"Eternal Sunshine settles on its Head," said Goldsmith of the mountain; but eternal sunshine is not necessary for ROOT. He takes perfect pictures, in rain, snow, or hail, at 363 Broadway.

Portable Dressing Cases.—These articles claim the attention of travellers, on account of their extreme compactness and utility, which renders them at once excellent companions to all whose business or pleasure takes them from home. SAUNDERS, No. 7 Astor House, formerly No. 387 Broadway.

Who Advise All in Quest of Cheap Clothing to immediately to HENRY REGAN'S, 136 Nassau street, corner of Beekman, and purchase garments well made, fully trimmed, and of superior quality, at prices hitherto unheard of. Overcoats, frock and dress coats, $2 50 to $8; pants and vests, from 75c. to $3 50. 136 Nassau street, corner of Beekman.

Winter Clothing.—A Full Suit for Seven dollars, comprising overcoat, pants and vest, and others at corresponding prices, can be obtained at C. E. FOLWELL'S 93 Fulton street, between William and Gold, the cheapest ready made clothing and tailoring establishment in the city of New York.

George P. Fox, Tailor and Cloth Importer, sole and sole manufacturer of the Oriental K'haban coats, the Webster K'haban, the clerical K'haban; proprietor of fancy coat, vest, and pantaloon maker, 333 Broadway, corner of Anthony street.

It may seem strange to the incredulous, but it is no more strange than true, that we can sell a whole coat for $6 50, overcoats, from $2 to $8; 800 pairs pants, from $1 to $6; 1,000 vests, from 75 cents to $4. The public will find us always willing to wait upon them with patience and politeness. DOLAN & THOMPSON, 109 Nassau street, near Ann.

Rich Satin Scarfs, Cravats, Neck Ties, and self-adjusting cravats.—A large assortment of these goods, with every variety of shirts, collars, gloves, and hosiery, are now offered, wholesale and retail, by IRA PEREGO & SON, No. 61 Nassau street.

It seems a Simple Thing to make a Shirt, but to make thousands of shirts in a year, without ever failing to secure a satisfactory fit, must be admitted to be something of an achievement. GREEN, No. 1 Astor House, has accomplished it. Success in fitting every style of form is, with him, a mathematical certainty.

In Spite of Storms and Mud, people will visit FREEMAN, the hatter, 90 Fulton street. They know full well that clouds and storms do not affect Freeman's prices; they always find his prices lower and his articles better than they can find at any other store. He is still selling those elegant hats for $3 50 and $3. Children's fancy hats and caps, and ladies' furs, at a proportionably low rate.

Prima Facie Evidence.—The Rich and elegant appearance of the moleskin hat sold by the People's hatters, is the result of most skilful workmanship, such as none but practical men are capable of. The people's hatters are practical mechanics. Their hats are evidence of the assertion. Prices $4 and $3. Hat Finishers' Union sales room, No. 11 Park row, opposite Astor House.

The Genuine Paris Slipper, in opposition to its imitation.—SMITH 79 Bleecker street, is the agent for the sale of Mlefer's celebrated Parisian Manufactured Slippers, and is now selling them at cheaper rates than the limitated article can be supplied for. Remember this, ladies, and make him a visit.

Cantrell's Alpine Gaiter Boots.—It is with the greatest difficulty that Cantrell can satisfy the demand for these comfortable and elegant boots, though his artisans are constantly employed in their manufacture. They are cheap, durable, neat and attractive in appearance, and justly popular. Cantrell's is at No. 336 Bowery.

Good and Handsome Boots.—Beauty and durability are two things seldom found combined, but in WATKINS' boots they are never separated. Persons of good taste, who want a fair equivalent for their money, should go to Watkins', 114 Fulton street.

A Thousand Crying Babies have just been received at TUTTLE'S Emporium, 345 Broadway, and are offered to the public wholesale and retail. Dealers supplied on reasonable terms. Tuttle was never better prepared for the holidays. There is no lack of anything the fancy can imagine. The rush for early choices has already commenced.

