INSTRUCTION.

FRENCH CONVERSATION AND LITERATURE BY Professor J. L. PARRAIN, 27 Bond street. At home Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

TO FAMILIES INTENDING TO SEND THEIR SONS TO Germany to be educated.—I beg leave respectfully to call the attention of parents to a highly recommendable boarding school, established a few years ago by a Protestant preacher in a country town, not far from Hamburg. My son has just finished his education there, and praises the amiable, conscientious treatment and the excellent instruction which he has enjoyed. Several of my friends' sons have likewise received their education at that place, from their ninth to their fifteenth year.

All branches of knowledge and foreign languages necessary for a professional or practical career are thoroughly taught by a selection of competent teachers. The boys find a second home there, and the terms are exceedingly moderate. It will afford much pleasure to myself and to my friends to give all further information which may be desired.

VILLAGE LIFE IN NEW ENGLAND.
HENRY WARD BEECHER.
ONE VOLUME, LARGE 12MO, NEARLY 600 PAGES.
PRICE $1 50.
The fact that NORWOOD is to have in book form the same extensive popularity which it enjoyed as a serial is emphatically proved by the fact that the orders from the trade in advance of its publication called for nearly
TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND
Copies. The originality of the characters which appear in NORWOOD; the wise and witty sayings which sparkle through it; the keen insight into and deep love of nature which it displays, and the merits of the story itself, make the book one for every Family Circle, and must secure for it a place among the classics of American literature. Since NORWOOD is
