Marine Disasters.

Brig THOMAS CONNER—Brig Catharine, which arrived at this port yesterday from Kingston, Ja, reports—Jan 12, lat 25 16, lon 70 27, fell in with the wreck of brig Thomas Conner (of Portland, Me), Capt Rowland York, from Matanzas for Portland, with loss of sails and spars, forward house stove and leaking badly; Capt Rowland was washed from the wheel on the 10th, and lost; a seaman was also washed away, but succeeded in getting on board again; took from her the mate and balance of the crew, and brought them to this port.

Ship J P WHEELER—Greenock, Jan 6—The J P Wheeler, from New York for Glasgow, which went ashore at Oban, has become a total wreck. Her crew arrived here yesterday morning per steamer Clydesdale. (The J P F has previously been reported as put into Oban, leaky. she was 875 tons register, built at Bath, Me, in 1856, rated A1½, and was owned by Wm & A Nelson, of this city.)

Ship GUY MANNERING—Iona, Jan. 1—The ship Guy Mannering, of New York, Brown, which sailed from New York Dec 2, with a cargo of cotton and grain, for Liverpool, became a total wreck here at about 3 PM on the 31st ult (as previously reported). There were 36 passengers on board, 19 of whom were saved, and 17 were lost. After leaving New York they had a very favorable passage the first week, after which fearful storms all the rest of the passage. Their first set of sails were blown off to ribbons, and then the remaining canvass in like manner; the cargo twice shifted, and the crew got disabled by day and night's incessant labor. The passengers were then made to work the vessel, and during the last week, from having no sails, they were tossed to and fro, and gradually drifted to the lee shore, and by the morning she had drifted out of sight, close to the shore, on the west side of Iona. In half an hour she parted amidships, within a quarter of a mile of the beach. The first mate swam ashore over the huge breakers. He was followed by seven or eight others, but they gradually disappeared among the debris of cotton, lumber, &c. The captain struck out for the shore, turned back when half way, and held on by some pieces until about eight o'clock. He was given up for lost by all, but about eight o'clock there was a faint cry heard from a piece drifting in, and every effort was used to reach him, when he was found quite benumbed, and most tenaciously holding on. He must have been five hours in the water, during which the sea was washing over him. The sailors, as picked up, were carried to the nearest houses and duly attended to, as also the captain, who is, considering the circumstances, wonderfully well. On the 1st inst three bodies were washed ashore. Most, if not all, the cotton will, it is expected, be saved.

Miscellaneous.

STEAMER DIRIGO (new), recently built by Joseph W Dyer, Esq, for the New England Screw Steamship Company, made a trial trip as far as Richmond's Island, 23d inst, the results of which were highly satisfactory to all interested. The steamer is about 900 tons, cost $150,000, and has fine accommodations for more than one hundred passengers. The Chesapeake, after undergoing repairs, will again go upon the route, and together with the Franconia and Dirigo, establish a tri-weekly line during the coming summer.

SCHR FRANK HERBERT, Chase, from Philadelphia, was below Boston Jan 23. The F H arrived of West Dennis (Bass River) on the night of the 14th, with loss of deck load of oil and tar; also lost sails, boat, galley, and received other damage, having been driven off to the Gulf Stream in the late gale. Procured a new boat, also sails, &c, before leaving Bass River.

SCHR M C ROWE—Capt Tarr, of the schr M C Rowe, arrived home on Monday. His schooner (before reported lost) struck on a rock at the entrance of Beaver Harbor, but afterwards came off and sank in the harbor, where she now lies. The wreck was sold for $2,500, in gold.

LIVERPOOL, Jan 5—The Norwegian brig Frithiof, from Philadelphia for Falmouth, was abandoned Dec 26; crew saved.

The Ashburton, Bradish, arrived here from New York; had been foul in the river with the James Foster, Jr, for NYork; damage unknown.

Yesterday morning, during a heavy squall, the ship James Foster, lying in the river NYork, dragged her anchors and went ashore of the Hankinson dock. The assistance of tugs was at once procured, and the vessel was towed off in the afternoon's tide and placed in the Birkenhead dock; damage at present unknown.

Jan 9—Put back, the E H Taylor, for New York, making water, with rudder damaged.

Jan 6—The Gen. Williams, hence for Boston, which put into Lombeth Bay damaged, has sustained no damage.

The Tigress, from New York, was abandoned in a sinking condition Dec 23, lat 24 N, lon 49 W; crew saved by the Triton; arrived here.

FALMOUTH, Jan 7—The Jessie Campbell, from Philadelphia, landed here the crew of Angier, of Liverpool, from Newfoundland for Queenstown for orders, abandoned at sea in a sinking state.

CARDIFF, Jan 8—Wind squally; 6 PM—A gale. Early this morning it blew a heavy gale from the westward, during which the American ship Annie Decatur lost anchor stocks. The tug Bob Chambers was in attendance all night.

HARWICH, Jan 8—Fifteen casks of tobacco, part of the cargo of the Norma, Horstmann, from Richmond, Va, for London, which went on the Goodwin Dec 30, have been landed here; also four at Orford and one at Brightlingsea.

SWANNEREE, Jan 5—The British Queen, Hayward, from Liverpool for Philadelphia, was towed in here from outside Holyhead by the Royal Mail, having experienced severe weather and lost nearly all her canvas and several yards, damaged rigging and bulwarks, and compelled to steer by tackles, in consequence of her steering gear being all broken.

QUEENSTOWN, Jan 6—The General Shepley, Stetson, from Liverpool for Philadelphia, put in yesterday leaky, and not the Geo Chaplin.

Jan 8—The Cecrops, Wildfang, from NYork for Belfast, has put in with outwater started and loss of three topmasts and all attached.

The Ida, Hynds, from Ardrossan for NYork, has put in with loss of foretopmast, &c.
