The Beresford high school foot ball team came over to Canton last Friday and played the opening game with the Canton highs. The ground was in bad condition, rain falling during the game, but the spirit of rivalry cared nothing for mud or rain, and the boys plowed through the mud like battering rams. Beresford won by a score of 10 to 0. Canton has a good team and will show Beresford a trick or two by and by.

Farmers Want Plow Factory.

A Farmer's Meeting was called at the Unity Club rooms on Saturday Oct. 23, at 3:30 o'clock, for the purpose of ascertaining what can be done in the way of securing funds to promote the Bergstrom Plow factory, the object being to organize a Stock Company.

The general opinion of those present was that Bergstrom's new rod plow can be made to take the lead over anything on the market, and that a manufacturing enterprise of the kind in the City of Canton ought to be a good thing, not only for the city but also for the community in general.

GULBRANDSEN-SOGN NUPTIALS

A Charming Wedding Event Celebrated at the Home of the Bride October 27.

At high noon Wednesday October 27, one of the prettiest weddings ever witnessed in Lyon county took place at Sunnyside, the beautiful home of the bride's parents, in the marriage of Dr. George H. Gulbrandsen and Miss Judith Melvina Sogn by Rev. P. H. Tuttle of this city. The interior of the Sogn home was handsomely decorated for the occasion and the wedding invitations were confined to relatives of the bride and groom, among whom were Mrs. I. Gulbrandsen, and Miss Maybell Gulbrandsen, mother and sister of the groom from Chicago, and Dr. O. J. Urheim also of Chicago, a close friend and college companion of the groom, Mrs. J. L. Opperud of Roundup, Montana, Joseph Opperud and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Will Opperud and wife of Sioux City, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Bjornstad, and Mrs. Josie Sogn of Madison, and Mrs. Simon Hanson of Baltic.

A grand dinner followed the wedding ceremony and then came the social features of the event which continued until a late hour.

The bride is prominent socially on both sides of the river, is a noted musician, and one of the sweetest, and most loveable young ladies in the state of Iowa, and was born and raised in the beautiful home where the ceremony took place. The groom is a prominent physician in Canton and was for years one of the leading physicians in Chicago, and was on the medical staff of two of the most prominent hospitals of that city. He came west a couple of years ago for pleasure and a rest, traveling over North Dakota and finally came to Sioux Falls to visit friends and then he made Canton a visit and Dr. Brastad induced him to locate here as he was going away. He returned to Chicago to complete some hospital work after which he came to Canton to stay, and in due time cupid became interested in his welfare and the ceremony of Wednesday tells us cupid was very successful. Dr. and Mrs. Gulbrandsen will occupy the handsome cottage just east of the John Isakson residence on Third street, where they will welcome their friends and receive congratulations, and the LEADER greets them and wishes them all happiness and a pleasant journey through life.

Post Office to be Moved

Post Master Smith received information Monday afternoon that O. R. Isakson was the successful bidder for the new post office building. The other complete bidders were Mrs. Claudia Rudolph at $1,000 a year, Judge Kennedy's bid was $900, while the Isakson bid was $500 a year, which includes new office fixtures, light and heat. This bid is entirely to low and nothing short of a bonus from interested parties can make him good. The new fixtures alone will cost him about $2,200, to say nothing about heating and lighting the 25x30 room.

Canton is too large to have a post-office location affect business one way or the other, while the new location is certainly not central or near central. The present location is the most central and most convenient that can be found but the department deemed the room too small and the fixtures out of date and a change had to be made. It is regretted by all that a change had to be made but Uncle Sam manages such things to suit the department.

Adolph Gubbrud's Invention.

While out soliciting interest in the Canton Plow Company I dropped in at Adolph Gubbrud's in Norway to find him busy oiling up his Corn Snapper ready for the field. There are already several corn husking machines on the market, but Mr. Gubbrud has invented a snapper that he knows is going to take the lead of anything out yet. Says he also has patents pending on a husking attachment but in place of putting it on the machine in the field, he thinks he may attach it to the ordinary corn elevator at the crib and thus not only make less machinery to be dragged around in the field but it will leave the husks in a pile near the yard where it can be saved for feed in place of being scattered on the ground where it will be of little use.

He is also making what he calls a Loose-dirt Lister, a medium between the ordinary lister and a common corn planter. His idea is to plant the corn in plowed ground in a furrow deep enough so that it can be cultivated one way and successfully kill the weeds without getting it to the objectionable depth of the old style lister.

ENGBERT HOLTER.

Tom Martin was down from Sioux Falls on business last week. Move down Tom and be happy.
