,001 38.

The Harlem Railroad Company have declared a semi-annual dividend of two per cent on the old stock.

The Greenwich Insurance Company have declared a dividend of eight per cent.

The Hartford Gas Company, four per cent. New England Live Stock Company, six per cent. Farmers and Mechanics' Bank, New Brunswick, N. J., four per cent. New Brunswick Savings Bank, five per cent.

The Superintendent of Banks has made a dividend of ninety one cents to the holders of the notes of the James Bank, and also a dividend of eighty-one cents to the holders of the New Rochelle Bank notes. But for the folly, to say the least, of the head of the Banking department ordering the sale of the bonds and mortgages belonging to these institutions, to be made at Albany, instead of in the city of New York, where the property would have brought its real value, the bill holders would not have lost on the issues of either of these banks. According to the law, the Superintendent of Banks has the power to sell the property of suspended banks in this city or in Albany, as he pleases; but it is presumed that he will exercise proper discrimination in the matter, and do the best for the interest of all parties. In this case he has totally disregarded all these interests, and it is the duty of the Legislature to make a searching investigation into this affair, and see where the blame belongs.

The following bill relative to banking is now before the Senate of this State:—

SEC. 1. Every banking association heretofore formed, or organizing under the act to authorize the business of banking, passed April 28, 1838, and the several acts amending the same shall be deemed a valid corporation, notwithstanding any error, insufficiency, or informality in the certificate provided for in the sixteenth section of the said act, or in the proof, recording, or acknowledgement thereof. And every such certificate heretofore recorded, as heretofore provided in the said section, may be used as evidence in all courts and places, for and against such associations; provided, however, such association was formed in good faith, and such error, insufficiency, or informality, was not wilful or malicious.

The Legislature of Pennsylvania has passed a bill authorizing the State Treasurer to negotiate a temporary loan of $300,000, to make up the deficiency in the amount required to pay the semi-annual interest on the public debt due on the first of February. This loan is made in anticipation of the collection of taxes. Notwithstanding the steady but gradual reduction of the State debt, the payment of interest has annually increased, as will be seen by the following statement :—

Amount paid in 1846	$1,984,623 77
Amount paid in 1847	2,002,240 41
Amount paid in 1848	2,005,740 79
	$5,992,604 17
Amount paid in 1849	2,007,616 99
Amount paid in 1850	2,094,714 51
Amount paid in 1851	2,020,360 87
Total	$6,082,692 57

This is accounted for by the fact that while the commissioners have been purchasing State stock for the sinking fund, money has been borrowed in anticipation of the revenue to meet the interest. By the absorption of those stocks, the debt of the State is virtually reduced and though the interest upon them is still chargeable to the commonwealth, it goes toward augmenting the fund by which the debt is to be liquidated, instead of being paid to private holders of the bonds.

The original amount of "Relief Notes" issued in Pennsylvania, was $2,228,265; amount of original issue redeemed, $2,162,818; amount of old issue in circulation, $57,417; amount re-issued and in circulation, $592,743

In Boston, arrangements are in progress for the surrender of the collateral bonds of the Vermont Central Railroad, due in the year 1864, amounting to about half a million of dollars These are now pledged by the Treasurer for about $300,000, borrowed on his individual promises. To secure the payment of this amount, property amply sufficient has been assigned to the directors, in trust. The Vermont and Canada Railroad, in order to effect the same object, has increased its capital $250,000, for which a new issue of shares will be made.

The road contemplated to be built by the Milwaukie and Mississippi Railroad Company reaches from Milwaukie, on Lake Michigan, to the mouth of the Wisconsin river, at its confluence with the Mississippi river, a distance of about two hundred miles, taking an almost direct course west—passing through the very heart of the State of Wisconsin; and, when completed, will be one of the great highways of the country. Madison, the capital of the State, is on a direct line midway between Lake Michigan and the Mississippi river. Already is there along the line of this road a population of near two hundred thousand inhabitants, as appears from the last census with their villages and their extended agricultural pursuits, whose passage and business will of necessity fall upon this road; saying nothing of the vast business accumulated and accumulating upon the Upper Mississippi, that will also become tributary, to a greater or less extent, to the business of this road.

The road was opened as far as Waukesha, twenty and a half miles, on the first of March last, and cost to that point about $240,000. Its earnings were as follows :—

March, net earnings over expenses		$719 23
April,	"	840 93
May,	"	1,333 34
June,	"	1,603 96
July,	"	2,226 76
August,	"	2,310 00
September,	"	2,240 00
October,	"	2,676 45
November.	"	2,451 03
Total		$16,361 60

—From which sum it will appear that a dividend equal to ten per cent is realized upon the cost of the road, from the running of the first twenty miles. The great merit of most of the Western roads is the cheapness of construction: and the directors of the Milwaukie and Mississippi Railroad Co. have appeared to manage the construction of their road with very sound economy. The estimated cost of the road from Milwaukie to Whitewater—the first division, a distance of 50½ miles—was $12,169 23 per mile, including depots and furniture; and so far as the experience has been made, the estimate has been found, in the main, to be accurate.

The company have just now added about seventeen miles more to their road—making in all, say thirty-seven miles. At this point it will command the transportation of wheat and corn, the great staples of the country, which it could not do when running only twenty miles; so that the nets of the road, it may be expected, will be proportionately enhanced. Further—it is understood that the road is under contract with very responsible parties, to be completed by November next to Rock River, an additional distance of thirty miles, at which point it will sweep the whole business of the valley of the Rock River, lying in Wisconsin, already so celebrated for its active and thrifty population, and its great natural productiveness.

Up to August of the year just closed, there was a slight falling off in receipts, since which the gain has been rapid.
