The Howard Athenæum has been leased by Messrs. Buckland and H. Farran, who will open it next week. A new spectacle, called "Valentine and Orson," has been produced at the Museum. It is by Mr. William Cowell, and the Gazette says it is the best piece of the kind ever done here. Miss Adelaide Phillips commences an engagement at the Boston on the 3d of December, when some English operas will be produced. The Italian Opera troupe, from the Academy, New York, will probably appear here in January.

TROY.—Mrs. Duffield commences an engagement at the Adelphi to-night. Mr. and Miss Charles had a benefit at the Museum on Saturday.

WASHINGTON.—Mr. J. W. Wallack, Jr., and Mrs. M. Jones played at the National on Monday last. The Union praises Mrs. Jones's performance of Lady Macbeth. On Thursday "Werner" was played.

CHICAGO.—Miss Maggie Mitchell is playing at Chicago. The Journal says that at the sessions of the Court of Marion county, sitting at Indianapolis, Indiana, on Monday week, a divorce was granted, divorcing Susan Woodward from Fletcher Woodward. The plaintiff is better known as Miss Susan Denin.

BALTIMORE.—The Pyne and Harrison troupe are playing at the Holliday street theatre, to crowded houses. All the seats have been taken to the end of their engagement.

TORONTO, C. W.—Mr. W. Davidge commences an engagement here to-night.

RICHMOND, VA.—Mr. Neafie is playing at the theatre here.

CINCINNATI.—Mr. Wood's new theatre, the Lyceum, will be opened about the 1st of December, with Eliza Logan as the first star.

NEW ORLEANS.—Mrs. Farren is playing at the Saint Charles. The "Old Original Campbell Minstrels" are at Armory Hall. Mr. W. F. Johnson, who is engaged at the Gaiety theatre, and M. Fiot, the stage manager of the Orleans theatre, have arrived.

FOREIGN.—Jullien has opened Covent Garden with his concerts. Madame Gassier is the prima donna. The audience was rowdy, as usual. The Herald says:—

There was no outbreak until the termination of the first part, when the clamor for 'God save the Queen' and 'Rule Britannia' sowed the seeds of a wild and unseemly disturbance, which every now and then demonstrated itself very offensively during the remainder of the evening. The grandest row of all took place at the end of the programme, and originated in the obstinacy of a couple of persons in one of the upper boxes, neither of whom thought proper to stand up in loyal recognition of the national anthem. The mob, at this silly and pig-headed discountenance of the example of the entire house, grew at length so infuriated as to threaten serious consequences, which were only averted by the arrival of a policeman, who removed the offenders, and much against their will, and we may add their dessert, got them out of harm's way.

Hudson is playing at the Adelphi; and a new farce (for C. Matthews) called "Twenty Minutes with a Tiger," has been done at Drury Lane. Jenny Lind is coming to London to concertise in aid of the Nightingale Fund. George Vandenhoff and his sister are starring in the provinces. Mario has appeared at the Opera Paris, as Almaviva, in the "Barber." The body of Villars, the actor of the gymnase, has been found in the Seine.

The successful work of Halevy, "Jaguarita," has, at last, ceded the boards of the Theatre Lyrique to an opera by M. Gevaert, a young Belgian composer, entitled "Les Lavandieres de Santarem." The libretto, which is by MM. Dennery and Grange, is of a class common enough on the French lyrical stage, turning on the schemes of a libertine king to seduce a beautiful laundress, and resulting in the triumph of a virtuous love of humble condition. Among the theatrical celebrities of the last century was La Raisin, an actress beloved by the "Grand Dauphin," son of Louis XIV. The stately monarch did not object to his son's liaison, but insisted on the retirement of the artist from the theatre. On this lady a comedy, entitled "La Raisin," has been written by M. Roger de Beauvoir, who has made his heroine appear on the stage in spite of every attempt to prevent her. This work was produced on Saturday, the 27th October, at the Odeon. MM. Anicet Bourgeois and Dennery have lately laid their wits together, and the result of their joint labors is a piece, produced at the Gaite, with the title, "Le Médecin des Enfans," which, to an English audience, would be perfectly revolting. The heroine, Louise, has two (!) fathers—one legal, owing to the fact that he was her late mother's husband; the other natural, having lived illicitly with her mother during the husband's absence. When the legal father would sacrifice the young lady to a wealthy match, against the wishes of her heart, the natural one asserts his position, and so warmly exerts himself in favor of the object of her affections, that Louise undergoes the horror of seeing her two parents engaged in a duel with each other. Under these distressing circumstances she faints, and when she wakes finds the two combatants tenderly watching over her. The legal father is so much softened, that he would magnanimously yield her to his rival; but the latter, with equal magnanimity, declares that she belongs to neither claimant, and joins her hand with that of her lover. Bouffé is still "starring" at the Vaudeville, where "Michel Perrin" has been revived on purpose for him. A trifling piece, which it is needless to analyse, written by M. Najac, and called "Une Croix a la Cheminée," has been produced at the same theatre.

