Murray Gives Splendid Exhibition of Tennis in Defeating Throckmorton in Nassau Country Club Tourney

VOSHELL FALLS BEFORE NILES IN NASSAU SINGLES

Strain of Too Much Tennis Tells on Long Island Champion.

MURRAY AND PELL ARE LISTED AMONG VICTORS

S. Howard Voshell, who won the tennis championship of Long Island on Saturday, came a cropper in the invitation singles at the Nassau Country Club yesterday. Voshell was eliminated in the fourth round by Nathaniel Niles of Boston, top ranking player in the Bay State. Niles lost the first set, but once he got the gauge of the local expert's left handed drives Voshell was never in the hunt. The scores were 5—7, 6—4, 6—3.

Voshell gave ample evidence of having played altogether too much tennis. He was first among the top notchers in this section to get going on the outdoor courts, and he has been in constant action. As finalist in almost every singles and doubles event in which he has participated the strain yesterday finally told on him. He was there with his usual fire and power and his formidable service in the first set, but thereafter he fell away quickly.

In his winning sets Niles showed almost every attribute that makes for a tennis champion. He was as effective from the net as from the base line, and mixed his styles with good judgment. His overhead strokes were up to his best form.

Excelling even the exhibition given by Niles was that of Robert Lindley Murray in his victory over Harold A. Throckmorton in the fourth round. The victory, scored at 6—3, 6—3, put the Californian into the semi-final round. Murray was here, there and everywhere—a human dynamo that refused to be stalled at any time. Throckmorton was outplayed even more completely than he was by Willis Davis in the Sleepy Hollow final not so long ago.

Watson M. Washburn was unfortunate enough to strike Theodore R. Pell in one of "Ted's" championship moods. In the first set Washburn suffered the ignominy of the first love set scored against him in a long time. The second set saw Washburn win only three games.

Either Karl H. Behr or Dean Mathey will be the other entry in the semi-final round. Mathey reached the fourth round at the expense of Wallace F. Johnson, the Philadelphian who once ranked with the top notchers. Johnson scored in the opening set, only to slump under the speed of Mathey's rally. The scores were 4—6, 7—5, 6—3.

In the doubles the feature was the continued success of the veteran entry William A. Larned and William J. Clothier, both former national champions. In the third round they eliminated Pell and Craig Biddle, 3—6, 6—3, 6—3. The summaries:

Nassau Country Club Invitation Singles, Third Round—Dean Mathey defeated Wallace F. Johnson, 4—6, 7—5, 6—3.

Fourth Round—Theodore Roosevelt Pell defeated Watson M. Washburn, 6—3, 6—3; Nathaniel W. Niles defeated S. Howard Voshell, 5—7, 6—4, 6—3; Robert Lindley Murray defeated Harold Avington Throckmorton, 6—3, 6—3.

Invitation Doubles, Second Round—S. Howard Voshell and Fred C. Baggs defeated Arlick H. Man, Jr., and Cedric Major, 6—4, 6—4.

Third Round—William J. Clothier and William A. Larned defeated Theodore Roosevelt Pell and Craig Biddle, 3—6, 6—3, 6—3; Wallace F. Johnson and Joseph J. Armstrong defeated Nathaniel W. Niles and Watson M. Washburn, 6—1, 8—6; Fred C. Inman and Edwin P. Larned defeated Charles M. Bull, Jr., and Robert Le Roy, 6—4, 7—5; Dean Mathey and Harold Avington Throckmorton defeated S. Howard Voshell and Fred C. Baggs, 3—6, 6—2, 6—3.

AFTER TENNIS "AMATEURS."

National Association Makes Early Start Toward Cleanup.

Officials of the United States National Tennis Association are evidently determined to set their house in order, as far as the amateur question is concerned, pretty soon. Although the vote on the amendments to the amateur rule will not come up before the annual meeting next February, George T. Adee has already sent out a symposium of the proposed changes and asks the various clubs to offer suggestions that will make for better conditions.

The evil of clubs and hotels offering expenses and other inducements to get stars to compete, and the rapidly increasing practice of tennis luminaries selling implements and other accessories of the game must be arrested, says Adee.

The proposed amendments are based on the following five fundamental principles:

No. 1. No player shall deliberately capitalize his reputation.

No. 2. No player shall receive travelling expenses for playing in a tournament, team match or exhibition, except from a club or association which he represents.

No. 3. All team or exhibition matches where gate receipts are charged shall be under the strict supervision of the Executive Committee.

No. 4. Players engaged in the tennis goods business, though not made professionals, shall, while so engaged, be ineligible to compete in events sanctioned by the U. S. L. T. A.

No. 5. There shall be a tribunal to interpret the amateur rule and apply it to each individual case.

