PURCHASING AND INFORMATION AGENCY.—NEW York is the great business mart of the country. Thousands of articles and much valuable information may be here procured not obtainable elsewhere. At the solicitation of many who have received benefit from the experience of the advertiser in past years, he has determined to establish a reliable system for bringing people and their wants together. He has effected arrangements with merchants and manufacturers (to whom he is permitted to refer), by which any person of either sex by sending him an order for any article, of any nature whatever (if procurable), can have the same forwarded to them at the dealers' lowest price, and derive his profit from his arrangement as mentioned. He will also give reliable information or advice in the most honorable confidence, requiring for the service a moderate compensation proportionate to the means of the person, to be returned if he cannot comply with the request. Orders must contain the purchase money. An experienced person of taste and discrimination will attend to the ladies' department. In every case the order and address must be plainly written. Government currency received only. Where articles are to be sent by mail postage must be enclosed. Address L. R. Evans, 34 Cortlandt street, New York.
