Two Steamers Engaged [illegible], Captain Harrison, [illegible]

The mail steamship Philadelphia, [illegible] leans May 5, via arrived this morning. She left New [illegible] ning of the Havana, at which port she arrived on the mo[illegible] this day, and sailed on the afternoon of the same day [illegible] port.

The Philadelphia [illegible] nded and transferred 88 passengers at Havana, and brings 129 pas[illegible] ngers and a fair cargo for New York.

We are indebted to Purser Bosworth for late news.

The Empire City, Captain Griffin, arrived at Havana on the morning of the 8th; would sail on the afternoon of the same day for New Orleans.

There was little of interest occurring at H[illegible] avana. The stock of sugar on hand there and at Mata[illegible] zas was 325,000 boxes. Prices had slightly declined. [illegible] Freights had improved. Business was active. E[illegible] changes were active; prime London, 14¾ to 15¼ [illegible] premium; New York and Boston, 3¼ to 3¾; New Orl[illegible] premium; New York and [illegible] ans, 4 to 4¼.

Two steamers (propeller[illegible] s) were discovered at the east end of the island, abar[illegible] doned: from peculiar odors, cleanliness, &c., suppose[illegible] to have landed negroes instead of filibusters.

Our Havana Correspondence.

HAVANA, May 8, 1859.

Spanish Steamers on the Look out for Filibusters—Arbitrary Port Regulations—Injury to Commerce—Fires—Death of a New York Fireman—Scarcity of Eggs—Dry Cure—Ignorance of American Affairs—Official Junta—Rain—The Markets—Freights—Course of Mr. Embil, &c., &c.

The Spanish bark [illegible] eva Apole, Villaverde master, arrived here from Cas[illegible] nd inst., and reported having seen near this island two [illegible] American screw steamers, crowded with passengers, under sail. Instantly the report was raised that they [illegible] were filibusters, and the Spanish propeller frigate Petronil[illegible] sailed the same evening, with, as I hear, only fifteen da[illegible] provisions on board, for the purpose, as is believed, of [illegible] watching the movements of the said screw steamers.

The Spa[illegible] ish war steamer Colon has gone to Port au Prince, as [illegible] some say, to watch the course taken by the filibusters [illegible] there, whilst, again, I have been assured she has bee[illegible] ordered to offer them a free passage to New York. [illegible] this be the truth, it exhibits a degree of generosity and [illegible] obleness of sentiment that had scarcely been anticipated, whilst at the same time it must prove to the filibusters themselves that their efforts are looked upon by the Spanish authorities of the island with contempt and disdain. Such a course will do more to put an end to filibusterism than the one formerly pursued, of banishing, imprisoning, &c.

An order was issued in February last by the General of the Marine (Spanish Admiral) and the Captain of the Port that no persons except matriculados (sailors who have served in the Spanish navy) should be employed on board the lighters used in this harbor (vessels not being allowed to load at the wharf) for conveying the cargoes of vessels alongside. The object of this order doubtless was the keeping in this port, at the expense of commerce, a sufficient number of sailors to man the Spanish navy whenever they should be required. There were not, however, any matriculados here unemployed, and the order was modified, so that only one of that class of persons was required on board each lighter; but even this was not attainable, and the order was again altered, so that a white man being on board each lighter was sufficient. Last week, however, the original order was again declared to be in force, and in consequence, for two entire days there was a total cessation to the loading of all vessels in this harbor. After this the Captain of the Port graciously permitted the system of a white man being on board each lighter to suffice for two days only. Certain of our principal merchants, some time since, addressed a memorial to the General of Marine, pointing out the injury that would be sustained by commerce were this order to be continued in force, and praying that it might be repealed. To this memorial no answer has been vouchsafed, the reply being when an answer has been asked for, as I am told, that the "memorial" cannot be found in the office.

There have been several more fires on sugar estates near Sancti Espiritu and Trinidad de Cuba. The amount of damage sustained has not been made public here.

