FROZEN UP

But that's no reason why you should have cold feet. Shoes properly fitted and made of the tight material won't let your feet get cold no matter how much you are outside. There is warmth in good stout leather and a well sewed shoe won't let in dampness, and if they are properly fitted they won't stop the circulation. That's the kind we mean when we say, come in and let us show you warm shoes for cold feet.
