City Intelligence.

REVIVAL IN RELIGION.—The old Murray street church, of which the Rev. Dr. Mason was pastor, was moved to Eighth street, near the Opera House, about ten years ago. It was then occupied as a Presbyterian church, but was sold under foreclosure, and bought by some gentlemen on speculation. It has been rented out for the past five years, first to Dr Schroder, then to Dr. Hawks, and latterly to the Swedenborgians. It is now sold to Archbishop Hughes, and will be shortly consecrated as a Catholic church, to be named Saint Ann's; and Rev. Dr. Forbes, lately a Protestant Episcopalian clergyman, will be its pastor. This makes the twenty-second Catholic church in this city. Thirty years ago there were but two—the Cathedral in Prince street, and St. Peter's, in Barclay street. The latter, it will be recollected, has lately been rebuilt.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mrs. Ellen Coulan, a boarder in the house of Mrs. Linn, No. 71 Mulberry street, was found dead in her bed yesterday morning. The coroner will hold an inquest on the body this morning.

ATTEMPT TO MURDER.—Mr. Fagan, the Superintendant of the emigrant lodging house in Canal street, yesterday morning heard a great disturbance in one of the large rooms of the establishment, and on going to the spot, saw a large number of persons bent upon the destruction of one of their number, named William Wood, from Glasgow, Scotland, who was brandishing a large knife, dripping with blood, which he had just plunged into the person of a German, named John Jerrold, inflicting a horrible wound on the side of his head. After much difficulty Wood was secured and taken to the lower police court, where, on being asked why he stabbed the man, he replied that he knew him to be a murderer, and ought to die. Several other expressions made by him led to the belief that he was deranged, and Justice Bathrop committed him to prison to await an examination relative to the state of his mind.

ANOTHER METHOD OF RAISING THE WIND.—For some days past a new personage has made his appearance in the Sixteenth ward, as a letter carrier. He has delivered a number of letters, purporting to emanate from various boarding house keepers in Court street, Boston, stating in each instance, that certain individuals, (always the same name as the person to whom the letter is addressed,) are in arrears for board-money; that they say the individuals to whom the letters are addressed are near relatives, and have promised to send them money. Captain Stevenson, of the Sixteenth ward, has been shown several of the letters, which are all in the same hand writing, and are verbatim copies of each other, except a different name as the boarder. The counterfeit of the Boston Post Office stamp, on the envelope, is miserably executed and very easily detected. The Captain takes this method of cautioning our citizens against the imposter.

FIRE.—Thursday evening, about seven o'clock, a fire broke out in the dwelling house of No. 382 Fourth street; the flames were soon extinguished. Second Assistant, Capt. Stanford, with second platoon, and sergeants, were early on the ground, and succeeded in saving valuable property, in the shape of silver ware, and gold watches.

ACCIDENT.—On Thursday afternoon, R. Harvey, a driver of the Bowery and First avenue stage, No. 8, was thrown from the box, when the stage passed over his arm. A brother of Harvey saved himself by jumping and catching hold of a tree opposite 59 Broadway. The injured man was taken to the store of Frothingham, where he received medical attendance by Dr. De Forrest, of 61 Broadway, after which he was taken home by his friends.

ACCIDENT.—Catharine Cerrigan was found, on Thursday afternoon about two o'clock, by officers Doland and Arson, in Twenty-second street, near the East river. She was badly bruised and cut in the face. The officers conveyed her to the Bellevue Hospital.

ALMOST ANOTHER SCHOOL PANIC.—On Thursday afternoon, a considerable alarm was created among the children of the public school situated in Amos street, between Greenwich and Washington streets, caused by the breaking out of a fire in the adjoining stable, which belonged to Mr. Crane. The teachers, however, by their firmness and presence of mind, succeeded in quieting and dispelling the fear of the children, and thus prevented any catastrophe that might otherwise have occurred.

