CASSARD'S GLAZED HAMS.—THESE HAMS, PREPAred by the undersigned, have obtained considerable celebrity in the West Coast, and particularly in the California markets. Their points of superiority are: First, the glazed covering, hermetically seals each ham, preventing evaporation and loss of weight, and also injury from damp and other external causes. Second, the glazed covering is ornamental and weighs but little more than the ordinary muslin covering usually put on shipping hams. Third, the glazing contains no rosin, turpentine, or other noxious, or objectionable ingredients, thus securing the genuine flavor of the ham unimpaired after the longest voyage. Orders promptly executed by GEO. CASSARD, No. 44 South street, Baltimore, Md.
