THE ARMY.

Extra Edition of the Army Register—Promotions and Appointments—Vacancies—The Retired List—Brevets—Casualties—Geographical Divisions, Districts and Departments—Armories and Arsenals.

An extra edition of the Army Register has been prepared by the Adjutant General. It is dated August 1, 1868, and is the fifth extra register issued since January, 1861.

The aggregate strength of the army on July 31, as given in the tabular statement of the "organization of the regular army," was 52,948, against 52,922 on January 1, 1868—an increase of 26. The actual strength of the army on September 30, according to the annual report of the Adjutant General, was 48,081. As the army is being depleted at the rate of 1,500 men per month by the discharge of soldiers whose terms of enlistment expire, and as the number of recruits enlisted at the few recruiting stations now in operation scarcely equals the losses caused by desertion and death, the actual strength of the army at the present date does not exceed 45,000 men.

The number of military posts is 121, and the number of national cemeteries 52, 13 of the latter having been established this year under the direction of Adjutant General Thomas. The number of Indian scouts in the service is 412, an increase of 6 since January.

PROMOTIONS AND APPOINTMENTS.

The noticeable promotions this year, besides those mentioned in the HERALD of October 5, are as follows:—

Brevet Brigadier General Louis N. Palmer, 1 lieutenant colonel Second cavalry, to be colonel same regiment vice Wood, retired.

Brevet Colonel Albert G. Brackett, Major First cavalry, to be lieutenant colonel Second cavalry, vice Palmer, promoted.

Brevet Lieutenant Colonel John Green, Captain Second cavalry, to be major First cavalry, vice Brackett, promoted.

There have been 75 appointments since January 1, viz.:—Military storekeeper, 1; quartermaster's department, 1; paymaster, 1; Corps of Engineers, 8; Ordnance Department, 1; post chaplain, 1; cavalry, 27; artillery, 10; infantry, 26. Of the persons appointed 54 were graduates of West Point, 10 had been in the volunteer service, 3 were appointed from the army and 8 from civil life.

VACANCIES.

There are 103 vacancies in the army, as follows:—One brigadier generalship, vice Hooker, retired; 1 lieutenancy in the Ordnance Department, 45 in the Medical Department (assistant surgeons), 1 in the Pay Department (major), 20 lieutenants in the cavalry arm of the service, 25 in the artillery and 94 in the infantry. It is stated that the President declines to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of General Hooker, on the ground that an early reduction of the army is probable. The same reason will apply to the vacancies in the artillery and infantry regiments, but those in the cavalry will no doubt be filled, as cavalry officers are in demand. All disposable officers of that arm in detached service have been ordered to their regiments on the plains to assist in the Indian operations under General Sheridan.

THE RETIRED LIST

is made up of 151 officers (8 less than the maximum allowed by law), of whom one has been in the army 60 years, one 57 years, two 56 years, one 55 years, two 54 years, five 53 years, seven 50 years, twenty-two from 40 to 49 years, twenty-four from 30 to 39 years and seventy from 20 to 29 years. The remainder have served less than 20 years.

During this year fourteen officers have been added to the list, including Major General Hooker and Surgeon Burton Kendall, retired since the compilation of the register. Brevet Major General Thomas J. Wood, Colonel Second cavalry, has been retired with the full rank of major general, four captains and one lieutenant for long and faithful service, wounds, injuries, &c., received in the line of duty, and one captain, one chaplain and four lieutenants for incapacity resulting from injury or disease not incident to the service. This is the first instance of officers having been placed on the retired list for the reasons last mentioned. Captain Moses B. Walker (brevet lieutenant colonel), and Captain Joseph C. Clark (brevet colonel), who were retired in 1864 and 1866 respectively, under the act of August 3, 1861, with the rank of captain, have, by order of the President and in conformity with the act of July 28, 1866, been placed on the list with the full rank of the command held by them when wounded, the former as colonel and the latter as major.

Three retiring boards are now in session—one in this city, one in St. Louis and one in San Francisco.

The following officers, having been in the service more than forty consecutive years, are entitled to be retired on their own application, viz.:—Generals P. St. George Cooke, general officer; Lorenzo Thomas, adjutant general; R. E. Clary, assistant quartermaster general; A. B. Eaton, commissary general; R. S. Satterlee, chief medical purveyor; R. C. Wood, surgeon; Thomas J. Leslie, paymaster; Thomas J. Crane, Corps of Engineers; Wahla n Maynadier, Ordnance Department; S. B. Alexander, colonel Tenth infantry, and S. P. Heintzelman, colonel Seventeenth infantry. There are also several officers over sixty-five years of age who can be retired by the President without the intervention of a retiring board.

Retired officers are being employed on general court martial duty, and as members of the Retiring Board and on other light duty. Several have been detailed as Professors of Military Science at certain educational establishments under the act of July 28, 1866. Most of the officers of the academic and military staff at West Point might, we should think, be selected from the West Point officers on the retired list and thus liberate the able bodied assistant and acting assistant professors now on duty at the academy.

OUR REGISTER.