ACCIDENT.—About half-past ten o'clock last evening, as Mr. P. H. Roe, purser's steward of the U. S. steamship Fulton, was crossing Broadway, near the corner of Liberty street, on his return to the ship at Brooklyn, and in endeavoring to escape being run over by one of the numerous stages passing at the time, he accidentally slipped on the ice, thereby causing a compound fracture of the left leg. Mr. Roe was immediately removed to the "Hope and Anchor" Hotel, Cedar street, where Mr. Pratt was promptly in attendance to administer to the sufferer the necessary remedies.

ON BOARD STEAMSHIP HUMBOLDT,
New York, Feb 5, 1852.

TO CAPT. LINES:—SIR: The passengers of the ship, on her present voyage from Havre and Cowes to New York, are unwilling to take leave of you, without expressing their appreciation of your worth, and of the qualities of your noble steamer. Those who take winter passages by sea are usually prepared for more or less of stormy and tempestuous weather. Those storms, even the worst, usually exhaust themselves in the course of two or three days. Unfortunately, however, it has not been so in our case. From the moment of our departure from Cowes, on the 14th, we were opposed by head winds and head seas, of a sufficiently disagreeable character; but from the 17th to the 26th ult., a period of nine days, we experienced a series of hurricanes, almost without intermission, and such, perhaps, as no steamer has encountered since steamers first began to cross the Atlantic. This certainly is the unanimous opinion of all on board competent to judge. During all this time your noble ship, guided and controlled by your intrepid and untiring intelligence and devotion, successfully struggled, and finally triumphed over the pitiless fury of the stormy ocean. Amongst other things the rudder, was much damaged and deranged, as to require, for three successive days and nights, uninterrupted labor to render it even partially useful. This is one of many proofs to show to what extent your firmness and skill, and your calm and inflexible self possession were taxed. At the same time, we cannot deny ourselves the pleasure of testifying that never were the efforts of an able commander more zealously and usefully seconded, than were yours by your intelligent officers, and your excellent crew. Meals and rest were hardly thought of, and for the last thirty-eight hours previous to our putting into Halifax on the 1st inst to repair—as many of us know who passed portions of the night on deck it is perfectly true—that captain, officers, and men all labored incessantly, without enjoying one moment of sleep or repose. We regard, sir, the safety of the ship and passengers in the terrible ordeal through which she has passed, as mainly attributable under Providence to your great nautical knowledge to your skill, and to your unflinching courage; and we beg you, sir, to accept our grateful acknowledgments, therefore, as well as for your invariable courteous and kind deportment to all passengers, and we sincerely wish you health and happiness in all time to come.

We remain very truly, sir,
[signed by the passengers]

Army Intelligence.

The San Antonio (Texas) Ledger, of the 15th January, says:—There is now arriving, and in Texas, eight companies of mounted riflemen, to be stationed in the valley of the Nueces. Six of said companies are to be stationed on the Rio Nueces, on the road from this to Laredo, and the remaining two at Fort Inge, on the Leona. This force, or a portion of them, will be on a continued scout in the valley of, and west of the Nueces, and no doubt will prove a sufficient protection to the frontier settlers in that portion of our State.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT—CHILD KILLED.—We learn from the Worcester Transcript that on Saturday, the 31st Jan., a bright, active little boy of six years of age, the son of Mr. Edward T. Matthews, who is in the employ of J. M. Stuart & Co., of Princeton, lost his life in a most shocking manner, being mysteriously caught by a loose belt which was hanging idle upon the shafting. The wheel was running with unusual speed, and the father, who was present, was compelled to leave his child and descend two flights of stairs to shut down the gate. His emotions on returning to the scene of the accident can be better imagined than described. His little boy was whirling upon the shaft before him at the rate of some five hundred revolutions per minute. One arm was broken, and dangled loosely from the body as it struck the surrounding objects in rapid succession, and both legs presented a sight too painful to be looked upon, being frightfully mangled and crushed in their contact with the floor overhead. The child lived about two hours.

NEW POST OFFICES.—The Postmaster General has established the following new post offices in this State:—North Pembroke, Genesee county; Levi Blackman, P. M.; New Centreville, Oswego county, Uri Salisbury, P. M.; Circleville, Orange county, David Bull, P. M.

