SAILED.

Steamships City of Baltimore (Br), Liverpool; Bavaria, of and for Hamburg; St George (Br), Glasgow; Roanoke, Havana; ship Monarch of the Sea, Liverpool.

Wind at sunset NNW, very light.

Miscellaneous.

The steamship City of Baltimore, Captain Jeffrey, sailed from Queenstown yesterday for Queenstown and Liverpool.

The steamship Bavaria, Capt Meier, sailed yesterday for Southampton and Hamburg.

The Br steamship St George, Capt Wylie, sailed yesterday for Glasgow.

SHIP GOV MORTON, hence at San Francisco, experienced from Montevideo continual head winds and heavy weather to Cape Horn; passed the Cape Dec 26; carried away all the head rails, and nearly lost the head; saved it by lashing chains to it; took the SE trades in lat 3 S; crossed the Equator in the Pacific lon 14 W; after which had calms and light winds. Died at Montevideo Frank Davil, a native of the Western Islands. Dec 15, John Matthews, seaman, fell from maintopmast yard and was killed; was a native of England. March 13, off the Farallones, James McLane, aged 18 years, a native of New Orleans, fell overboard; lowered a boat, but could not save him.

SHIP FRANCE, Ellis, of and from New York for Bristol, put into Fayal on the 7th with loss of head of spreadspread all above, jibboom and sails.

BARK MARY ANNAH, of Portsmouth, NH, from New York for Bristol, put into Fayal 7th ult; on Feb 21, was knocked down on her beam ends, and had at one time a large quantity of water in her hold; is leaky, supposed to be in her upper works.

BR BARK VOLANT, at Baltimore 18th from Troon, in a heavy gale from NW off the Western Islands, lost jibboom, foretopmast, foretopgallantmast, and one anchor; had decks swept, and skylight, rail, &c, washed away.

BARK WAVERLY, of Kennebunk, recently reported lost in the Indian Ocean, was dabbled in a severe hurricane, which threw the vessel on her beam ends, leaving the men clinging to the wreck 74 hours without water, some of them without jackets or stockings, and all enduring great sufferings. The chief mate, Mr Stephen M Gnerber, and two seamen, perished. Capt Thompson took passage for Boston about Feb 23, in the bark Valetta.

BARK LEXINGTON—At Port Elizabeth, CGH, on the 24th or 25 January, in a smart NE gale, the bark Lexington, of New York, parted one of her chains, and the wind and sea increasing so that an anchor and cable could not be taken from the shore to the vessel during the two following days. The vessel and cargo were in considerable jeopardy.

BARK LADY SUFFOLK, Allen, before reported abandoned, sailed from Boston Feb 21, for Port au Prince. On the 24th she encountered the gale on the edge of the Gulf Stream and was totally dismasted, the bowsprit torn out, and she was reduced to a wreck, leaking badly. The crew succeeded in keeping her above water until they were taken off by a British vessel and carried to Barbados. The crew were brought home by the R B Sumner, of Newburyport. The L S registered 200 tons, was built at Jonesboro', in 1850, and sailed under British colors.

BARK DEBORAH PENNELL, before reported ashore opposite Lewes, Del, still remains in an unchanged position, perfectly tight, and cargo (wheat, corn and flour) undamaged. Two schooners are being loaded with her cargo, and the wreckers are sanguine of getting her off in a few days.

BR BRIG HELEN JANE, Brown, from New York for Havana, put into Baltimore 18th inst, leaky, having sprung a leak on 16th, in a heavy gale from SE, off Hatteras, and not being able to keep her free, bore away for that port.

BRIG VERGNEEN, of and for St John, NB, from New York, was ashore near Holmes Hole 19th. She remained tight.

SCHR C W CONNER, Urann, from Boston for St Jago, before reported abandoned at sea, waterlogged, sailed from Boston on the 1st ult, and soon after leaving port had many heavy squalls. On 6th, she was thrown on her beam ends; the sea washed over her fore and aft, carrying the deck of the boat, galley, spare spars, and everything movable. The bulwarks, stanchions and planksheer were swept away or split, and the wrecked material was thrown back upon the hull, and stove the deck in several places. Unable to get her before the wind, Captain Urann cut away the mainmast, when she partly righted, full of water. The gale still continued with unabated violence. The pumps were of no use, as they had been broken by the wrecked spars, and their gear swept away by the sea. In two hours from the time she was struck, she was a helpless wreck, and every place of shelter for her crew, six in number, was filled with water; the fresh water was lost, the bread destroyed, leaving the men without any food but raw potatoes and salt pork to eat. Waterlogged and exposed to the sea, which swept over her fore and aft, Capt Urann found it impossible to manage her in any way; she lay like a log in the water. In this condition she remained six days, when the British ship of-war Diadem, Captain Scott, came to her assistance and rescued all hands. The men had been wet through for six days, their clothes had been torn and partly washed away, so that when they were taken off the wreck, they were half naked, nearly exhausted, and covered with sores and sores caused by exposure to the salt water. Their wounds were skilfully dressed and new and warm clothing supplied them, and in a few days they were comparatively well. On the third day after their rescue, the frigate spoke the ship Annapolis, from Liverpool, transferred them to her, and they have since arrived at Baltimore.

SCHR FOREST KING, hence for Philadelphia, when going down the bay yesterday (without a pilot) went ashore on the West Bank; would probably come off the next high water.

A vessel was seen to burn on the evening of the 15th inst, at about 10 o'clock, far off shore to the south of the Island of Nantucket.

As the sloop Apollo, of Mystic, Capt Freeman, was passing off Faulkner's Island, on her homeward bound passage through the Sound, on the 30th ult, she was visited by a meteoric illuminator, which attached itself to every part of the rigging and sails, causing her to present the appearance of a vessel wrapped in a sheet of flame.

Bark Waltham, seized at Bath, has been released, the majority owners having given bonds for the amount of the one-fourth owned in Savannah.

Ship Judge Shaw, 689 tons, has been sold in Hong Kong for $30,000.

LAUNCHED—At Baltimore 16th inst, a beautiful bark, which has been completed for Messrs W H & J H Harbeck & Co, of New York. She is 670 tons burthen. She has been named the Morning Light, and will be commanded by Captain John W Cole.