Holiday Presents.—J. Y. Savage, 92 Fulton street, has a large stock of fine gold and silver watches, gold chains, keys, &c. These small gold hunting lovers, for ladies, make a very pretty and useful present. The Richelieu gold pens, in gold and silver cases.

Splendid Holiday Presents.—Attention is particularly called to the establishment of Mrs. M. E. DUSENBERRY, No. 1,057 Broadway, near Thirty-second street, where can be found a splendid assortment of cake and confectionery, and also a fine variety of presents for the holidays, consisting of fancy French boxes, toys, &c. The Broadway and Forty ninth street stages pass the door every few minutes. The Sixth avenue cars, also, run close to the establishment, which is situated at the junction of Broadway and Sixth avenue. No pains will be spared to render it as attractive as possible to visitors.

Improve the Pleasant Days, and do not fail to call at ROGERS' Bazaar, in your selection of holiday presents, where you will find the largest and most splendid variety of toys and fancy goods ever offered in the city, and all so cheap as cannot fail to please those who favor him with a call.

Presents for the Boys.—Parents and others who wish to produce a lasting impression of pleasure on the little boys, on Christmas and New Years, are invited to inspect our assortment of clothing suitable for the youngsters. With a new suit of clothes, they will hail the coming holidays with more pleasure than if loaded down with trinkets, which in a day or two may be thrown aside.
ALFRED MUNROE & CO., 411 Broadway.

Bowery Drug Store, No. 158 Bowery, between Broome and Spring streets. The proprietor of this establishment has just received a large assortment of drugs, chemicals, soaps, perfumery and fancy articles from the first houses in Paris and London. It has been the object of the proprietor, regardless of expense or trouble, to furnish every article for the toilet, the dressing table, and the boudoir, that luxury could desire or taste and ingenuity could invent. It may be believed, beyond a doubt, that there is not to be found in any country, a more perfect choice and beautiful variety of perfumery, of all kinds, than this. Also, a very large assortment of Bohemian cut Cologne bottles. Remember the number, 158 Bowery.

Furs for the Ladies—Hats for the Gentlemen, and caps for the little ones.—For these articles, visit KNOX, No. 128 Fulton street; for his assortment, in extent, variety, excellence and cheapness, cannot be excelled by any half-dozen establishments in town, all combined. Remember this, and call on him at once.

Cleveland & Co., 320 Exchange Place, and 65 Beaver street, would inform dealers in woollen and worsted goods, shawls, &c., &c., that they are prepared to receive and let press all stocks of that description, so as to bring up the finish and colors to what they were when new. All the work is done on their own premises, and fully covered by insurance.

Curtain Materials, at Reduced Prices.—Lace curtains, from $4 to $20; muslin curtains, from $1 to $10; brocatelle, satin de laines, worsted, damask cornices, and all other trimmings, at prices thirty per cent less than usual at other stores. N. B.—Window shades of every description. KELTY & FERGUSON, 289½ Broadway.

Elegant French Wedding Cards and Emvelopes.—The subscriber would respectfully call the attention of parties requiring something truly elegant, to his beautiful style of silver bordered and plain French wedding cards, engraved in the latest mode. EVERDELL, No. 302 Broadway, corner Duane street. Established in 1840.

H. T. Lovet's Office, 111 Chambers street, for the sale of his celebrated "Wahpenn," for changing gray hair to its original color, and curing baldness, the indisputable city reference given of perfect cures of both diseases. None genuine but LOVET'S. Wholesale and retail at the above office.

Metropolitan Billiard Room, 594 Broadway, (next door to the Metropolitan Hotel,) is well worthy of a visit. It is the largest room in the United States, about one hundred feet deep, and containing sixteen first class tables. Brother Perkins, formerly of Odd Fellows' Hall, is the manager.