A NEW LIQUOR LAW IN MAINE.—The Portland Advertiser says that Samuel Wells has nearly completed a draft of a new liquor law—understood to contain all the principles of the old license laws. The law of 1840 provides that the selectmen, treasurer and clerk of every town, and the mayor and aldermen, treasurer and clerk of every city, "may license as many persons, of good moral character, as they may deem necessary," "to be retailers of wine, brandy, rum or other strong liquors" in said town or city; and "every person so licensed shall pay to the treasurer for the use of the board granting the license, one dollar." The principal restrictions of the act are, that liquors shall not be sold to Indians, or United States soldiers, or minors, and that no revelling or drunkenness shall be allowed on the premises—the penalty annexed being ten dollars, and a liability to a suit on the retailer's bond.

NEWSPAPERS.

A MOST BEAUTIFUL NUMBER IS THE ILLUSTRATED Times received this week per Canada. It contains twelve superior engravings of subjects of interest; one of them we wish to call special attention to—a full two page cut, representing "Make ready," on board the steamship Terrible going into action off the fortresses of Kinburn, 17th October. This illustration is one of the finest things published for some time. We have received several hundred copies extra, and will be able to supply the increased demand.
Also, fifty back sets from the commencement for those wishing to subscribe. $5 per year. Retail 10 cents.
C. McKEE, Manager,
Foreign News Office, No 89 Nassau street,
Sun Buildings.

CIRCULATION 155,000 COPIES EACH NUMBER.—THE Illustrated London News now circulates the above surprising number, being more than any newspaper in the world has reached. We have received five hundred extra copies this week in anticipation of the largely increased demand, consequent on the reduction we make in the retail price, to 18 cents. We shall therefore be able to supply the trade and transient purchase without disappointment. It is hoped that the public will bear in mind that to the foreign news office, No. 89 Nassau street, Sun Buildings, they are indebted for the reduction in the retail price of this highly popular journal to 18 cents, being a lower point than the liberality (?) of the houses heretofore controlling the matter would allow of their fixing at any period for some six or seven years past. The reduction on the part of this above establishment is a permanent one. There is no intention to raise the price at any future period. It is intended to sell the "News" as low as possible, not as high as the public will put up with. Subscription per year only $6—at same rate for six months—served in any part of the city of New York and Brooklyn, or punctually sent by mail. The trade price has also been reduced to so low a point as to afford dealers a good margin. Trade circulars with prices on application.
C. McKEE, Manager,
Foreign News Office, 89 Nassau st., New York.

FOREIGN PAPERS—A FURTHER REDUCTION.—WE shall sell at retail the following papers at the prices affixed hereafter, being a reduction of full twenty five per cent. We have also reduced the trade price very considerably:

Illustrated Times	10 cents.
Picture Times	10 cents.
News of the World	10 cents.
Weekly Times	10 cents.
Reyno ds' Paper	10 cents.
Lloyd's Paper	10 cents.
Bell's Life	18 cents.
Weekly Despatch	18 cents.

Subscriptions, five dollars per year to the ten cent papers, and nine dollars to the 18 cent papers.

THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS,
Published weekly in London, consists of two large sheets of thirty-two pages, and contains upwards of forty engravings every week, from authentic sketches.
The Illustrated London News is a newspaper in every respect, no newspaper in London contains more authentic or later news, and no other can boast of a circulation so extensive or so wide spread: it is a weekly guest at every civilized court in the world, and welcomed with pleasure in every family. The citizens of the United States have, also, endorsed it with their patronage in an eminent degree, and, as no subject of an improper tendency is permitted to soil its columns, either in the literary or advertising department, it may be predicted that its circulation will greatly increase in America, particularly amongst families.
The Illustrated London News possesses facilities for obtaining reliable information, to which few journals have access, and it may be safely asserted, that it is the most influential weekly publication in Europe. Every department is under the superintendence of gentlemen of acknowledged literary talent, the proprietors being determined to render the Illustrated London News as celebrated in the literary as it has already become in the artistic world.

W. H. WICKHAM,

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—MR. WM. M. THACKERAY will deliver his fourth and concluding lecture on the Four Georges of England, at the lecture room, Clinton Hall, this (Monday) evening, at 8 o'clock. Subject—George the Fourth. Tickets 75 cents, may be had at the library and at the down town offices, No. 2 Nassau street.

WE NOTICE IN A CIRCULAR, THAT A LECTURE will be given by Wm. H. Pratt, Esq., of Hailey, lower Canada, at the Tabernacle, Broadway, on Wednesday evening, 28th inst., removing the great prejudice so long existing between the two great divisions, namely, the Roman Catholic and the Protestant churches, which he intends for the benefit of the poor. We would ask our readers would that not bring the end of all things so long looked for and desired? Glory to God in the highest, peace on earth and good will to all men. Who would not hear?