Mr. Merat attempted to make an aerial voyage on Sunday of last week from the Plaza de Toros. Unfortunately the balloon when ascending came in contact with the chimney of a bakery, and sustained so much injury that the aeronaut was compelled to descend.

Joseph Bengoli, a member of Fire Engine Company No. 3, of New York, died of consumption in this city on the evening of the 2d inst.

The Cabawba on her last trip from New Orleans brought 13,600 eggs to this market, and the price of eggs here has consequently been reduced full twenty-five per cent.

The rails of the city railroad have been laid as far as Chorrera.

The Diario de la Marina of this city has on more than one recent occasion exhibited its utter ignorance of the policy and affairs of the United States, and at the same time its malignity of disposition to wards us. Thus, a short time ago it predicted, as I wrote you at the time that the United States expedition to Paraguay would certainly be defeated, whilst on the 5th instant, in a prolix editorial, it asserts that the "American newspapers insist that the Belly canal is an utter impossibility, and that they are blinded by prejudice to the fact that the work will be as much benefited by the canal as any other nation; that they also seem to think it is only a cognisse for some European plan to obtain domination on the Isthmus; that the people of Nicaragua are justly tired of the domineering of the Transit Company and the depredations of Walker's piratical hordes; that President Martinez and Mora have united to obtain for their respective countries the honor of having all the nations of the world as tributaries, and in obtaining European aid in repelling filibusterism; but that the United States seem to think that their interests are so well established in Central America that they have complete power over the river Parana, and that Mexico is as good as annexed; but their reasons for all this are extremely futile. They think their interests in Central America are advancing because they imagine the inhabitants of Nicaragua are adverse to the French. They believe themselves masters of the Parana, because of the adjustment of the difficulties, which is attributed by them to their display of naval force, although in reality it was owing to the disinterested intervention of a third friendly Power, and had it been requisite the Paraguayans were in a position to have annihilated the entire United States squadron. Because the United States Minister has recognized one of the parties in Mexico, they conceive they have secured that nation, whilst in fact they have gained nothing but enemies." This characteristic article concludes by expressing admiration of the schemes of Monsieur Belly, and earnest hopes of its entire success.

This Diario de la Marina editor is a wise, unassuming, modest man. Is he not?

From Porto Rico we have news of a fire on the sugar estate of Don Valentin Fricoone, at which the loss was estimated at $25,000.

Don Jusino Campbell, a merchant of this city, has been honored with the cross of knighthood of the Order of Charles III.

There was a junta of the chief authorities of the island on the evening of the 5th inst. The subject of consultation must have been very serious, from the fact that the presence of the Right Rev. the Bishop of this diocese was required. It is believed to have had some connection with the threatened visit of the "filibusters."

We were favored with a rather heavy rain on the night of the 3d inst.; it extended as far as Matanzas, but nearly all the other parts of the island are suffering for want of rain.

I have observed during the past week in this city several American engineers returned from the estates, the crop being thus early all taken off.

Very little doing in the sugar market during the past week; except, indeed, purchases to fill up vessels chartered, nothing has been doing; for such purchases D. S. No. 12, 8¾ to 8½ reals per arroba has been the basis of ruling rates. The news from abroad being quite unfavorable offers now made are upon the basis of 8 reals per arroba for that number, but generally holders refuse that rate. The higher grades for the Spanish markets are no longer in active demand, and may now be had upon easier terms than last advised. The stock here and at Matanzas is estimated at about 328,000 boxes, against 255,000 boxes at this period last year. Muscovado sugars—The stock at Matanzas is about 6,800 hogsheads; rates have ruled there at 7¼ a 8½ reals per arroba for inferior refining to good grocery. At Cardenas the market has been very dull and rates were rather lower, common to fair refining having sold at 6½, 6⅞ and 7 reals per arroba. The stock there was heavy; above 8,500 hogsheads, independent of uncompleted cargoes in the bay.

