City Intelligence.

THE CITY HALL CLOCK presented an unusual appearance last night. The long promised illuminated dials made their debut, much to the gratification of people whose business or pleasure led them to perambulate in the lower part of the city after dusk. The four dials are lighted each by six gas jets, and exhibit the minutes of time in the plainest manner. It is now two years since the memorable conflagration of the City Hall took place, ever since which time the people have been deprived of a peep of the town clock by night.

THE PROVIDENCE LIGHT INFANTRY.—The members and ex members of the Providence Light Infantry residing in this city will fire a gubernatorial salute on Friday as the Stonington boat, on which Gov. Sprague and the Providence Light Infantry are expected, en route to Cleveland, Ohio, passes the Battery, and a national salute for their gallant comrades as the boat reaches the wharf.

FIRE IN BROADWAY.—About ten o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in the flour and feed store of Valentine & Senior, corner of Broadway and Fiftieth street. The fire was soon extinguished. Loss about $100; insured for $1,000.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

In the HERALD of yesterday is a report of my arrest in the City Hall Park on Sunday morning. It is true I was compelled to walk to Essex Market. I asked the policeman to take me to the nearest court in session, but his orders were to go to the above place. Justice Steers did not ask me to give bail, neither did I give it. I am to have a hearing of this question next Thursday morning, at No. 64 Cedar street. Lest the article of yesterday should bias the jury, I ask in justice to myself to have the correction, as fair play is a jewel. E. FALCONER.

Police Intelligence.

CAPTURE OF A DARING BURGLAR.—Stewart Prime, a young man about eighteen years old, was brought before Justice Connolly, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, yesterday, on three separate charges of burglary. The prisoner, it appears, in common with several others, occupied the tenement house, No. 159 West Thirty-first street. On Sunday night, when the inmates were fast asleep, he visited the room of James W. Freeman, and, after collecting about $57 worth of property, silently left the premises. Luckily, policeman Irving, of the Twentieth precinct, was passing at the moment Prime made his exit, and suspecting, from the appearance of the prisoner, that something was wrong, he followed him, from place to place, until the latter arrived at No. 27 Beekman street. There Prime tried to sell a copy of the Life of Washington; but not being able to find a purchaser he left, and proceeded to No. 109 Nassau street, where the officer thought proper to arrest him. Upon searching the prisoner a number of pawn tickets were found in his possession for property which had previously been stolen from other tenants in the before mentioned house. The Life of Washington proved to have been stolen from Mr. Freeman, while the pawn tickets represented clothing and other property which had been stolen from Geo. W. Koch and S. W. Woodman. The prisoner, it appears, took advantage of his knowledge of the occupants of the house, and providing himself with a bunch of false keys, entered the rooms of his neighbors and robbed them at will. The magistrate committed the prisoner for trial on each complaint, and in default of bail he was locked up.

ARREST OF AN ALLEGED PRIZE FIGHTER.—On Sunday policeman Darke, of the Twelfth precinct, arrested a man named Michael Kiernan on charge of being engaged in a prize fight at the foot of Seventy-second street, North river. The ring had been formed and the principals had taken their places when the officer made his appearance and arrested the prisoner. Kiernan's antagonist was not arrested. On being brought before Justice Connolly he confessed his guilt, and was thereupon committed for trial.

Superior Court—Special Term.

Before Hon. Judge Pierrepont.

SEPT. 3.—Elizabeth Jordan vs. Frank Rivers.—The plaintiff sued for the possession of scenery, fixtures, &c., in a certain concert saloon in Broadway. She alleges that she was a partner of the defendant, and that she furnished the means to set up the saloon. The defendant moves to set aside the injunction, and denies that the plaintiff ever furnished any funds for the concern; he asserts that the plaintiff and himself had been living together, but that he was obliged to abandon her in consequence of her improper conduct. Motion to vacate the injunction granted.

LIBEL SUIT AGAINST THE TIMES.

SEPT. 3.—John J. Howard vs. Henry J. Raymond.—This was an action for damages for an alleged libel in charging the plaintiff with a fraud upon Mrs. Hull. The defendant denies any malice. The plaintiff moved for judgment on the ground of a frivolous answer. The Judge denied the plaintiff's motion.

Cricket.

A match at single wicket between the two well known cricketers, Charles Brett, the professional bowler of the St. George's Club, and Mr. James H. Sadler, of the Kings County Club, took place yesterday on the grounds of the Kings County Club. There were large numbers of celebrated cricketers present, and the betting on the two men was heavier than on anything of the kind which has been done in this quarter for a long time. The men were both well known as experienced players, but Brett was the favorite, in consequence of the large score he made recently at Montreal. His figures on this occasion reached 69, and not out.

Brett took the bat first, and partially in consequence of the bad state of the ground, he was bowled by Sadler on the thirteenth ball, coming out with a round O. Sadler now took the bat, and, after exhibiting very excellent play, scored 23, but was at last caught on the 1824 ball, Mr. Brett again took the bat, but missed his balls badly, and was bowled on the twentieth ball by a splendid baller on his "off stump," and thereby lost the game, amid the cheering of the crowd.