Kellinger reigning among the Stars.—His liniment cured Mr. Edwin Forrest of hoarseness and sore throat; Mr. Eddy, of the Bowery, of sore throat, hoarseness, and a great difficulty of his head; Mr. G. V. Brooke, the tragedian, of weakness of the throat—he says it is stronger than it has been for many years; Mr. L. B. Lent of a deep seated cold and inflammation of the lungs—he was so bad that it was thought he could not get well. They were all cured in less than ten days. Ask them. The remedy is very agreeable, and strengthens the patient by the hour.

Rheumatism.—Hyatt's Life Balsam is about as sure to cure the worse cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, scrofula, old ulcers, and the worst forms of diseases of the blood, as water is to quench thirst. 1,000 cases have been published in the Sun and other papers, some of twenty years standing, certificates of which can be seen at the principal depot, 246 Grand street. Seventy five cents per bottle—six for $4.

A Sure Remedy for Rheumatism, either inflammatory acute, or chronic, no difference how bad or how long standing.—Those who are afflicted with rheumatism, and have tried all other remedies and found no relief, are most respectfully invited to call at the central office of W. V. ALEXANDER & CO., No. 1 Barclay street, (Astor House,) and examine the evidence of vast numbers who have been cured by the use of that invaluable remedy, Mortimore's Rheumatic Compound and Blood Purifier. The evidence which they are prepared to give, and their references to persons of the highest respectability in this city, who have been cured, as well as vast numbers who are daily finding relief by the use of this medicine, should induce all to procure it without delay. This is a vegetable remedy for this one disease.

Read, Hope, and Live.—John Eaton, living at the corner of Main and Water streets, Brooklyn, of large frame and forty years of age, before visiting our office, applied to Drs. Mott and Parker, at Surgeon's Hall, Crosby street; the former gentleman telling him, after consultation, that his disease was pulmonary, and too far gone for any medicine to be of the least service. Hoping, as it were, against hope, for a more favorable result, he began taking Hastings's Naptha Syrup, and has at this writing used five bottles. From a state of complete emaciation and consumptive corresponding debility, he is now fast recovering; expresses himself as feeling quite a new man; gets his sleep quietly every night, and eats with appetite and without subsequent disturbance, every kind of light food. This case is well worthy of note, in proof of the special virtues of the remedy used, viz: Dr. Hastings's Compound Syrup of Naptha. C. V. Clickner & Co., No. 21 Barclay street, are the general agents for Dr. Hastings, in America. Orders should be addressed. Sold in Brooklyn by Mrs. Hayes, 175 Fulton street. Retail agency 423 Broadway, corner of Howard street, New York.

Jones' Coral Hair Restorative Reduced to half price.—This (the best article made) forces the hair to grow, stops it from its fall, cleans it and dresses the worst hair beautifully, making it soft, dark, silky and beautiful. Sold at the depot of JONES' Chemical Soap, (reduced to half price also,) 403 Broadway, New York; 175 Fulton street, Brooklyn; Zeiber, Philadelphia.

Mine was a very Severe Case of Rheumatism, (inflammatory.) I could not raise my hand or turn it over for several weeks. I took Watts' Nervous Antidote and was very soon cured. I have no pain, am strong, hearty, and in vigorous health. Moses Hawkins, 150 East Twenty-first street. $1 per bottle. Depot, 102 Nassau street.

Wigs and Toupees.—Batchelor's New Style of wigs are pronounced the most perfect imitation of nature yet invented. Those wanting a very superior article should call at BATCHELOR'S celebrated wig factory, No. 4 Wall street, where can be found the largest and best assortment in the city. Copy the address.

Would you have Luxuriant Glossy Tresses clustering around your brows, like vine tendrils round a parlor shaft. Purchase that celebrated and matchless preparation, known throughout the fashionable world as CRISTADORO'S hair preservative and beautifier. Manufactured and sold by Cristadoro, No. 6 Astor House.

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye has after all extinguish all the caustic burning fields of the day. It is now known for and while, that instead of scorching the hair it improves its texture, while the black or brown it imparts is nature's own. Manufactured, sold, and applied in private rooms, by CRISTADORO, No. 6 Astor House.

