He who a lottery ticket buys,
Has the same chance to win a prize
As to be struck by lightning;
But whoso buys a book, you see,
In Broadway, at two ninety three,
Will never regret, 'twixt you and me,
His purse's strings untightening.
He's sure to get some present rare,
Some trinket for his lady fair,
Which she for love of him will wear,
Her native beauty heightening.

THE GODDESS OF BROADWAY.
Decked with gold from crown to boddice,
See Fortuna, glorious goddess,
In her famous temple stand.
See the gems about her beaming,
See the sword and trumpet gleaming,
See gold chains, like sunlight streaming
From her ever open hand.
She has gifts for all who venture
Her enchanted hall to enter,
Full of volumes rich and rare.
When you buy, a bell's light tinkling
Brings your present in a twinkling,
Which in triumph off you bear.
Now, the shrine our goddess graces
Stewart's palace nearly faces;
And probably you'll see—
If you visit both as I did—
That the crowd's about divided;
So at least, it seemed to me.

DEMOCRATIC REPUBLICAN STANDING COMMITTEE of the county of Kings.—The following resolutions were adopted unanimously on Monday evening, Dec. 28, in the above committee, and ordered to be published in the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, New York Daily News and Herald:—
Resolved, That we have undiminished confidence in the wisdom, firmness, integrity and statesmanship of James Buchanan; and we believe that the principles enunciated in his recent message to Congress, if carried out, will be of lasting benefit to our whole people, and will promote the peace and happiness of every part of our extended Union.
Resolved, That with the President we believe that it is time that agitation on the subject of slavery in Kansas by our opponents outside of that Territory should cease, and that the attention of the people of this Union should be directed to other subjects of more vital importance to the interests of the Union and themselves; and we have full confidence that the people of that Territory will dispose of that subject in accordance with their own sentiments and wishes.
Resolved, That we believe that Kansas ought at the earliest period to be admitted into the Union as a State; and though democrats who stand prominently before the country, and are brilliant lights in the democratic party, may differ as to the mere form of such admission, yet we believe they never will allow the great principles of the Kansas act, or of the democratic party, to be lost sight of or obscured, for the benefit of the secret foes within the pale of our ranks, or the machinations of our open enemies without; but we entertain the belief that such great and good measures will be adopted; that peace and harmony will be restored to Kansas; that agitation and discord will cease to exist, and that the democracy of the entire Union will be cemented still closer and closer together.