The following is the score:—

First innings—Brett b. Sadler	0
Second innings—do. do.	0
Wides	1
Total	1
Sadler c. and b. Brett	16
Wides	7
Total	23

The New Colors for the Seventh Regiment.

It will be remembered that on the occasion of the removal of the remains of ex-President Monroe from New York to Virginia, in 1858, the Seventh regiment, National Guard, Colonel Duryee, accompanied them as a guard of honor. On their return northward this gallant corps halted for a day in Washington, where they were reviewed by the President and greatly admired by all the citizens, who have ever since looked upon the Seventh as their beau ideal of citizen soldiery. That visit inspired a degree of military enthusiasm among the young men of the District which has resulted in the formation of several independent corps and an entire reorganization of the militia, which had been altogether disbanded.

Again, when Mills' equestrian statue of Washington was to be inaugurated, on the 22d of February last, the Seventh regiment promptly travelled two hundred and forty miles in response to an invitation from the Committee of Congress to participate in those interesting ceremonies. The weather was not propitious, the season of the year was the most unpleasant for such excursions, and many things conspired to try the patience and temper of both guests and hosts; yet the gentlemen soldiers who compose our crack regiment were too well bred and thoroughly disciplined to make any unseemly exhibitions of irritation or disappointment. All emulated the noble example of Colonel Lefferts in their endeavors to make the best of everything, and a determination to enjoy themselves, however circumstances might shape themselves. The impression made upon the minds of the citizens of Washington by the patriotism, gallantry and gentlemanly bearing of this regiment, both officers and men, as exhibited during these visits, can never be effaced. It is one which comprises everything that is noble and honorable in the citizen and the soldier.

So general and powerful was this sentiment that it found expression in an official form at the very next meeting of the City Councils. On the 27th of February, in the Board of Aldermen, Mr. W. H. Ward introduced the following preamble and resolutions:—

CITY ORDINANCES—JOINT RESOLUTION OF THANKS TO THE SEVENTH REGIMENT AND OTHER MILITARY COMPANIES.

Whereas, the officers and soldiers of the Seventh regiment of the city of New York, "The Baltimore City Guard," and "The Law Greys," of the city of Baltimore, "The Charles County Mounted Guard," of Maryland, "The Read Rifles," of Chestertown, Maryland," "The Alexandria Riflemen," of the city of Alexandria, and "The Potomac Light Infantry," and "The Georgetown College Cadets," of Georgetown, imbued with the spirit of patriotism, having promptly responded to the invitation of Congress to participate in the ceremonies of the inauguration of the equestrian statue of Washington in this city, on the 22d of February instant, have eminently entitled themselves to the thanks of the country, and particularly of the city which was honored by their presence.

Therefore, be it resolved by the Board of Aldermen and Board of Common Council of the city of Washington, that the Mayor be, and he is hereby, requested to communicate to said regiment and companies the thanks of the City of Washington, by sending to them a copy of the above preamble and this resolution.

Be it further resolved, That the Mayor be requested to procure a suitable stand of colors for presentation to the Seventh regiment of the city of New York, in the name of and on behalf of the city of Washington.

CHARLES ABERT,
President of Board of Common Council.
WM. T. DOVE,
President of Board of Aldermen.

Approved March 3, 1860.

JAMES G. BERRET, Mayor.

They were read three times, and passed unanimously, as follows:—

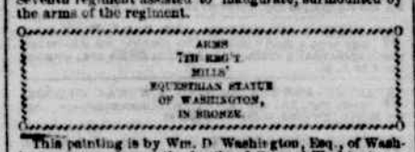
YEAS—Messrs. Brown, Bayly, Clarke, Donohe, Dunnington, Fisher, McNeihany, Moore, Pearson, Price, Ward, and the President—12.

NAYS—None.

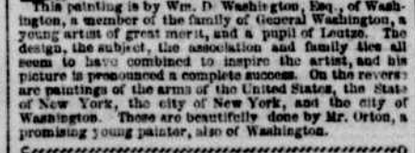
They were received by the Common Council the same evening, and passed that body with the same unanimity.

In compliance with the terms of the last resolution, the Mayor procured the stand of colors, which is to be formally presented to the regiment by a committee of the government and citizens of Washington to-morrow. The interest of the occasion will be heightened by the inauguration of the new armory of the regiment on the same day.

The stand of colors consists of a regimental banner and a national flag. The banner is a very chaste and beautiful silk banner, trimmed with gold fringe. On the front, which is of elegant blue silk, is an exquisite oil painting of Mills' equestrian statue of Washington, which the Seventh regiment assisted to inaugurate, surmounted by the arms of the regiment.



