A.—RISLEY & BURRIS
beg to inform the public that, in addition to their present extensive facilities, they have leased the capacious factory corner of Broadway and 37th st. (formerly occupied by Mr. Charles Beardsley), where they will establish, on February 1, their repairing department and the manufacturing of their Road Wagons.
Particular attention is invited to our Patent Spring, which, having fully tested, we have adopted and are now prepared to apply to our Kensington Road Wagons; the use of our spring secures a greater degree of steadiness than has ever been attained in the use of the "side bar attachments" or "cross springs," is entirely free from all oscillation and combines comfort with economy, lessening the vibration and jolting, and relieving the axles and wheels from the strain occasioned by driving over rough roads and pavements.
The superiority of the Kensington Wagon for road and pleasure driving is acknowledged by all who have used it, and for completeness in construction, perfection of finish, durability and wear it is unequalled.
Our repairing department will be under the personal supervision of one of our firm, whose thorough practical knowledge of the business is a guarantee to our patrons that all work will be executed in the best manner.
