interfered, and resolutely determined not to give her up, she would have been forcibly carried back. She told me she was more alarmed, during this struggle at the hotel (she being in a room up stairs, whilst the altercation was going on below), than at any previous period during her flight. At that time she gave up her white veil, black capo, and sun bonnet, in which she escaped, as they demanded them from her.

It is generally believed in that neighborhood that Miss Bunkley is indebted to the American movement for her rescue; for one year ago no force could have been found sufficient to protect her from the officers of the institution. The sympathies of the American people were then with the Catholic institutions, and they lacked the moral courage to resist Jesuitical priestcraft.

I could say much more of interest to the public, but have already made this article sufficiently long.

MARCH 9, 1855. AMERICANUS.

Congestion.—Sudden Deaths.—Death from congestion is becoming so prevalent, that as a conservator of the public health, I cannot remain silent. Brandreth's Pills will cure congestion of the lungs sooner and more certainly than any other medicine known. When you have chills, difficulty of breathing, oppression of the chest, accompanied with a pricking sensation upon one point, go to bed, having soaked your feet and legs in hot water, and take six or eight Brandreth's Pills. It would be well to drink freely of very hot boneset, catnip, balm or some other vegetable teas. This course, simple as it may appear, will, if followed, be the occasion of saving many valuable lives. Let the wise consider. Are these things so? The experience of three generations have been directed to the Brandreth Pills. They have the advantage of at least one hundred and fifty years of study, and that directed with a single view to the perfection of this celebrated medicine. Of course it is not perfect yet—nothing earthly is so—but for all the purposes for which a purgative is required, it has few it any equals. There are thousands who use this medicine, who have done so from periods varying from twenty to seventy years, and who give it great credit, who say it has restored them from sickness—often when every other means had failed—to perfect health and enjoyment. The fact is, that if we can but understand that our afflictions from bodily ills mainly proceed from impure blood, and that Brandreth's Pills purify the blood, then it is easy to understand how they are so successful in the cure of disease of opposite character, as costiveness and dysentery; stoppage of urine and diabetes. But we cannot take these pills and lose our blood; we cannot take these pills and be cured, if we follow the starving plan of treatment. To cure disease with the Brandreth Pills as the medicine, we require all the blood in our body—every drop of it. In all acute diseases let Brandreth Pills and mild diet be used, and the patient will soon be restored to good health. In chronic complaints, let the pills be used as often as convenient, by which means the vitality of the blood will be improved, and a crisis will be generally brought about; the disease being changed to acute, a few large doses of pills and a few days' confinement to the house, will change the chronically diseased individual to a sound man. This is no figure of the imagination; it can be proved by a thousand matter of fact men, who have experienced these effects. Remember, in all cases of disease, no matter whether it be a cold or a cough, whether it be asthma or consumption, whether it be rheumatism or pleurisy, whether it be typhus or fever and ague, or bilious fever; croup or whooping cough or measles; whether it be scarlet fever or small pox—let the pills known as Brandreth's Pills will surely do more than all the medicines of the drug store for your restoration to health; and what is more, will surely do you no injury. Use them so as to produce a brisk effect, and your sickness will be the affair of a day or two; while those who are too wise to follow this common sense advice, are often, unfortunately for themselves, sick for months. Sold at DR. BRANDRETH'S principal office, Brandreth Building—entrance No. 43 Canal street—at 25 cents per box, with full directions; also at the branch offices, No. 274 Bowery, and No. 241 Hudson street. The pills may also be had of D. D. Wright, No. 66 Lewis street, corner of Houston.

A Special Bulletin for the Sick.—Dr. Morse's Invigorating Cordial relieves with wonderful rapidity every disorder incident to the digestive apparatus; restore the appetite; renew the strength, harden the muscles, brace the nerves, gives elasticity to the spirits, recruits the mental energies, banish despondency, impart to the attenuated frame a more robust appearance, allay irritation, calm the disturbed imagination, build up the shattered constitution, and may be taken without fear by the feeblest maiden, wife or mother, as it is composed solely of the juices of rare oriental herbs, potent only to invigorate, exhilirate and restore. If the system has become relaxed, the cordial will infuse a more vigorous vitality into every organ. The lassitude resulting from late hours, or too close application to labor of any kind, is quickly removed by its action, and ladies engaged in sedentary occupations, and subject to inconvenience therefrom, will find it a safe and healthy stimulant. Where the circulation of the blood is sluggish, or any of the functions of the body are suspended or imperfectly performed, it will restore the natural action and communicate permanent energy to the secretive and distributive organs. Those who are bowed down by physical debility, and so feeble as to despair of ever recovering the vigor and vim of manhood, are invited to give this wonderful invigorant a trial. It embodies the elements of their restoration. Before they have consumed the first bottle, they will be conscious that the reconperative principle is at work in every debilitated portion of their frames, and hope, soon to be realized in their thorough recovery, will spring up in their hearts. The cordial is put up, highly concentrated, in pint bottles. Price $5 per bottle, two for $8, six for $12.

POLITICAL AND ECCLESIASTICAL JESUITISM UNMASKED.

Fourth edition now ready.

STANHOPE BURLEIGH,

The Jesuits in our Homes.

The startling revelations unfolded in this powerfully written American work, still excites unbounded interest in every State in the Union. Every hour brings to the publishers large orders for this masterly expose, which is the surest test of the interest of the public in the subject upon which it treats. Everywhere the press is teeming with comments of praise or censure, but all admit the book will have an unexampled sale. In this extraordinary fiction the mask is stripped from political and ecclesiastical Jesuits, and the gloss set up even for them to behold the stature of their own deformity. A rare knowledge of human nature is displayed in the work—each scene of the romance being accompanied by a political moral, of no mean significance to every true American mind.

We join with the G. P. in hoping the K. N.'s will buy largely of this remarkable work.—New York Tribune.

This powerful production has the endorsement of Sam.—New York Times.

It is the best American novel ever written.—Granite Farmer and Visitor.

A fiction of greater interest than even Uncle Tom; it will magnetize the nation.—Pittsburg Evening Chronicle.

It is ably and powerfully written. It will have a prodigious sale.—Hartford Courant.

The book is one of deep interest, and must meet with an extended sale.—Albany Evening Transcript.

It is a thrilling romance, though it is not a creature of imagination.—Fredericksburg (Va.) Herald.

It is in truth not only deeply interesting as a novel, but in the highest degree valuable as an exposition of facts which every American citizen ought to be familiar with.—New London Chronicle.
