At a meeting of the passengers on board the steamship John L. Stephens in the Bay of Panama, this 29th day of January, A. D. 1854, S. B. Marye, Esq., of Oregon Territory, being called to the chair, S. J. Lamb and J. W. Foard chosen as Vice Presidents, and M. McDelany Secretary, upon motion, the Chair appointed John McCracken, Esq., Capt. Louis Morrison, Colonel John A. Monroe, a committee to draft resolutions expressing the sense of the meeting; whereupon the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That we are unwilling to part from this noble ship, her commander and officers, without one acknowledgement of the many kindnesses received, and an expression of the satisfaction experienced by us during the voyage from San Francisco to this port.

Resolved, That in speed, comfort, and safety, the John L. Stephens has equalled if not exceeded our expectations.

Resolved, That having experienced a severe gale off the Gulf of Tehuantepec, during which the ship sustained herself nobly, we feel at liberty to pronounce her a first class sea boat.

Resolved, That the management of the ship, in every department, has been conducted in such a manner as to minister to our comfort and elicit our admiration.

Resolved, That in her commander, Captain Robert H. Pierson, we recognize the man combining all qualifications necessary to the popular and successful officer, namely, the skilful sailor, and the courteous, amiable gentleman; we can only return him our warm acknowledgments of his unceasing kindness, and the assurance it will not be forgotten; we part from him with regret, and wish him and his good ship God speed.

Resolved, That we are under many obligations to George D. Goddard, Purser; Dr Monaughton, surgeon; James Pollock, Chief Engineer; and other officers, for many kind favors; obliging, communicative, and polite, we cannot but feel they have in many ways added to our pleasure during the trip.

Resolved, That the table has at all times been supplied with the best food in abundance, and evincing a courtesy and a determination on the part of the company and her agents to advance, in every particular, the comfort of their passengers.

Resolved, That we most earnestly recommend the steamship John L. Stephens to the travelling public, friends and strangers, as in every respect answering the expectation of the most fastidious.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published in the San Francisco daily papers, Sacramento Union, and New York Herald. SIMEON B. MARYE, Pres't.
