THE NEW CALL FOR TROOPS.

Arrival of Brigadier General Daniel E. Sickles in New York.

Among the recent arrivals in town is the gallant Brigadier General Sickles, of the Excelsior Brigade. He has come on to this city under instructions from General McClellan to raise recruits to fill up the ranks of those who have fallen in the recent contests, in which the Excelsior Brigade has earned for itself imperishable renown, and practically emblazoned upon its colors the motto "Excelsior." The brave and efficient manner in which General Sickles led his noble command during the late sanguinary encounters has caused all loyal lips to speak in the most enthusiastic terms of that soldier, and there is no doubt but that his mission to this city will be eminently successful. In the opinion of General McClellan it is far better to replace those who have fallen in the old regiments than to encourage enlistments in the new organizations now being pushed forward. Placing new men among experienced soldiers learns the former their military duties in much shorter time than if attached to regiments organizing under the recent call. There are now present in town two of the most popular generals of our army—Generals Sickles and Meagher. Both have come to town for the same purpose, and there will be a just and innocent rivalry between them as to which shall achieve the largest success in the recruiting line. Both brigades reflect equal credit on the Union arms, and the names of Meagher and Sickles will be treasured with esteem by the American people long after this rebellion shall have breathed its last.

Military Movements in New York and Vicinity—Increase in Recruiting—The New Bounty, &c.

According to accounts received from all parts of the State at the office of General Arthur yesterday, recruiting is rapidly on the increase. The public are again giving the most practical exhibition of their loyalty and confidence in the government—that of hastening to the field in order to defend and uphold the interests of that government under which all live and prosper. The attaches of General Arthur's department are worked very severely, both day and night, in attending to business. As this is the only Quartermaster General's office in the State, the work which has to be done is of no ordinary character. Quartermasters and other officers who have been appointed to various commands here, attend daily, in order to receive their instructions; and the task imposed upon Gen. Arthur and his aids is of rather a difficult character. Uniforms are furnished daily from this department to the number of over two thousand, which speaks volumes for the briskness of recruiting throughout the State. With regard to the bounty money to be furnished by the State, the uncertainty which surrounded the prompt payment of the same is being speedily dispelled. A good deal depends upon the promptitude of the recruiting officers in forwarding the names of the recruits to Col. Bliss, at Albany, after the same are regularly mustered into the service of the United States. If this is done at once a check for $25, one-half the State bounty, is sent to the recruit, the other half being forthcoming when the regiment is properly organized and ready to take its departure from the State. It would, however, be much better for the whole sum to be at once furnished to the recruit on his entrance into the service. There is one objection suggested for this course, which is, that the retention of one-half the bounty would prevent desertion on the part of recruits. This desertion, however, could be guarded against in the State of New York as well as in that of Virginia. But when these desertions actually take place—and a single instance has yet scarcely been known—it is high time for the authorities to tender such an objection. The Committee on National Affairs, which took its departure for Washington on Thursday last, for the purpose of urging upon the government the necessity of making immediate payments of the bounty, may be expected here in a day or two, when all things in this relation will be put to rights. When men are in need of money, and that money is forthcoming after enlistment, they like to receive it as soon and conveniently as possible.

MEDICAL INSPECTOR'S OFFICE.

At the office of Dr. Thompson, the Medical Inspector, corner of White and Elm streets, there were yesterday inspected over forty recruits. This officer is appointed for the purpose of examining only recruits who enlist for regiments at present in the field. These men receive their $50 bounty immediately after passing inspection.

THE MILITARY EXEMPTION LAW.

The clerks of the Fire Commissioners are at Firemans' Hall, No. 127 and 129 Mercer street, every evening, in order to file exemption papers in relation to the new Militia law.

THE FURLOUGHED VOLUNTEERS.

There are quite a number of volunteers throughout this city and State whose term of furlough has expired, and who are delaying at once proceeding to their respective regiments. This ought to be looked to by the military authorities, and these men sent on at once to where they properly belong. While the government is busily engaged in providing reinforcements for our armies, it is but just that these men, whose experience in the field makes them superior to twice their number of raw recruits, should be hurried on to join their regiments.

THE PARK IN MILITARY COSTUME.

Recruiting tents are again dotting the City Hall Park, and the roll of the drum, with the sound of the shrill bugle, announces the fact that the country again calls for volunteers to defend the government. Every day a crowd of curious lookers-on may be found around each recruiting tent, several countenances betokening the contrary feelings of doubt and determination as to whether or not it would be advisable to walk in and sign their names. Flags, banners and devices of all description are displayed from these tents, and a stranger walking up Broadway could not but exclaim inwardly that we were truly a great military people.

THE VOLUNTEER RELIEF FUND.

