THE ARMORY AGITATION IN NEWARK.

Newark has the most meagre accommodations for her citizen soldiery. In cases of emergencies they are compelled, when called out, to rendezvous in old unused graveyards. At the last meeting of the Common Council a committee, consisting of Messrs. Stainsby, Littell, Raynolds, Baldwin and Rathgate, appointed to select a site for an armory, sent in a recommendation to purchase a plot of ground fronting on Washington and Academy streets and the Morris Canal, the price being $34,000. The report was tabled until next meeting.

SALES AT AUCTION.

AT TWELVE O'CLOCK, SHARP, on THURSDAY, October 19, 1871, at Inglewood (Queens), L. I. Drums beating, Band playing, Guns firing, Multitude Huzzing, The Star Spangled Banner will be raised upon the new and permanent station. After which the building will be dedicated for railroad purposes. An original poem, written for the occasion by a celebrated American authoress, will be read, and an eloquent address delivered. Immediately on the conclusion of the ceremonies the immense sale of lots, by order of Colonel A. M. Wood, late the gallant leader of the immortal Fourteenth Regiment, will be made BY JOHNSON & MILLER. Special train over Long Island Railroad will leave via James slip and Thirty-fourth street ferries, for Inglewood, (Queens), at eleven o'clock, sharp, on Thursday morning, October 19. Grafulla's unrivaled Band has been engaged. Weeks, caterer, will have a splendid collation ready on arrival of train. 300 BEAUTIFUL LOTS are to be sold positively, absolutely, and without regard to price, on the easiest terms ever offered at an auction sale. In the centre of this choice property the new and permanent station of the Long Island Railroad is located; its northerly side bounded by the Jericho Turnpike, is opposite the splendid residence of Colonel A. M. Wood, and the Reformed Dutch Church, while the southerly portion has a great front on the road running from Jamaica to Hempstead. The important fact that the station has been permanently located on this property will give great value to every Lot for business purposes. Terms of sale unusually liberal. Free tickets and maps for this great sale can be obtained of Johnson & Miller, 23 Nassau street, New York, or 248 Montague street, Brooklyn; and of John Elliott, 42 Broadway, Williamsburg.