New Journal of Fun and Temperance.

The following letters and documents will tell their own tale. Joseph A. Scoville, once a most shocking genius of intemperance and grog, has, some time since, reformed, and is now the very apostle of temperance, wit, genius, fun, philosophy, and common sense. He is a signal example of the power of cold water, in improving intellect and imagination. We once knew him a young merchant of high character, visiting the family of President King, of Columbia College; then a common drunkard in the gutters; then a foreign traveller of great observation; then a drunkard again, knocking about in Broadway; then the elegant and intelligent Secretary of the late John C. Calhoun; then a rollicking boy in the rum holes. He is now, and has been, permanently reformed for some time, and bids fair to establish one of the most popular, witty, and amusing weekly papers in the city. He has talent for it, and he is now sober and serious:—

24 ANN STREET, "PICK OFFICE."

DEAR SIR:—
Conner's bill is $451, and I have paid $100 down. I have seen Mr. Persse, and shall take paper only as I require it, and pay him cash, at $8 75, when my newsboys pay me.

I have a good foreman, of the name of Perry, and have all my type and fixtures, and have insured them for $500, at the Firemen's Company, of which my democratic friend, Niel Gray, is president. He looked at me with astonishment when I applied, as he never dreamed that I had 600 cents to insure.

I have bought a pickaxe for a dollar, and stuck it up for a sign over my door, No. 26 Ann street.

I enclose a prospectus. I have printed 2,000 of them. Those shabby fellows of the Picayune are giving me fits. There has been a ball got up in Brooklyn for "Mr. Pick," who has so long written to a delighted public," and these fellows take it to themselves.

I can't come out until the 16th, and I don't want to spend a cent of money. Will you do me one favor, and let the enclosed appear in the HERALD on Saturday morning, and I will pay for it when I am able. I have got a good many advertisements already. Your obliged friend.

J. A. SCOVILLE.

"THE PICK"—A CARD.

Mr. Joseph A. Scoville, formerly "Mr. Pick, the editor of the New York Picayune," and now "editor and proprietor of the New York Pick" would respectfully inform the public, and his large circle of old and valued correspondents, that he is at last enabled to furnish them with a weekly sheet, untrammelled by the bonds of jealousy, and unfettered by the obscuring influences of timid and cringing self-interest. He has always, while "Mr Pick," considered his editorial connection with the first mentioned paper as but a preliminary step to his present position, and now finds himself in a condition to lay down the old article, and produce a Pick of his own—bright as unsullied honor and sharp as a Toledo blade. He shall always take a pride in preserving these brilliant qualities undimmed by prejudice and ignorance. The point shall never be dulled by working on a barren soil, and though it may give a sharp blow now and then, it shall always be done in the best tempered manner, as the instrument will be handled in a refined and masterly style. Truth, fun, fancy, and appropriate satire will always find a welcome place in the columns of the Pick, which will be constructed of the choicest materials which American genius and originality can furnish.

The first number of the Pick will be issued from No. 24 Ann street on the 18th of February, at the price of 2 cents. All communications for the editor can be left at the publishing office.

Mr. Scoville would remind the public that he shall try to win their esteem as proprietor of the Pick, as he has already done their approbation, during a period of eleven months, as "Mr. Pick, the editor of the Picayune," and they have now an opportunity to choose for themselves (if there be any choice)—that is to say—they can take their Pick.

$50,000 of Property Saved—Phœnix Safe triumphant.—New York, 30th Jan., 1852.—Messrs. Pierce & Kimball, 322 Water street, Gentlemen:—It affords me much pleasure to inform you that, at the fire on the 27th inst., on the corner of Nassau and Liberty streets, the Phœnix Safe, purchased of you on the 18th of December, proved itself to be a Safe in reality. Although it was exposed for fifteen hours to the most intense heat that could be produced by the burning of any building, besides falling from the third story, it withstood, on opening it, to have preserved its entire contents from the slightest injury whatever from heat. The only perceptible change was in the leather bindings of the books, which were warped with the hot steam.

Respectfully yours, NICHOLAS K. OATLEY.