KRAMER SURPRISES BY LOSING CONTEST

American Champion Cyclist Is Defeated by Spears in Match Race.

3 HEATS DECIDE TILT

NEWARK, N. J., July 2.—For the second time this season Frank Kramer, America's champion cyclist, was defeated in a two-thirds of a mile match race by Bob Spears, the elongated Australian cyclist, at the local Velodrome this afternoon. It was a big surprise to see Kramer beaten again in a match race, as at this style of riding he always has been looked upon as practically unbeatable. It was necessary to ride three heats before the race was decided. Spears won the first and last heats, while Kramer got the second one.

In the first heat Spears rode around Kramer, nipped him at the tape and won by inches. This was a fine feat, as it rarely happens that any one rides around the champion. Kramer went into the last lap of the second heat in the lead and remained in front to the tape. He won by more than a length. In the last heat Spears rode from in front. He led for the entire distance. Kramer made an attempt to pass him on the backstretch, but lacked speed.

Reggie McNamara, the gritty Australian, won the ten-mile open. Alfred Grenda, who got second place, was disqualified for rough riding. The summaries:

Two-Thirds Mile Match Race, Professional—Frank L. Kramer, East Orange, vs. Robert P. Spears, Australia. Won by Spears. First heat won by Spears. Time, 1.54. Last eighth mile. Second heat won by Kramer. Time, 2.11 1-5. Last eighth mile, 12 3-5 seconds. Third heat won by Spears. Time, 2.03 2-5. Last eighth mile, 13 1-5 seconds.

Half-Mile Handicap, Professional—Won by Charles Piercy, 55 yards; Gordon Walker, 55 yards, second; Lloyd Thomas, 55 yards, third; Floyd Krebs, 70 yards, fourth; Reginald McNamara, scratch, fifth. Time, 54 3-5 seconds.

Australian Pursuit Race, Amateur—Won by B. J. Carroll; Louis Lamp, Lexington, second; Ben O'Sicky, third; William Spencer, fourth; Eric Paetz, fifth. Time, 8 minutes, 10 1-5 seconds. Distance, 5 miles, 2¼ laps.

Ten-Mile Open, Professional—Won by Reginald McNamara; John Bedell, second; Alfred Hedell, third; Harry Kaiser, fourth; Edward Madden, fifth. Time, 21 minutes 4 1-5 seconds. Alfred Grenda finished second, but was disqualified for rough riding.

PORES LEADS MAYO HOME.

Millrose Man Star of Meet in Celtic Park.

In a fighting finish, Charles Pores, the Millrose A. A. distancer, defeated Eddie Mayo of the Brooklyn A. A. in the special three mile invitation run held in connection with the games of the Paulist A. C. at Celtic Park yesterday. After passing the first mile in the lead in 4:47, Mayo kept on making the pace for his Millrose rival till about a hundred yards from the finish. At this point Pores went to the whip and, by a great spurt, caught and passed Mayo, leading Eddie home by twenty yards.

Mayo wore a large pair of spiked shoes, which blistered his feet badly. He was a good sportsman, however, and declared that they did not hinder him and that the best man won.

In the closed races some of the scratch men romped away with first honors. Arthur J. Dougherty ran a good race in the 440 yard event, showing his heels to the field in 52 4-5 seconds. In the 100 yard dash Jimmy Cunningham was clocked in 10 1-5 seconds, while Joe Giorgio romped home on the chin straps in the one mile run in 4:47 3-5. The summaries:

100 Yard Dash, Handicap—Won by J. Cunningham, scratch; J. Brew, 4 yards, second; J. Mullane, 6 yards, third. Time, 10 1-5 seconds.

440 Yard Run, Handicap—Won by A. J. Dougherty, scratch; P. Rogers, 15 yards, second; T. Larkin, 4 yards, third. Time, 52 4-5 seconds.

880 Yard Run, Handicap—Won by H. Wigger, 30 yards; T. Larkin, scratch, second; A. J. Dougherty, 3 yards, third. Time, 2 minutes.

One Mile Run, Handicap—Won by J. Georgio, scratch; F. Lavery, 60 yards, second; F. Vergano, 10 yards, third. Time, 4 minutes 47 3-5 seconds.

Three Mile Run, Scratch, Invitation—Won by Charles Pores, Millrose A. A.; Eddie Mayo, Brooklyn A. A., second; F. Vergano, unattached, third. Time, 14 minutes 57 seconds.

SPORTING GOSSIP

BY Tom Mac Nulty

Top o' the mornin' to you all, and how do you like our new home?

We're all here at the new stand prepared to work shoulder to shoulder in turning out the best sporting page that ever delighted the hearts of the fans. If you don't like it, tell us; if you do like it, tell others!