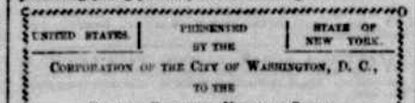
This painting is by Wm. D. Washington, Esq., of Washington, a member of the family of General Washington, a young artist of great merit, and a pupil of Leutze. The design, the subject, the association and family ties all seem to have combined to inspire the artist, and his picture is pronounced a complete success. On the reverse are paintings of the arms of the United States, the State of New York, the city of New York, and the city of Washington. These are beautifully done by Mr. Orton, a promising young painter, also of Washington.



The above inscription is in letters of gold upon a white silk ground. Surrounding and intertwining the whole is a golden wreath of oak and myrtle leaves. The latter is a splendid American design of red, white and blue silk, with gold stars, and inscribed with gold letters, "Seventh Regiment."

It is of the size prescribed by the army regulations. The workmanship in the manufacture of the flags is in perfect keeping with the design for superiority, beauty and elegance. They are mounted on staves of white ash from Mount Vernon, furnished by Critchett. They are surmounted with gilt eagles and plates appropriately inscribed, and trimmed with golden cord and tassels.

The case is of black walnut, about eight feet high, surmounted with a spread eagle, carved from walnut. It is lined with satinwood, and contains two upright rollers—one for each flag—hooks for the staves and belts, and sockets for the bearers. On the door is a silver plate, inscribed—



This is an elegant piece of furniture for the new armory. It was designed and furnished by Gen. J. M. Anderson, of Baltimore.

The Mayor having, solicited the aid and counsel of some of the leading citizens who felt interested in this matter, as to the design and execution of the work, thought proper to invite a select committee of them to join him in the formal presentation of the colors to the regiment.

The Committee of Presentation is constituted as follows:—Hon. Jas. G. Berret, Mayor; Wm. T. Dove, President of the Board of Aldermen; Aldermen Thos. J. Fisher and Wm. H. Ward; Grafton Powell, President of the Board of Councilmen; Thos. F. Morgan, C. F. Jones and Charles Wilson; Wm. Morgan, City Registrar; Major General Peter Force, District Militia; Robert Gold, United States District Attorney; Dr. J. B. Blake, Commissioner of Public Buildings; Joseph H. Bradley, Joseph D. Hoover, Wm. H. Gunnell, Wm. B. Todd, Marshall Brown (Brown's Hotel), John Savage (editor of the Star), James B. Smith, B. L. Jackson, Hamilton G. Fant (banker), James S. Holland, W. E. Spalding, C. W. Boteler, Jr., J. F. Halliday, J. F. Ennis, M. W. Galt, John F. Coyle (of Intelligencer), Richard W. Carter and Edward Hall, Esqs.

This selection represents all branches of the city government, and all the professional and mercantile classes. Mr. Gelt has been invited to make the address to the regiment on presenting the colors, and as he is a man of fine talents and has a fertile theme, we shall look for an admirable production. We understand that the committee have engaged quarters at the Metropolitan Hotel, and will leave Washington this afternoon and arrive in New York to-morrow morning.

Board of Aldermen.

After a brief recess this Board met last evening, President Peck in the chair.

STREET CLEANING CONTRACT.

After some routine business had been disposed of the contract of Patrick Lynch for cleaning the streets for five years was called up and read.

Alderman GENNET said that the contract was a gross swindle.

Aldermen DARRAH, CORNELL and TOOMEY having spoken,

Alderman BRADY said that he had been beset by contractors, who swore at him and threatened him with opposition at any future election if he refused to vote to confirm their contract.

The PRESIDENT declared the debate out of order, and the Clerk was directed to procure all papers connected with the matter, and present them to the Board at the next meeting.

BALANCE OF PUBLIC MONEY IN THE TREASURY.

A report of the Committee on Ferries, in favor of establishing a ferry from the foot of 130th street, North river, to some point opposite on the Jersey shore, was called up and laid over.

WASHINGTON VISITERS.

A report of the Councilmen in favor of extending the hospitalities of the city to the Mayor and Common Council of Washington, on their approaching visit, was read.

Alderman BRADY moved an amendment, that "Provided the same didn't cost nothing."

The report was concurred in.

The report of the Committee on Finance concurring to donate $3,000 to the Children's Aid Society was adopted.

Adjourned to Friday next.

Supreme Court—Special Term.

Before Hon. Judge Ingraham.

DISPUTED PATERNITY.

SEPT. 3.—In the Matter of Fanny Knigt.—This was an application for the custody of a female child, aged about five years. The mother, who is the petitioner, asserts that the child was the illegitimate offspring of herself and Louis Ephriam; that the father was incompetent and incapable of taking care of the child. The father contends that the child was born in wedlock. It appears that the parties, who are of the Hebrew persuasion, were married by a minister of that religion some years ago. The Judge ordered that testimony should be taken.

STREET CLEANING CONTRACT.

In the Matter of the People, at the relation of P. Lynch, vs. The Board of Aldermen.—This was an application for a peremptory mandamus on the part of the relators, who claim that they put in a bid to clean the streets for five years, for the sum of $229,500 per annum; that the bid was awarded to them, but that the Board of Aldermen had not taken any action in the matter. The Court granted a peremptory mandamus.