CIRCULAR TO AMERICAN PRODUCERS FROM THE ASSOCIATION FOR THE EXHIBITION OF THE INDUSTRY OF ALL NATIONS.

OFFICE, No. 53 BROADWAY, }
NEW YORK, 6th December, 1852. }

I address you, on behalf of the Association for the Exhibition of the industry of all Nations, to invite your co-operation in the general objects of the enterprise.

The building intended for the purposes of the Exhibition, constructed entirely of iron and glass, will be, it is believed, the largest and most beautiful edifice in the country. It covers, on the ground floor, two and a half acres, and, with the galleries, the whole space is four acres. The masonry is entirely completed. The main part of the iron work is contracted for, a large part of the castings are delivered on the ground, and the construction is going steadily on. We intend, as we have already stated to the public, that the Exhibition shall be opened on the 2d of May 1853.

You are thus offered an unequalled opportunity of exhibiting to the vast population of this country such of your productions as you send us, free of all charge of every kind whatever, from the time that they are delivered into our custody until withdrawn.

The Association has already announced that their objects are limited exclusively to exhibition. They have no interest whatever, direct or indirect, in the final disposition to be made of any article that may be displayed.

You are, no doubt, aware that we have received all the assistance from the public authorities that we have desired. The city has given us the lease of Reservoir square; the State has granted us a charter, and the federal authorities have engaged that the building shall be made a bonded warehouse, for the purpose of receiving foreign articles, without paying duty so long as they remain in it.

We have the strongest assurances of support from the representatives here of the principal foreign countries. The late lamented Mr. Webster, on the 12th October, issued a private circular from the Department of State to the representatives of this government at the courts of the principal European powers, requesting their assistance in the objects of the undertaking and we are receiving daily confirmation of the general interest that the subject is exciting among the manufacturers of Europe. A large number of articles of high value are already secured, and we have no doubt whatever that we shall have a very extensive representation of all the branches of foreign industry.

The measures which we have adopted will thus secure two great objects we have desired to attain, viz: the erection of a building which will be a great architectural ornament to our city, and the exhibition, in that building, of the products of the industry of the Old World still, we shall fall far short of our mark if we do not equally succeed in obtaining the fullest and most extensive co-operation of American industry; our exhibition would be extremely defective—it would be very inferior, both in interest and in utility, to what we mean to make it—if the great resources of the people of our own country were not fully displayed in it.

We believe it to be unnecessary to urge upon you the arguments on this subject which we are sure will present themselves to the mind of every intelligent American producer—your position in the world of American industry, your own interest and what is due to an enterprise devised and meant to be carried out with no narrow views, but on a large scale of public usefulness—all entitle us to entertain the fullest conviction that you will send us some of the choicest specimens of your skill, and that you will urge your friends to do the same.

In making this application, we desire to have it understood that we intend to call forth a complete representation of the entire resources of the country, as well of raw materials as of manufactured articles. We hope to see abundant specimens of the cereal products of the Northern and Western States, of the cotton and sugar of the South, as well as of all the other great agricultural staples of the country. Of similar importance are the mineral treasures of our continent. We are particularly desirous that our building should contain a complete collection of the various ores which the active industry of our people is daily bringing to light, of the metals produced from them, in their various stages of development, and also of all other metals. This would include as well coal, granite, and other similar substances, as those chemical products more especially used in the arts. The ores should be accompanied by the rocks in which they are found, and, if possible, by plans and sections of the measures in which they lie. It would also be of great interest to exhibit, either by models or descriptive drawings, the different processes employed in the reduction of the ores and the manufacture of the metals. You will readily see the importance and value of a collection of this kind, and if the specimens are forwarded to us, we shall take such measures for their classification and arrangement as will best subserve the objects of the exhibition, and, at the same time, add to the information and experience of our people.