The Safe referred to in the above letter of N. K. Oatley, Esq., is now at our store, No. 122 Water street, where it can be examined, together with the books and papers it so effectually preserved from the disastrous fire.

PIERCE & VALENTINE.

"The New York Dutchman."—Buy the "Dutchman" of this week, by all means. In addition to several complete Romances, Tales, humorous Sketches, &c., Charley Schelhine commences the publication, in its columns, of a modern Romance of the Frontier, entitled "The Empress of the Isles, or the Lake Brave." Creases and crooked folds in a shirt bosom are as unsightly as wrinkles in the face of premature old age. For Shirts that fit smoothly and gracefully, and assimilate with the dress and bearing of a gentleman, send your orders to GREEN, No. 1 Astor House.

It is really Wonderful how those Men at Odd Fellows' Hall, can sell Clothing at such low prices. We called in there to look at one of them Five Dollar Coats, and we assure our readers we were astonished. Cloth Coats, Cassimere Pants, and fancy Vest, fit for a prince. Give them a call, corner of Grand and Centre streets.

Be Wise in Time.—If you would improve the opportunity to buy ready made Winter Clothing, at greatly reduced prices, T. Smith, Jr., 102 Fulton street, is determined to sell off his winter stock to those who first apply, at, or, if necessary, below cost. You that would be dressed well and cheap, delay no longer.

Another Splendid Lot of Wet Linens of most desirable qualities, and the most astonishing bargains, about half the usual prices, have been received at HIGGINS, COOK & LEADBEATER'S 347 Broadway, corner of Leonard street. They include Table Damasks, Towels, Sheetings, a very superb quality, Shirtings, Tumbler Towels, &c., &c.

Gentlemen's Hats, Spring Fashion.—Warnocks, 275 Broadway, Irving House, will introduce their spring style Hats on Saturday, the 14th February. The beauty and suitableness of this forthcoming pattern warrant us in anticipating for it universal acceptance.

Brooks, the Cordwainer.—The best of Boots, the finest of Gaiters, the neatest and most serviceable of Overshoes, the nicest of Slippers, the prettiest of Dress Shoes, and other articles commonly called understandings, may be had, at the lowest possible prices, at E. A. Brooks's, 190 Fulton street. Mr. Brooks makes foot gear for all sexes, and for persons in all ranks of life. His professional repertoire contains goods to suit every known taste. New Principle in Hair-Cutting!—Clean Hair Brushes by the Thousand! Fourteen of the best Artists in America! The most magnificent Hair dressing establishment in the World. Features till now unheard of! New systems—new styles—a new era in Hair-cutting! Fourteen Tresses unsurpassed in the world are always on the spot. Where are clean Hair Brushes for all, by the basket-full—the thousand? The Saloons is so splendid, it has the aspect of a regal residence. The attendance for Hair-cutting or the Bath is instant. Every gentleman feels himself in his element the moment he enters the doors. The style of Cutting and Dressing the Hair eclipses anything before dreamed of in New York. In fact, at Phelon's Crystal Palace, 197 Broadway, corner of Dey-street, are discovered more comforts than ever. Nowhere, and nowhere else, can ever were gathered, within the four walls of any temporial establishment upon the face of the earth. So say all who see it. Hair Dying.—Phelon's Magic Hair Dye, to color the hair or whiskers, the moment it is applied, without injury to the hair or skin. It can be washed immediately without disturbing the color, and has no bad odor. It is applied, or sold, at Phelon's Wig and Toupee manufactory.

Hair Dye.—Batchelor's celebrated Liquid Hair Dye is the best yet discovered for coloring the hair or whiskers, the moment it is applied. The wonderful ease and certainty with which this favorite and old established Hair Dye performs is astonishing. It is for sale, or applied, at BATCHELOR'S Wig Factory, No. 4 Wall street. Copy the address.

