AN UNCOMMON OCCURRENCE.—The pilotboat Boston, of this city, while passing eight miles off from Cape Henry, in six fathoms water, on the 12th inst. was completely broken up, and was compelled to remain thus bedded in the ice for some three days before she could be moved. This fact shows the late spell of cold weather to have been the most severe of any experienced in that latitude for the past forty years, as nothing of a similar nature has there transpired during that period.—Baltimore Patriot.
