

MAKE WAY FOR THE MAN.

By Charles Eugene Banks.

Let us have peace; no craven's peace,
Nor sluggard's to gape and dream,
But the strenuous peace of the land's increase,
And the powerful beat of steam,
Let the cannon of Commerce roar over the fields,
And the bugles of brotherhood play—
For the arm of the Man, and the brain of the Man,
And the grit of the Man, make way.

Let us have peace; no timid peace
That doubtful clings to its place,
But the free, brave peace of the old-time Greece
And the faith of a patriot race,
Let the vision of Virtue enrapture the gaze,
And the bolts of integrity stay—
For the arm of the Man, and the brain of the Man,
And the nerve of the Man, make way.

Let us have peace; no anchored peace
That holds its sails in the slips,
But the peace that sweeps all the strange blue deeps
With the keels of its own great ships,
With honor commanding, and Truth at the helm,
And Beauty to welcome the spray—
For the nerve and muscle and brain and brain,
For the Soul of the Man, make way.

Thanksgiving in Canton.

In accordance with the proclamations of the president, Theodore Roosevelt, and Governor Samuel H. Elrod, Thursday November 29 is set apart as a day of thanksgiving.

The people of Canton have shared in full measure in the general prosperity and in relief from sickness and distress. Our life as a community is comparatively free from disorder and our social conditions healthful.

We should therefore eagerly embrace this day as an opportunity to signalize our appreciation of all these blessings.

In order that all may devote themselves unreservedly to the purposes of the day, I recommend that all places of business be closed at ten o'clock a. m. and remain closed the balance of the day.

Dated at Canton, S. D., this 27th day of November, 1906.
W. C. GEMMILL,
Mayor.

Richter's El Royal.

A visit to the cigar manufactory of Herman Richter in the Puckett block leads one to the conclusion that he is doing a splendid business, and he well deserves the patronage he is receiving. He has over $3,000 worth of fine tobacco on hand, and when one looks over those handsome clean bundles of pure leaf tobacco he knows, as we all know, that when he smokes an El Royal, he is smoking a better and a cleaner cigar than eastern houses make or sell for 10 cents.

The El Royal is just as good a cigar as any eastern 10 cent, and better than the average 2 for 25. The ten cent goods is for the stylish smoker because this class don't like to buy a five cent cigar—they smoke high priced goods because it looks aristocratic. There is not much profit in a good cigar that costs 5 cents, the profit is in 10 cent cigars that cost less than 5.

Mr. Richter has a great number of fancy boxes on hand which hold 25 cigars. These are for the holiday trade, and are suitable for presents. Smoking may be an evil but it is an evil the human race delights in and produces enormous revenue for good old Uncle Sam to help him build warships and support the army.

There is one thing we want to impress upon the memory of those who have the "habit," that in smoking Canton made cigars you are smoking a better cigar and a cleaner cigar than you will get out of any of the child labor rookeries or sweat shops of the big eastern cities.

William Bradshaw arrived from the Black Hills Tuesday evening, where he had been rusticiating for nearly a month. He established a hunting camp west of Custer where he climbed hills, shot and ate deer according to law, and had a big time all around. William says the Black Hills is a fine country for health and sport. He went out to Worthing at noon.

School Notes.

On account of some rooms having programs and the consequent rush of work, the reports in the grades will not be given out till Monday noon of next week.

The first and second rooms at the west side prepared a Thanksgiving program which was given Wednesday afternoon. Other rooms are working on Christmas programs.

Grade 6 will read Dickens' Christmas Carol as supplementary work between now and the end of the year, while grade 7 will read The Legend of Sleepy Hollow.

The Boy's Club has adopted blue and white as club colors and will get buttons enameled in the colors bearing the letters B. C. These will cost ten cents and will serve as constant reminders to the boys of the purposes of the club.

The final football game of the season will be played at the Fair grounds with Hawarden high school on Thanksgiving day at 3:30 p. m. On comparative scores this should be a very close game. The boys hope for a large crowd so that all expenses may be met and a surplus left in the treasury.

