THE HERMAN INQUEST.

Coroner Woltman held an inquest yesterday on the body of Max Herman, the young German of Bleecker street, who was killed in Washington square last Thursday night. The verdict rendered by the jury fixed the crime upon Louis Reno, of No. 74 Thompson street, and Giovanni Rivari, of No. 70 Thompson street, as an accessory. Walker was not implicated by the verdict in any way, but he and Rivari were sent to the House of Detention. Reno was committed to the Tombs.

The testimony of most of the witnesses did not fix the stabbing on anybody in particular. It only went to show that the prisoner had quarrelled and fought with Herman and his six companions just before he was killed. Walker and Rivari swore, however, that Reno said to them when they were all running from the dying man's side, "I must have cut somebody badly." He had an open knife in his hand at the same time.

The jury further recommended that the Police and Park Commissioners see that there are more police on duty in and near the public parks after nightfall. There was only one officer to keep things straight in Washington square on the evening of the murder.

AN EXPLOSIVE INVESTMENT.

Henry C. Spaulding was arraigned at the Tombs Police Court yesterday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences preferred by Henry L. Butler, Jr., a hardware merchant, of No. 14 Cliff street. From the complainant's affidavits it appears that in January last he purchased from Mr. Spaulding all the right, title and interest in and to the patent of a certain explosive shell invented by the latter, paying him therefor the sum of $950. Mr. Butler at once put the assignment of the patent of record. A short time afterward he was waited upon by Mr. Spaulding, who informed him that the assignment was invalid, inasmuch as he, Spaulding, had, in 1875, made an assignment in bankruptcy of all his personal effects, in which was included the patent in question. The subsequent assignment was therefore null and void. Mr. Butler thereupon applied to Justice Kilbreth for a warrant for Spaulding's arrest. The prisoner, waiving examination, was held in $1,000 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury. Bail was furnished.

VITAL STATISTICS.

Four hundred and eighty deaths were reported to have occurred in this city during the week ending Saturday, May 19, 1877. This is an increase of 40 as compared with the number reported the preceding week, and 3 less than were reported during the corresponding week of 1876. The actual mortality for the week ending May 12, 1877, was 426, which is 152.4 below the average for the corresponding week of the past five years, and represents an annual death rate of 20.55 per 1,000 persons living, the population estimated at 1,075,108.
