GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK
FOR
JANUARY, 1868.
The Lady's Book for January is presented to the public in a new and attractive style. There is no magazine publisher in the United States that expends so much money to gratify the growing taste of the American ladies for everything that is tasteful and useful as the publisher of the Lady's Book. The embellishments in the number now before us consist of the following:—
New Shoes. A fine steel engraving.
Steel plate Title Page, containing three pictures of our winter amusements—Skating, Sledding and Snowballing.
A colored Fashion Plate, containing six figures.
Winter Sports. A tinted picture.
Colored Plate of Berlin Wool Work. Figure of a stag, printed in eight colors.
A large extension sheet, containing twenty-four engravings of ladies' dresses, children's dresses, &c., &c.
A well executed engraving of the future millionnaire of Walrussia.
Ladies' Sacks, Mantles, Walking Suits, &c.
In the Work Department will be found a Round Doyley or Beaddress, in tatting; Bead Fringes, Toilet Mat, Knitting Needle Book, Barrel Match Stand, Jewel Box with Pincushion; Crochet Cotton Bag, Letters for Marking, Embroidery, Braiding, &c.
The Music, Receipt, Cottage and Horticultural Departments are still retained in the book.
The Literary Department of the number is very good. "Themie Rowland," by Marion Harland, promises to be the story of the year. "The Decoy Duck," "Life's Contrasts," "Nettie's Sacrifice," "Raking Hay," are all excellent. There is also a New Year's story by Miss Frost, written in her pleasing style. An increase of reading matter will also be noticed. It amounts to over twelve pages a month, or nearly two numbers a year. This is without doubt the best number Mr. Godey has ever issued.