An exhibit of language and composition work from all the grades will be sent to the State Teachers Association at Sioux Falls. Some very creditable work is being done and it is believed the showing will be a good one.

The next meeting of the city teachers will be held with Mrs. Fattee on Monday night Dec. 3. The last one with Miss Flory was very interesting and much valuable discussion was aroused.

A recent report from the State University to the superintendent as to the progress of Vera Lewis now a Freshman there, says her work is very good and they would welcome more students of the same sort. Pres. Gault is now out visiting high schools and is expected here soon.

Eastern Star Election With Social Festivities.

At a regular meeting of Gate City Chapter order of Eastern Star held in the Masonic Hall Monday evening, the annual election of officers took place which resulted as follows: Worthy Matron, Mrs. D. H. Hawn; Worthy Patron, Dr. Veo O'Neil; Associate Matron, Marjorie Clark; Secretary, Lucretia Rudolph; Treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Ryan; Conductress, Nellie Brenner; Associate Conductress, Mrs. Charles L. Kundert.

Miss Mary Cooper, the accomplished Worthy Matron, who has presided over the Chapter so gracefully and with such marked ability for a year, was re-elected on the first ballot almost unanimously, declined the honor and requested the election of someone else.

Dr. Veo O'Neil, the Worthy Matron's chief of staff, proved to be an accomplished and resourceful presiding officer during the election of a matron and was re-elected by a unanimous vote.

The election of officers took up a good deal of time and the "Married Men's" refreshment club announced through Judge Gifford that everything was getting cold including the ice cream.

About 10 o'clock Worthy Matron Cooper's gavel called the "Modern Craftsmen" from labor to refreshment and then the fun began.

Out in the refreshment annex to the star chamber stood seven sturdy stars of the first magnitude awaiting the sound of the gavel. These Star followers were Judge Gifford, Henry Cooper, Dr. E. S. O'Neil, Charles Seely, L. E. Thilston, D. H. Hawn and Arthur Linn, and as soon as the "three knock door" was opened, in marched Judge Gifford and Henry Cooper with arms full of plates and napkins closely followed by others with delicious ham sandwiches, cups, cream, sugar and coffee. The married stars all wore white aprons and were otherwise decked out in gorgeous raiment in honor of the event.

The banqueters didn't know how many courses the married men were going to serve and feasted vigorously on the visible supply. It was perhaps wrong not to have had a printed menu card but the married men did not care so much about menu cards as they did about supply.

The first course was enough for an ordinary lunch, but when the white aproned hosts followed the delicious sandwiches and coffee with all kinds of cake and ice cream on plates filled holding a pint, then came the regret for too much ham and—but it could not be helped, the married men were elected to serve refreshments and they wanted to do it nicely and the ladies say they did. Dan Hawn handled the coffee pots and Charlie Seely was working hard over an ice cream freezer that stood four feet high, and Miss Mary Uline, the only lady assistant that the married men called upon for help, was cutting cake fast enough to supply a country picnic, while Dr. O'Neil and Lou Thilston were carrying around great plates filled with cake and Judge Gifford and Henry Cooper were gallantly keeping the ice cream supply moving fast.

When everybody was quietly trying to master the cake and cream problem of oversupply, in marched Dan Hawn with a full grown bushel basket heaped up with pop corn and this was followed with handsome red apples. Nobody had any capacity left for the freshly popped maize or Missouri unpeeled cider. The ladies carried no pockets and the gents were mostly in evening dress, and the apples and corn were grudgingly passed. Then came the final course in the shape of most delicious home made candy that ever melted between the roughest of ruby lips and the menu was complete.

The ice cream was the best ever served in Canton and everybody would have been satisfied with the cream and cake, but that is not the way the married men's committee do things especially when selected by the stars to serve refreshments.

A delightful musical program followed refreshments with Dwight Slade as the vocal star.

"The ladies gave the 'married men' a vote of thanks for the elegant entertainment, and as Judge Gifford remarked, "We did it so well, I fear they will elect us again."
