MONDAY EVENING, November 19, 1877.
HELEN POTTER.
JARRETT & PALMER, in recognition of the marvellous progress made in the great Western cities and in Boston and Philadelphia by this brilliant young elocutionist and impersonator, have arranged for her appearance in New York, where they believe her peculiar powers cannot fail to make an impression that will at once secure for her a repute metropolitan and lasting.
Her dramatic powers are wonderful. Of the compass and variety of voice displayed in these imitations it is impossible to convey, in words, an adequate idea.
Personations are given of Miss Anna Dickinson, Susan B. Anthony, Lawrence Barrett, Charlotte Cushman, John B. Gough and other celebrities. Each one's costume, voice, gesture and manner are represented to the life. Some of the personations are absolutely startling by reason of their fidelity.
