that the very violence of the hurricane, as it now sweeps over the country, was the best guarantee that it could not be much prolonged. Do not let me be misunderstood. Whatever may be my views as to the futility or the wrong of invading the territory of the South, I have no hesitation in saying that it is the duty of the men of the North to repel with vigor any attempt at invasion of their sovereignty. At the commencement of this war, when we were told that troops were required for the defence of the capital, I, myself, contributed in every way within my power to send troops from the State of New York for that object, and I am ready to day to take up arms to repel the invasion of the free North as against the South. For, whatever grievances the South may have had, and whatever wrongs may have been perpetrated upon her, she has no political or moral right to invade our territory. She has never asserted this right, nor is there anything in her political demands under the constitution of the country that can give her this right. And it is my earnest prayer that she may be expelled ignominiously from the soil of Pennsylvania, into which she has wrongfully and unjustifiably penetrated. Now I am for peace. I am for peace as the only hope for the Union. I am for a cessation of hostilities preparatory to a conference—for a conference preparatory to negotiations, and for negotiations preparatory to a general convention of all the States, so as to see whether it be possible to readopt a form of government which shall at once preserve the liberties of the American people and the unity of the States. If this war goes on we shall have no liberty, no Union, no republic The only issue to day before the American people of the free States is, shall we have peace and a constitutional government, looking to reunion or shall we have war and military despotism, with certain disunion? It has come to that. We must have one or the other. If this war lasts military despotism is certain. What boots it to the American people whether they have a Union or not if in the effort to sustain it they are to lose their liberties and to become slaves?

Mr. W. followed up this line of remark at some length in remarks which were received with frequent applause by the concourse of people assembled. Resolutions were adopted by acclamation reaffirming the position taken by the peace Convention in the city of New York on June 3, and in accordance with the views maintained by Mr. Wood.

Hon ANDREW J. ROGERS, member of Congress from the State of New Jersey, and others followed, endorsing the resolutions.

MURDER TRIAL.—The trial of Michael Kinney, the car driver, who stabbed a German named John Ravensburg, in a store corner of Fulton and Albany avenues, on the 21st of May last, was called on yesterday in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, before Judge Lott. The entire panel of eighty jurors was exhausted and only eleven jurors obtained. The case was again adjourned until this morning, Judge Lott ordering a new panel of thirty jurors.

CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH OF JULY.—The Fourth of July will be extensively celebrated in Brooklyn. The Common Council being restricted to the expenditure of $1,000, can furnish only two exhibitions of fireworks—one in each district. The Long Island Historical Society will have suitable exercises at the Academy of Music, commencing at noon. The Declaration of Independence will be read, and an oration delivered by G. T. Jenks, Esq. The Young Men's Catholic Library Association will hold a picnic jubilee at Mrytle Avenue Park, where Edwin James, Esq., will deliver an oration, and Hon. Fernando Wood will speak on national affairs The citizens of Bearnsville will celebrate the day with a free banquet in "the Grove," after which Hon. Henry B. Stanton will deliver an oration. The exercises will include music and fireworks in the evening.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

TUESDAY, June 30—6 P. M.

Money is comfortable enough; call loans, 6 a 7 per cent, the latter being the rule among brokers; mercantile paper, 5½ a 6½ for the best names. Considerable sums of money are coming here from Philadelphia and other towns in Pennsylvania and the West for safe keeping and employment. A quantity of gold and diamonds also arrived here this morning from the same quarter.

Gold opened this morning at about 147¾, but fell off to 146¾ on a rumor that General McClellan was to replace General Halleck in command of the armies of the United States. At a later hour no confirmation of this story could be obtained, and gold rose again to 147, 146¾, 146½, closing at five P. M. at about 146¾. Exchange was 162 a 163, with only a moderate increase.