We have, heretofore, announced that paintings in frames will be exhibited; and we are very desirous that the sculpture of the country will be fully represented. If our wishes, in these respects, are answered, our building will furnish a complete illustration of the natural resources, the art and the industry of our people, and the manifestation thus made will, we are convinced, surprise even those most conversant with the progress of the republic.

We enclose our General Circular, and also a form of Application for Space, to which we beg your attention. Copies of these or of this letter, it you desire them to send to your friends or correspondents, can be had at this office.

In order that we may know on what extent of co-operation we may depend, the favor of a reply on or before the 15th day of January is asked. Please address it to William Whitten, Esq., Secretary of the Association.

I have the honor to be, with great respect, your obedient servant, THEODORE SEDGWICK, President.

Crystal Palace Association.—Scientific American Office, New York, Dec. 10, 1852.—To the Editor of the Herald—The unedited for manifesto of Theodore Sedgwick, in to-day's paper, we cannot allow to pass unnoticed. Our circular, which Mr. S. takes the unauthorized liberty of publishing, with comments, over his own signature, seems to imply that the circular we issued, offering for sale stereotype plates of the Crystal Palace, was circulated under the official sanction of the Association. We deny even a thought of the Association at the time the circular was issued. On the contrary, it was circulated for our own benefit, in our usual business way, over our own signature, the object in view being partially to remunerate ourselves for the expense attendant upon drawing and engraving the original, which Mr Sedgwick concurred in pronouncing a much finer "cut" than the one issued under his direction. How little attention is paid to the old adage, "Mind your own business," and how often is associated capital brought to bear against the interests of private individuals. The idea that the Crystal Palace Association, with its ostensibly philanthropic object, and a capital of $200,000, should step so far out of the line of its professed duties, and array itself against the private interests of individuals who make no blustering pretensions, is truly amusing. No man with the smallest particle of common sense, could ever have thought for an instant that the circular which we issued, as published in yesterday's Herald, was intended to convey the impression that it emanated from the Crystal Palace Association, as intimated by Mr. Sedgwick. If there is any manliness in the course pursued by the President of the Association, we leave it for others to appreciate it; we perceive it not. BURN & CO.

Ledgers, Journals, Day Books, Bill Books, cash, invoice, and receipt books diaries, and daily memorandum books for 1853; letter, cap, and note paper, envelopes, copying, and notarial presses, manifold writers, &c., with a general assortment of stationery articles, at low prices. Contents—Foreign and Continental Policy of the United States; Passages in the Life of a Glutton; the Great Surplus in the Treasury; Cuba—Foreign Policy of the United States in 1853-54; The Master of the World; The Poet; The Japan Expedition and its Results; The Order of the Lone Star; To the Victors Belong the Spoils; A Stray Yankee in Texas; Book Notices. Terms three dollars per annum, payable in advance. The Review will be delivered, free of postage, to any part of the Union. A remittance of twenty cents will ensure a specimen number, post-paid. All communications to be addressed to THEODORE A. FOSTER, United States Review office, 251 Broadway, New York.

Handsome Jack Overboard.—The Sunday Courier, of to morrow, will contain twenty two columns of closely printed reading matter, consisting of the new romance, sketches, anecdotes, foreign crimes, local news, editorials, &c. Price three cents. Buy it.

The Sunday Despatch.—To-morrow's Paper, in addition to an unusual quantity of interesting matter, will contain the story of Evelsen Wilson. As there will be a brisk demand, those who want copies will have to get them early in the morning. Office, No. 25 Ann street. Sold by newsboys, cheap publication dealers, &c., price three cents a copy.

Hair Dye.—Batchelor's Celebrated Liquid Hair Dye is the best yet discovered for coloring the hair or whiskers the moment it is applied. The wonderful ease and certainty with which this favorite and old established hair dye performs is astonishing. It is for sale, or applied, at BATCHELOR'S wig factory, No. 4 Wall street.

ADVERTISEMENTS RENEWED EVERY DAY.
