A Prayer

To He who ruleth all things, Controls the thought of the good and makes hideous life of the evil, give us this day the peace that is His, that can be ours. May He who sitteth in that sublime universe of everlasting joy, look down upon our weakness in haste, avarice and unrighteousness, and give us light in this; our hour of worldly strife and untold sorrow. May this plea be granted for the sake of all humanity, we ask as His children in life and in death. Amen.

We wonder if the school bell sounds as joyous in Europe.

Editor Seem hasn't let up any, as we can see on the under world element of Deadwood.

It will be time soon for the Irish to answer the call, when England runs shy of other fighting material.

Why all this "hullobalu" about Richards? Isn't it his own primary law and even if it is a Chinese puzzle strung backwards, give Dick credit of seeing ahead far enough of the possibilities of staying in the race as long as possible.

School Notes

On account of the unusually large enrollment of pupils in the sixth and seventh grades of both the Eastside and Westside schools the Board of Education decided to transfer the sixth grade pupils from the Eastside school to the Westside school and the seventh grade pupils from the Westside school to the Eastside school. This change places all the sixth grade pupils in the same room and likewise the seventh grade pupils. The enrollment will be about the same as before in each of the two rooms affected by the change but the respective teachers will have only one grade in place of two as formerly. Before the change was made there were 62 pupils enrolled in the sixth and seventh grades of the Eastside school and 46 in the Westside school. This was entirely too large a number of pupils for the teachers to teach effectively in two grades, while the same number of pupils can be taught to advantage if they are all in the same grade with two divisions of the grade. This change works somewhat of a hardship upon some of the pupils who will have a long way to go to school, but under the circumstances this could not be avoided. It is hoped that the parents of the pupils who are inconvenienced by the change will acquiesce in the action of the Board.

Somewhere

Somewhere today there's weeping And in her thoughts comes leaping The curls of all Kingly throats. Somewhere today the sorrow That is ours to know, to learn Will perhaps on the break of tomorrow Cause us sob, our eyes to burn. Somewhere to-day there's a peace There must be such a place, And when we've ended life's lease May that somewhere be ours to face.

School opened Monday with a larger enrollment than ever. Monday night a young couple from Desmet, South Dakota, arrived in Canton, with one and the same idea, marriage. They solicited George Sherman's aid and after every thing seemed satisfactory, Clerk of Courts

Ernest Madden, happened to think it was Labor Day and the trial act of the drama was put off until Tuesday. Early Tuesday morning Madden and Judge Cooper appeared on the scene and with Adolphus Anderson and Herbert Rudolph witnesses, two young hearts were made one. The names of the young people were Willard C. Plumbhoff and Christine Engel, both of Desmet.

Mrs. Thomas Thorson returned Sunday from an extended trip east which included Montreal, Burlington, Vermont and Boston. In Burlington she had the pleasure of meeting Judge Farmer, once a resident of Sioux Falls, and now a resident and judge in that city. In Boston she welcomed her brother and wife, Prof. and Mrs. Hamlin Hunt on their return from abroad. They were fortunate in securing an early passage home, but had to shorten their stay in order to do so.

Saturday night about 6:30 p. m. the little Wallem boy, with a party of other youngsters about his age were playing in front of the Corner Drug Store and started to run across the street, when Enoch Leto driving his car slowly had the misfortune to knock the Wallem boy down and run over him. Nothing serious happened with the exception of the Wallem boy receiving a small cut over his eyes and a general scare for the on-lookers. Had Mr. Leto been driving fast the boy would have probably been instantly killed.

Baptist Church Notes.

The church has resumed its regular routine work with preaching services every Sunday morning and evening. Now that the vacation season is over we would like to see a general rally all along the line. The pastor's theme for next Sunday morning will be "The Standard of Truth." Evening theme, "Some Negative and Positive Essentials to Happiness." All are cordially invited to all the services of the church. Do not overlook the change in the time of the evening service, beginning with next Sunday all evening services will begin at 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock as heretofore.

Methodist Church

With the coming of the cooler weather we are pleased to note the increased attendance at the church services. We are still missing some of the children of the Sabbath school. Now that the danger of the infantile paralysis is over we hope the little children will all be back in their places again. The theme of the morning sermon next Sabbath will be "Can We Know We Are Saved." In the evening it will be "What Must I Do to Be Saved." The hour of service will be changed in the evening from 8:00 o'clock to 7:30. This will give time for the class meeting which meets at the close of the evening service. Everybody will be welcomed at all of these services.

There will be preaching at the Jones schoolhouse at 3:30 next Sunday afternoon.

A Revery

Into my life on a summers day Into my life with the flowers of May She danced and straight-way the world posy-bued Quickly shed its mantle of sombre blue. Out of my life seized by fates relentless grasp She was swept and all the world stood aghast But alas against that power who can compete She was frightened my darling into a dreamless sleep. Marie Elizabeth Richardson

The Lincoln county convention of Sunday schools will be held at Hudson September 26-27 and the services of Prof. S. D. Hentzen of Mitchell, Mrs. E. A. Grabel of Parker, besides the general secretary, George W. Miller. These three are a whole convention in themselves, and a great convention is assured. The local officers are using every effort to get every school on record at the convention. A large map of the county will be prepared by the secretary, Mrs. Calla Tucker-Hill, showing the location of all schools and other interesting features. The programs are now out.

Notice