The only changes in the field and staff of the army since the publication in the HERALD of October 5, of our register for September, 1868, are indicated under the head of promotions. General Townsend is still the virtual and General L. Thomas the nominal Adjutant General of the army. Brevet Lieutenant Colonel Thomas J. Treadwell is in charge of the Ordnance Department pending the inquiry into the charges against General Dyer, Chief of Ordnance.

BREVETS.

On comparing the register for August with that for January, it appears that the brevet force is not yet played out. 150 brevets having been conferred by the President or confirmed by the Senate between those dates, viz.:—Major generals, 2; brigadier generals, 11; colonels, 12; lieutenant colonels, 13; majors, 35; captains, 58; first lieutenants, 21.

CASUALTIES.

One hundred and twenty-seven casualties in the regular army are reported, viz.:—Resigned, 62; declined, 4; cancelled, 1; died, 30; negatived by the Senate, 6; revoked, 2; dropped, 6; dismissed, 7; cashiered, 9.

Among the resignations are the following:—Brevet Major General Judson Kilpatrick, captain First artillery, to date December 1, 1865, instead of October 15, 1867, as announced in the last register; Captain James P. Brownlow, Eighth cavalry (son of Parson Brownlow), and Brevet Brigadier General Charles L. Fitzhugh, first lieutenant Fourth artillery, who was one of three first lieutenants in the army having the brevet rank of brigadier general, the other two being E. S. Parker and Adam Badeau, Aides-de-Camp to the General-in-Chief. Six officers—four of whom were dismissed, one dropped and one cashiered—have been permitted to resign and the records changed accordingly.

Two captains and a private of volunteers declined second lieutenancies, and one regular officer declined a brevet.

Five staff and field officers died, viz.:—Colonel Timothy P. Andrews (retired), late Paymaster General; brevet Major General Frederick Steele, Colonel Twenty-fifth infantry; Brevet Brigadier General Louis D. Watkins, Lieutenant Colonel Twenty-fifth infantry; Major Henry W. Wharton (retired); Brevet Lieutenant Colonel Benjamin F. Smith, Major Twenty-seventh infantry. One lieutenant was drowned in Big Cypress Bayou, Texas; one in the Arkansas river, and one died at Sitka. The latter (Lieutenant B. W. Livermore, Second artillery) was the first United States officer, civil or military, who has died in our new possessions.

The following deaths have occurred since the date of the register:—Brevet Brigadier General William Gates (retired); Brevet Brigadier General J. R. Smith (retired); Major Christopher S. Lovell (retired); Brevet Brigadier General Adam J. Slemmer, Lieutenant Colonel Fourth infantry; Brevet Captain Charles F. Rockwell, Ordnance Department.

In the volunteer force eight casualties are announced, viz.:—Resigned, one (General R. K. Scott, Governor of South Carolina); commission vacated by new appointment, one; honorably mustered out, four; honorably discharged, one (Major John S. Nev, Aide-de-Camp), instead of dismissed as reported in the register for 1863; mustered out, one. To which may be added four Assistant Quartermasters, two Commissaries of Subsistence and twenty Paymasters honorably mustered out since August 1, leaving only a volunteer officer (Major General Howard) in the service.

ARMORIES AND ARSENALS.

There are twenty-six armories and arsenals now occupied by the Ordnance Department (being three more than in 1860) as follows:—

Springfield Armory, Mass.	Kennebec Arsenal, Maine.
Allegheny Arsenal, Pa.	Leavenworth Arsenal, Kan.
Augusta Arsenal, Ga.	Mount Vernon Arsenal, Ala.
Baton Rouge Arsenal, La.	New York Arsenal, N. Y.
Benicia Arsenal, Cal.	Pikesville Arsenal, Md.
Champlain Arsenal, Vt.	Rock Island Arsenal, Ill.
Charleston Arsenal, S. C.	Rome Arsenal, N. Y.
Columbus Arsenal, Ohio.	St. Louis Arsenal, Mo.
Detroit Arsenal, Mich.	San Antonio Arsenal, Texas.
Fort Monroe Arsenal, Va.	Vancouver Arsenal, W. T.
Fort Union Arsenal, N. M.	Washington Arsenal, D. C.
Frankford Arsenal, Pa.	Watertown Arsenal, Mass.
Indianapolis Arsenal, Ind.	Waverlier Arsenal, N. Y.

With the exception of the Harper's Ferry Armory (destroyed by rebels) and the North Carolina, the Apalachicola and Little Rock Arsenals, all the establishments in use before the war are again in operation, and, in addition, arsenals have been established at Columbus, Ohio; Fort Union, N. M.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Leavenworth, Kansas; Rock Island, Ill.; Rome, N. Y., and Vancouver, W. T.

SALES OF LANDS IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—It is surprising to know the immense quantity of land in this unindebted section which has changed hands within the last twelve months, under executions, and which is still in the market. The matter is conducted in such a manner that but few outside of those immediately interested know anything of it, and we do not ourselves know of one-tenth of the sales that have taken place. Under existing laws it is only necessary for the notice of sale to be posted at one or two public places; the sale is made under the hammer, the property goes for almost nothing, a deed of sale is given, and thus men are made poor and homeless in a day. And still these executions are showered out by the dozen. We long for the day when our people can feel safe in the possession of their property.—Walton (S. C.) News.