The Rotunda, in the City Hall Park, was yesterday filled with an immense crowd from the Sixth and Seventh wards of the city, in order to receive their proportion of the soldiers' relief fund. The rush was so great that a passage admitting only one person at a time had to be provided. It was a pitiful, and in some cases a comical sight, to see the various devices which were being used by the applicants to obtain relief. Some made the assertion that they were from two different wards at the same time. There were several instances of the patriotism which exists among some families. One respectable looking old woman appeared and made the assertion that she had four sons enlisted in the war. There were, however, several cases of deception, which were speedily detected.

IRA HARRIS LIGHT CAVALRY.

This is one of the best regiments now in active service in the field, and has done as much effective duty as any organization of its sort since its advent in the present war. The Ira Harris cavalry have lost quite a large number of men, and there are recruiting stations now opened throughout the city to fill up the decimated ranks. When the raw recruit enlists in a veteran regiment he becomes proficient in his military duties as quick again as when joining a new organization. Manoeuvring and fighting side by side with the old soldier practically teaches the young military aspirant those difficult duties which months of severe drilling at home could not accomplish. The work which the Ira Harris cavalry have accomplished on the Anna river and Beaver dam reflects much credit upon the corps for efficiency and bravery. The recruiting offices for the Second regiment of the corps are at No. 600 Broadway and in the Park. Adjutant S. W. Armstrong is recruiting at the former place, and Lieutenant Lepine at the latter.

SPINOLA'S BRIGADE—COMPANY H, SECOND REGIMENT.

Capt. W. W. Bowles, formerly of the Metropolitan police, has opened a recruiting office at No. 602 Broadway, where he is rapidly completing his company. This corps is known also by the name of the Hillhouse Light Infantry. Capt. Bowles has already seen service in the Mexican war, and was at one time connected with Engine Company No. 26 and Hose Company No. 29, of the New York Fire Department. Recruits for this company will be accepted until Saturday next.

FIRST BATTALION NEW YORK MOUNTED RIFLES.

The above cavalry corps is now stationed at Norfolk, Va., doing good service. It is under the command of Colonel Charles C. Dodge, who is a gallant and efficient officer. Since the stay of the Mounted Rifles in the Old Dominion, they have achieved for themselves a first class reputation for their soldierly qualities and general good conduct. They were among the foremost to enter the field from this State, under the first exodus of troops. Recruits are uniformed, and receive the State bounty immediately after being mustered in. Applications for enlistment must be made to Captain George H. Dean or Lieutenant B. H. Engelke, 71 Cortlandt street.

FIRST REGIMENT NATIONAL VOLUNTEERS.

Colonel Gurney's regiment of National Volunteers is now fairly organized. The Regimental Surgeon, Doctor George E. Cutter, Adjutant John L. Little and Quartermaster A. M. Bradshaw have been mustered into the service. Great care has been taken in selecting the line officers, and most of them are such as have been in the service since the commencement of the present war. The regimental camp has been established at Camp Washington, Staten Island. This promises to become of the finest regiments now in the progress of organization. Col. Gurney has been prominently connected with our State militia since 1839, and held a commission for many years in the Seventh regiment. National Guard. At the commencement of the present rebellion he left his business and went with the Seventh to the seat of war, and immediately upon the return of the regiment to this city he connected himself as captain in Col. Cochrane's regiment, First New York Chasseurs, with which organization he has been connected up to the present time. At the request of Major General Morgan he was detached from his regiment, by order of the Secretary of War, to act as Inspector of Camps, Instructor at Camp Washington, and Military Examiner of persons applying for authority to recruit companies under General Order No. 31. The regimental headquarters are at 314 Broadway.

THE DEATH OF LIEUTENANT CHARLES F. VAN DUZER, TWELFTH INFANTRY, REGULAR ARMY.

Several weeks since the news came that this young officer had been killed in the disastrous battle of Cedar Mills, on the 27th of June; but it was fondly hoped by his numerous friends that, as in other instances, the report was untrue. Recent intelligence, however, fully confirms it. He belonged to the Twelfth infantry of the regular army, and while that regiment was at Fort Hamilton last autumn and winter he labored most assiduously in bringing it to the efficient state of discipline. He had previously served with distinction in the Seventh regiment, of this city, and as lieutenant colonel of the Cameron Zouaves, and had, therefore, considerable experience, in addition to a taste for the military profession. In March last, with his battalion, he joined the Army of the Potomac, and in the battle which ended the siege of Yorktown, the captain being absent, he was in command of his company, from a bullet wound in the head. Lieut. Van Duzer was a native of this city, being a son of the President of the New York Exchange Bank. His amiable disposition and genial manner gave him unbounded popularity, and a wide circle of friends will mourn his untimely loss.

