Payment required before service from parties at a distance, or who may be unknown.
The color of Lightning is a brilliant light chestnut, with white on his hind legs extending somewhat above the fetlocks, and a blazed face. It is perhaps unnecessary to say more in relation to his pedigree than that he traces through his sire, Black Bashaw (the sire of Lantern, &c.), and Young Bashaw, his grandsire, to Grand Bashaw, the Arabian—and through the dam of Young Bashaw, got by First Consul, to Messenger. The dam of Lightning, a stylish and rapid trotter, was got by Moonooth Eclipse, he by American Eclipse, a son of Duroc, and grandson of Messenger through Miller's Damsel. Her dam by Marshal Ney, out of a Tuckahoe mare. The dam of Black Bashaw was got by True American (son of True Whig) out of a mare got by Hickory.
Lightning may be found during the season at the Bashaw stables of S. McCracken, Morrisville, Bucks county, Pa., thirty miles north of Philadelphia, and opposite Trenton, N. J. Not withstanding the limitation as to mares, those from a distance will be cared and every attention paid them.