The stock market was inactive this morning and the course of prices irregular. The number of speculators is very large, and people with large sums of money stand ready to operate as soon as they can see their way clear. But at present so much uncertainty exists with regard to the design and probable effects of the invasion of Pennsylvania that people are all hanging back. Harlem opened at about 98, but fell to 94 on the action of the Aldermen annulling the repeal of the Broadway Railroad grant. It may seem anomalous to outsiders that Harlem should rise 30 per cent on the repeal of the grant and fall on the repeal of the repeal. But people who sold the stock short understand the reason. Erie was steady this morning; Reading rose 2 per cent, Pittsburg ¾, Hudson River 2½, Rock Island ¾. On the other hand, Cumberland declined 1 per cent, Fort Wayne ¾, Erie preferred ¼, guaranteed ¼. Pacific Mail was very steady. Governments were lower, and State stocks were also heavy. After the board the market was called steady. There was very little doing, however. In the afternoon the market was very dull and tame, and prices were generally a fraction lower. Hudson River, however, rose to 143, cash, while it was offered at 134, seller thirty, and 131, seller sixty. The shorts in this stock have suffered as severely as the shorts in Harlem. The following were the closing quotations of the day:—

A letter from Pittsburg states that in consequence of the interruption of business on the Pennsylvania Central all the produce brought from Chicago over the Fort Wayne road is sent north over the Cleveland and Pittsburg, and thence east over the Atlantic and Great Western and Erie to New York. Arrangements are being made by which this change of route will involve but little delay. Meanwhile the change is giving the Erie about as much business as it can manage; and July and August, which are usually dull months, will probably show as large receipts this year as the spring or autumn months.

The Sub-Treasurer gives notice that he will continue to receive subscriptions for 5.20 bonds at par until 1st August. It was the intention of Mr. Chase to have been here on Monday; but the critical state of affairs has kept him at Washington. A rumor is current that he will begin at once to print his new legal tender interest bearing notes; but it is not known at the Sub-Treasury that he has resolved upon anything of the kind. The time is unpropitious for the negotiation of a new loan; and yet the government must have more money.

The aggregate amount of exports (exclusive of specie) at the port of New York for the week ending June 30, was $4,211,468.

The Hanover Fire Insurance Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent, payable on demand.

The business of the Sub-Treasury was as follows to-day:—

Receipts	$2,585,097 01
—For customs	187,000 00
Payments	2,350,681 49
Balance	25,170,569 47

The Nassau Fire Insurance Company, of Brooklyn, will pay a semi-annual dividend of seven per cent on the 1st of July, free of tax; the Phenix Bank, on July 1, a dividend of three and a half per cent, free of tax; the Connecticut Bank, Bridgeport, a dividend of four per cent, free of tax, payable July 1; the Reading Railroad, three and a half per cent dividend on preferred stock, July 20; the Paterson and Hudson River Railroad, July 3, a dividend of four per cent, free of tax; the Lykens Valley Coal Company, three and a half per cent, payable July 6, at 13 William street.

At Philadelphia to-day stocks are dull. United States sixes, 1881, sold at 107; Pennsylvania Railroad at 66½, against 71½ on Saturday; Reading at 47, an advance of 5 per cent on the lowest price of yesterday; Long Island closed at 36.

The Chicago and Alton Railroad earned for the third week in June:—

1863	$44,453
1862	30,164
Increase	$14,288

The statement of the Philadelphia banks for the last two weeks compare as follows:—

The New Orleans New Era says in relation to the Louisiana State Bank:—

We have the best authority for saying that this bank has taken the proper steps to redeem every dollar of its circulation at an early day. Its assets are largely in excess of its liabilities, and the officers of the bank are resolved that no one who holds the notes of the bank shall be a loser thereby.

The New Orleans Delta of June 25 thus notices financial matters in that city:—

Our local currency has recovered to a considerable extent from its perturbed condition last week. In our last we did but little more than hint at the uneasiness manifested by the holders of the notes of some of our banks. The order of the commanding general, requiring the Bank of the State of Louisiana to go into liquidation, has been withdrawn, for reasons most satisfactory, the commission appointed under the order having reported the affairs of the bank to be in good condition and the general management of the institution such as to meet their entire approval. And, in connection with this subject, we may remark that no one acquainted with the character of the commissioners and the condition of the State Bank expected any other result. Though some loss was occasioned by the temporary "panic" among bill holders, eventually good must result from the investigation. The notes of one or two other banks are rather in disfavor among a portion of the public. But these banks are rapidly recovering from the popular pressure, their issue being promptly redeemed in city currency upon presentation at the counter. This action must assure holders that there is no real cause of alarm.