THE FIFTH ZOUAVES.

Men of the better class wishing to join a good, reliable regiment, cannot do better than call in at No. 56 Broadway, and enroll themselves under the torn and bloody banner of Duryee's Zouaves. The State bounty and full rations are furnished each recruit on enlistment.

THE SECOND MILITARY DISTRICT OF BROOKLYN.

A meeting of the Second Military District Committee of Brooklyn was held on Thursday night at the City Hall, Hon. J. C. Smith in the chair. A statement was made by the Chairman that, in search as recruiting for the regiment to be raised in that district might interfere with the efforts which were being made to place the Empire Brigade upon a war footing, the Governor had suggested that no active efforts should be used in regard to the same, and that the committee should hold its authority until the brigade itself was raised, when they could assume their original functions. The Chairman and two other members were appointed a committee to confer with the Governor in relation to the matter.

THE QUARTERMASTER OF THE TWENTY-THIRD SENATORIAL DISTRICT REGIMENT.

There has been no Quartermaster as yet appointed for the above regiment, under command of Colonel Elias B. Smith. The name in yesterday's issue relative to said appointment was a mistake.

THE SECOND REGIMENT NEW YORK STATE MILITIA (EIGHTY-SECOND NEW YORK VOLUNTEERS).

Lieutenant Dempsey is in town, recruiting for the above regiment, which is now at the seat of war. The recruiting offices are situated at the corner of Hall place and Seventh street, No. 20 Cherry street, and in a tent near Tryon row.

THE NEW ENGLAND ASSOCIATION.

The New England Association, No. 194 Broadway, deserves the greatest praise for its endeavors to relieve the sick and wounded soldiers who are arriving daily in this city. It has distributed an unusual amount of delicacies, food and clothing. The calls upon the association have almost exhausted its supplies. The relief it has extended to our returned heroes is incalculable, and it now remains for our Union loving citizens to extend their already liberal generosity to relieve its pressing demands. Donations can be sent to their rooms, 194 Broadway. Nearly 7,000 soldiers have been received and cared for by this association during the comparatively short time that it has been in existence.

MEETING OF OFFICERS OF THE EMPIRE BRIGADE.

A meeting of officers of the Empire Brigade, called by General F. B. Spinola, was held at the headquarters of the brigade, No. 483 Broadway, at four o'clock yesterday evening. The officers present were General Spinola, Colonel Hale Kingsley, Lieutenant Colonel John B. Leverich, Major Braunick, Adjutant James J. Byrne, late captain of Company B, First Fire Zouaves; Captain Thomas Murphy, Captain Michael Murphy and twenty others. The General expressed his gratification at the reports appertaining to recruiting in the different stations, and stated his conviction that the brigade would shortly be in the field, full and well organized.

THE PARK BARRACKS HOSPITAL.

It is intended to close the military hospital at the Park Barracks in a few days. Since April last there have been upwards of four thousand sick and wounded soldiers attended to in this hospital. Its contiguity to the main thoroughfare of the city totally unfits the Park Barracks for its present use.

The Death of Ex-President Van Buren.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT AND DISTRICT COURTS.

Before Hon. Judge Betts.

These courts having adjourned at an early hour on Thursday, the United States District Attorney moved yesterday morning their adjournment in a few feeling and eloquent remarks, as a token of respect to the memory of ex President Van Buren.

Mr. E. H. Owen seconded the motion in a short address.

Judge Betts remarked that he felt the motion to be a proper tribute to be paid by a United States tribunal to the memory of one who had so honorably filled the highest office within the gift of the nation. He added that the decease of Mr. Van Buren was the more deeply felt by him, inasmuch as he had been in early life politically associated with the ex-President. And while the changes of parties and his (Judge Betts') elevation to the bench had separated them politically, their personal relations continued to the last on the most intimate and kindly terms. The Judge was deeply affected during the delivery of his brief remarks, and he concluded by directing that the motion and order for adjournment be entered on the records of both courts.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

FRIDAY, July 25—6 P. M.

Money continues to work easily enough at about 5 per cent for call loans. Mercantile paper is quoted at 5 a 6 a 7 per cent. Demand notes sympathized with the decline in gold, and were quoted at the close to-day at 106¼ a ½.

Gold and exchange were again very feverish to-day. Gold opened at about 116⅝ before the board to-day, declined steadily down to 114½, then rallied up to 116. At the second board it sold at 117, and closed 116⅞ bid. Exchange opened at 129, declined to 127, then rallied, and was quoted at the close at 128 a ½. Prudent men are unwilling to operate in the present condition of the market on either side. Bankers are reluctant either to sell or to buy bills. The back
