NEW YORK, April 8, 1864.

U. S. MARINE CORPS.
$30 BOUNTY AND PRIZE MONEY.

Young men of suitable age who are desirous of entering this corps will, on being accepted, receive the above bounty in hand, and when serving at sea an opportunity for gaining prize money. Apply at the recruiting rendezvous, corner of Broadway and Chambers street, in the Park; at 18 Bowery, New York; at Navy Yard gate, foot of York street, Brooklyn, or at the Marine Barracks, on Flushing avenue, Navy Yard, Brooklyn. At either of these places every information respecting the duties of this ancient and honorable corps can be obtained. The marines stationed at the New York City Hall Park will be known by the belts of the corps being white, and being the only soldiers in full dress.

JNO. GEO. REYNOLDS,
Lieut. Col., commanding marines New York stations.