Molasses is in good demand; sales both here and at near outports having been made at 3½ reals for clayed, and from 4 to 4½ reals for muscovado per keg of 5½ gallons.

Freights active. To British Channel, for orders, 32 5s. a £2 15s.; coastwise, $1 per box and $6 50 a $7 per hhd. sugar; $3 50 per hhd. molasses. Exchanges quite firm and with a tendency upwards. I quote sterling 14¾ a 15½ per cent premium; New York (60 day bills), 3 a 3½ per cent premium; New Orleans (short), 4 a 4½ per cent premium.

Don Juan Escauriza, who became the bondsman for the appearance here of Don Miguel de Embil, has, I learn, applied for twelve months time in which to fulfil the terms of his bond for producing the person of Don Miguel de Embil.

HAVANA, May 8, 1859.

The Filibusters Now Est—The "Convention" to be Shipped to New York.

My last notes left this by the screw steamer Indianola, via Charleston, on the 2d inst., and the proprietors of the vessel, with their usual courtesy, declined taking compensation for your packages, lists of papers, &c.

We have no more news of those people who were to land on the island. Reports of several sharp, low, long dark schooners have been circulated; also a steam propeller, with many men on board, said to have been seen last Friday week in the offing of San Juan de los Remedios, since which nothing has been heard of her. She is probably one of our own war steamers, searching the coast for pirates or slavers. It is not the first time such a mistake has been made by our guardian interlopers a-long shore, and so far that during the last political excitement shotted guns were given before the recognition of the vessel.

It is said that the orders of General Concha to the commander of the Spanish war steamer sent to Hayti to look after the welfare of the Cuban "Convention" were to deliver them a passage to New York, and to supply them with such necessaries as, in their military miscalculations, they have been lost, &c.—that is, to see that they do not suffer for the want of funds. This is in conformity with the liberal notions of General Concha, and further shows that there is no latent fear in his mind as to the result of future expeditions to Cuba.

Mr. Mills and his beautiful yacht Roslyn are still here—the one enjoying our "social," and the owner greeting our waters. They will leave this week for New Orleans via Mobile bay, Grand Pass and Lake Ponchartrain. Mr. Mills was treated with great courtesy by General Concha and permitted by his authority to go out and enter port at his pleasure with his sporting parties and friends—a favor never before accorded to any stranger in these waters—possibly never asked for.

We have a report that just as the steamer is leaving that two poor fellows have been found abandoned near Nuevitas, and that they will be [illegible] vessels landed and [illegible] war steamer Leon. These [illegible] Spanish [illegible] than [illegible] tors from Africa for the progeny [illegible] none of the chivalry of the army of the New York Cuban Convention. Health all right.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY, May 14—8 P. M.

The steamer Bremen left this port to-day for Europe, with $239,500 in specie on freight. Exchange closed steady at 110 a 110¼ for bankers' sterling and 5.10 a 5 8½ for francs. Money is without change.

The steamer Star of the West arrived to day from California with $1,480,000 in specie, besides California drafts for two to three hundred thousand more. The receipts from the mines continue to be good, and Fraser river is beginning to yield something. Messrs. Coleman & Co., of San Francisco, thus write respecting the money market and the mines:—

An improvement is to be noted in the receipts of gold dust from the country throughout the past fortnight, and within a few days back an arrival from the North has brought a large remittance from the Fraser river region, estimated at about $100,000. The miners in British Columbia are represented as being more successful this spring, and the assertion is confirmed by the tangible evidence alluded to. The weather in the interior of this State has within the past ten days grown materially warmer, benefiting the operations of mining, and producing more activity in all branches of trade. At the present moment the indications of a more than usually successful season among the gold diggers continue. The money market in this city has experienced some relief from the late more liberal receipts from the country; but the large stocks of merchandise held in first and second hands make the call for means still urgent. For the outgoing steamer there is an active demand for money, and the rates upon good loans are still maintained at 2 per cent per month; some negotiations are effected above this figure, but 2 per cent is the ruling rate.