It requires no discased excitements, like those which have just passed off from the public mind, to sustain Mrs. Jervis' Cold Candy in the good opinion of the people. As steadily as the tides, as regular as the sun in its orbit, Mrs. Jervis' Cold Candy pursues its health-giving way. Day after day (this is no puff, but a fact) crowds eagerly seek its healing usefulness, in cases of Coughs, Colds Hoarseness, and all other pulmonary complaints. The great demand for this good article has existed for years. Can there be any greater proof in its favor? Sold by Mrs. W. Jervis, 366 Broadway, and by druggists generally.

Scarlet Fever.—Twenty-nine persons died last week of this disease, in this city, which might have been prevented by a few grains of cedron (simaba), the Mexican remedy, from the valley of Costa Rica, which is an infallible specific for all fevers. I merely announce this to mothers, as scarlet fever chiefly takes the young and innocent. If I put my name to this, it will be unheeded as an advertisement; and if I do not, it has no authority, so I shall do as I always have done, speak the truth, and leave you to do as you please about believing it. Be careful to obtain the real nut, as there is an imitation made of quinine.

TALBOT WATTS, M. D., 424 Greenwich street.

Gouraud's Liquid Hair Dye is without exception or reservation the very best ever invented; equally celebrated is Gouraud's Medicated Soap, for curing pimples, freckles, sallowness, chaps, chafes, roughness, &c. EXTRACT OF THE MINUTES OF THE MEETING OF the Board of Officers of the Eighth Regiment, of the First Division of N. Y. S. M., held at the Mercer House, on February 5, 1852:—

The Committee appointed at the meeting of January 2, 1852, made the following report, which was accepted, ordered on file, and ordered to be published in the daily papers:

Whereas, pursuant to arrangements made by the General and Field Officers of the First Division of N. Y. S. M., to hear an address by Governor Kossuth, the distinguished Hungarian leader, an order was issued to the several regiments constituting the First Division to be at Castle Garden between the hours of six and eight o'clock, P. M., on the 11th Dec. 1851, in full uniform, with side arms, and without overcoats; and, whereas, the Eighth Regiment of the First Division of N. Y. S. M. did appear at Castle Garden within the time specified, in full uniform, with side arms, and without overcoats, to the serious inconvenience of the members thereof, according to the general orders, and found the places assigned them by the Committee of Arrangements occupied by the Seventh Regiment of the First Division of N. Y. S. M., under the command of Colonel Duryea, one of the members of the Committee, and a number of their friends, in overcoats and fatigue dress; and, whereas, the said Seventh regiment, on being requested by the commandant of the Eighth Regiment to vacate the seats allotted to his command, refused so to do, thereby compelling the Eighth Regiment to seek such places in the Garden as they could find unoccupied, thereby breaking up and destroying the appearance of the Eighth Regiment, to the great inconvenience of the members thereof, therefore,

Resolved, That the occupancy of the seats assigned to the eighth Regiment, by the Committee on said occasion, was a gross violation of the well understood arrangements of the evening, displaying a want of courtesy and gentlemanly bearing that should mark the conduct of citizen and soldier.

Resolved, That in view of the above violation of military orders, unsoldierlike conduct, and ungentlemanly bearing, the Eighth Regiment, First Division, N. Y. S. M., feel it to be their duty, alike as soldiers and citizens, to express, in the most marked manner, their unqualified censure and disapprobation.

NEW YORK LAW ASSOCIATION.—WHEREAS, THE New York Law Association have been informed of the death of Baldwin Dix, one of its founders, and most active and influential members, therefore,

Resolved, That, by the untimely death of our lamented brother, this Association has sustained an irreparable loss, and its members have been deprived of one of their most valued and efficient associates, whose noble qualities and generous disposition endeared him to his numerous friends and fellow members, and whom all had looked upon as destined to attain an exalted and honorable position in the profession which he had lately chosen.

Resolved, That this Association deeply sympathize with his afflicted family under the mournful dispensation which has taken away from them one in whom were centred so many fond hopes and cherished anticipations.

Resolved, That, upon the adoption of these resolutions, this Association, without proceeding to its ordinary business, adjourn to the next regular day of meeting, and that its members wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be engrossed, and be presented to the family of our deceased brother, and that they be published in the New York Herald and Evening Post.
