NEW SERIES FOR 1857.
THE HOME JOURNAL,
EDITED BY MORRIS & WILLIS.
The paper for the coming year is to be printed on new type, and its pre eminence of clearness and legibility, so valuable to the eye and so needful for a family paper, is to be still more marked.
The Editors will still continue to devote their time and abilities exclusively to the Home Journal.
N. P. Willis proposes in addition to his usual pictures of home life and rural family sympathies and interests, out doors and in, to give more of the LETTERS TO INVALIDS, which his experience has enabled him to write, and which have been so widely quoted, and, also, a series of
PORTRAITS OF LIVING CHARACTERS.
George P. Morris besides his usual constant labors upon the several departments of the paper, will make it the wool on which to broider first the new SKETCHES, SONGS, BALLADS, ETC., suggested by the history and event of the passing time.
T. B. Aldrich has in preparation a prose poem entitled
THE BOOK OF GLEN SOMERS;
and this will be published in numbers from week to week.
Genio C. Scott will contribute a series of valuable papers upon the SCIENCE OF THE BEAUTIFUL, chiefly confined to dress and the toilet ancient and modern, with, now and then, a free dash at ornamental art generally.
Frederic S. Cozzens the facetious author of the "Sparrowgrass Papers," will enable us to enliven the forthcoming volume with HUMOROUS DELINEATIONS
from his pen; and R. H. Stoddard, the popular poet and a astute critic, with occasional essays on LITERATURE AND ART.
By unceasing vigilance and industry, and by skill acquired in long and successful practice we hope still to keep the Home Journal undisputed as the best family newspaper in the world.
Terms—For one copy, $2; for three copies, $5—or one copy for three years, $5—always in advance. Address
MORRIS & WILLIS,
Editors and Proprietors, 107 Fulton st., New York.

SHIP BUILDING IN NEW YORK—IMPROVEMENTS, &c.—Mr. THOS. A. ERSKINE has launched from his yard, at the foot of Sixteenth street, East river, last week, a fine bark, called the "C. R. Tilton." She was built for Messrs. Wakeman Dimon & Co., and is intended for the Oregon and China trade, under the command of Capt. T. R. Briard, late of the brig Petrel, of this port. Her dimensions are as follows: Length, 138 feet; breadth, 31½ feet, and depth 13 feet—now loading, at pier 17 East river. We call attention to this vessel from the fact that Mr. Erskine, her builder, bids fair to become known as one of our most successful builders, particularly if the vessel in question shall succeed, in both sailing and large carrying, (of which we see no reason to doubt,) as did the schooner Nahum Stetson, in a most wonderful degree. We hope Mr. Erskine will soon be enabled to carry his ideas of build and model into execution on a larger scale, in which event we predict in advance that he will attain to as great, if not greater speed than we have yet witnessed. For a full description of the Nahum Stetson we call attention to the article from the United States Nautical Journal for November.