The following is a statement of the operations of the United States Branch Mint in this city during the past fortnight:—

Gold bullion receipts (after melting) from April 1 to 15, inclusive, ounces 38,991 55

Coinage from March 28 to April 16, inclusive $1,026,000

The exports of treasure from San Francisco since the 1st of April have been as follows:—

April 5,	to New York, per Golden Age	$1,723,352 97
" 5,	to England, per Golden Age	347,244 60
" 5,	to Panama, per Golden Age	11,167 85
" 5,	to Hong Kong, per Fearless	38,485 00
" 15,	to Hong Kong, per Bangkok	28,284 00
	Total	$2,148,534 42
	Previously this year	10,176,469 00
	Total for the year	$12,324,993 42

The improvement noticed yesterday in the stock market continued this morning, and prices were higher. The basis of a settlement between the four railroads to the West having been arrived at last evening, there were some orders to day for Central and one or two Western stocks. A demand for stock has likewise been created among the brokers by the failure of Mr. Little. The sales of Central were unusually large, some 12,000 shares having changed hands before noon to-day. The stock opened at 72½, advanced to 73½ between the boards, sold in the afternoon at 73¼, and closed at 73 bid. There were no transactions in Erie, which was held above the views of buyers. All the Western stocks were higher, though freely offered on sellers' options by the bears. As usual lately, the principal contest is on Rock Island, in which the bears are willing to pay 1 and 1½ per cent for a ten or fifteen days' option. The stock opened to-day at about 61¼, advanced to 62, and closed at 61½ bid. While it was selling at 62 cash, the bears were selling to make contracts at 59½, seller thirty. Parties who desire to purchase, in view of the recovery of the Western country, may thus do so cheaply. Galena was likewise higher; it touched 64, closing at 63 bid. There was more activity in Southern guaranteed, which, after opening at about 32, sold up as high as 32¾, and closed at 32 bid. Michigan Central touched 43. State stocks and good bonds were all better. Pacific Mail was rather lower, the contemplated arrangement with Vanderbilt having fallen through for the present. Next week the company will declare their usual dividend; but whether it will be six or ten per cent no one knows. Panama is steady at 118. In the afternoon there was a reaction from the excitement of the morning, and the market closed at the following prices:—Tennessees, 91¼ a 91¾; Missouris, 84¾ a 84⅞; Virginias, 95½ a 96; Canton, 18¾ a 19; Cumberland, 17½ a 18; New York Central, 73 a 73¼; Erie, 8 a 8¼; Harlem 11 a 11¼; Hudson River, 31¼ a 32; Reading, 46¼ a 46½; Michigan Central, 42 a 42½; Michigan Southern, 97½ a 10; Michigan Southern preferred, 32 a 32¼; Panama, 118 a 118¼; Illinois Central, 55 a 56; Galena and Chicago, 63 a 63½; Cleveland and Toledo, 26½ a 26¾; Chicago and Rock Island, 61¼ a 61½; Illinois Central bonds, 80½ a 80¾; Pacific Mail Company, 82 a 82½.

The business at the Sub Treasury to day was as follows:—

Total receipts	$110,903 55
—For customs	90,000 00
Total payments	167,351 86
Total balance	6,620,420 30

The Treasury notes received for customs during the past week amounted to $14,012 18.

The exchanges at the Bank Clearing House to day were $23,752,035 17, and the balances $942,043 14.

The Manhattan Fire Insurance Company has declared a semi annual dividend of seven dollars and a half per share, payable on the 20th inst.

The following table will compare the exports of the seven principal staple articles for the week:—

Week ending May 12.	1853 Amount.	1853 Value.	1859 Amount.	1859 Value.