"WATERBURY, Conn., July 2.—Umpire Pat Maloney to-day attacked the Colonial catcher and in a riotous scene put the catcher's eye in mourning." Glory be! If there were more Irish umpires ball games would have to be fought under Marquis of Queensberry rules!

Promoters Pollok and McKetrick have such a line of blarney they would talk the Swiss Government into buying a fleet of battleships.

Alexander will not have to sigh for more worlds to conquer. Anyway, he lost two games in one week.

Frank Moran took countless lefts in the face in an attempt to get a chance to shoot across his own right. It didn't work. Wilbert Robinson wouldn't have Frank on his ball team. Frank is too poor a sacrifice hitter.

Dear Tom—No one out. No one on base; pitcher puts third strike over. Catcher drops third strike; recovers ball and throws to first base, first baseman putting man out. How would you score the play? What would you credit pitcher, catcher and first baseman? ONE OF M'NAB'S CONSUMERS.

Pitcher is credited with a strike out. Catcher is credited with an assist and first baseman with a put out.

Dear Tom—Man on third, one out; batter hits fly to deep centre field, on which the runner could have easily scored. Centre fielder muffs ball, runner scoring. Is this a sacrifice fly? FRANK FURTER.

Yes. Batsman is credited with a sacrifice fly and fielder is charged with an error, unless ball was too difficult for fielder to field cleanly, in which case it was not a sacrifice fly, but a hit, and fielder is not charged with an error.

Dear Tom—Please state in your columns who is older, Wagner of the Pittsburghs or Lajoie of the Athletics? G. K. L.

Wagner is the older of the two in age, but Lajoie has been the longer in the big leagues. Wagner was born on February 24, 1874, entering National League in 1897 with Louisville. Lajoie was born on September 5, 1875, entering the National League in 1896 with Philadelphia.

Dear Tom—Please give your readers this information: A bets B that the Boston B. B. grounds (National) can seat more persons than the Polo Grounds; also that more persons paid admission to Boston grounds than New York in any one game. G. W.

A is right in both instances, Braves Field having a larger seating capacity than Polo Grounds, and the crowd that saw the third game of the 1915 World's Series between Red Sox and Phillies—game was played on Braves Field—being greater than any attendance at ball game on Polo Grounds. The record crowd at Braves Field was 42,300; the record crowd at the Polo Grounds 38,281.

Dear Tom—Kindly inform me as to how I can become a member of the Walkers' Association of the New York Walkers' Club. WILLIAM H. M'DONALD.

Fitchcliffe, N. Y.

American Walkers' Association, No. 526 West 160th street. Walkers' Club of America, No. 104 West Forty-second street.

Dear Tom—Man on first base, one out; batsman has three strikes called upon him, but catcher misses last strike. Batsman proceeds to first while base runner on first proceeds to second, whereupon catcher throws to second in an effort to get the base runner out. Both men reach their destinations safely. Is the batsman safe or out? H. BLOCH.

Safe. Unless two men are out third strike, with first base occupied, is out. In this instance, however, two were out and third strike had to be caught.

Dear Tom—Score is tied in ninth inning. Home team has man on base. Batter hits ball over right field fence, but as the other man scored, he ran right to the clubhouse after reaching first base. Is batter credited with a home run? A. H. S.

No; only a single.

Dear Tom—A bets that Bat Levinsky never fought Al Reich. B says he did. Who wins? CHICK.

B wins. Levinsky got a twelve-round decision over Reich in Boston.

Dear Tom—Batter hits grounder to shortstop, who fields the ball cleanly but regs wild to first. Batter would have beaten the throw, even had shortstop made a good throw to first. CARL LARSON.

If batsman would have beaten throw it is not an error.

Dear Tom—M, B, E and K were playing auction pinochle. Diamonds were trumps, and M melded a queen of trumps, also king and queen of hearts, clubs and spades. She claimed that she could count the roundhouse, 150 suit and 40 pinochle. K said M could not count it all ways. M, B, E AND K.

Meld counts 390. M is right, if meld was put on board at one time. It is as follows: Round house and trumps, 250; pinochle, 40.

Dear Tom—Kindly give the nationality and extraction of Silent Martin. E. S. M.

American, of Irish extraction.

Dear Tom—Please tell me the nationality of Johnny Harvey, lightweight fighter? ALEX PHIL LEWIS

American of Italian parentage.

Dear Tom—A, B and C are playing three-handed pinochle. Upon counting up at the end of a hand it was found that A is 1,015 and the other two below 1,000. The point in dispute—Is A bound by any law of the game to declare he is out before he counts his cards, and if he is so bound, what happens to the game if he does not declare? Is it void, or does the deal pass on, and must A get a crack? GEORGE A. HOLLANDS.

If game is 1,000 points and A has the required points and others have not, why argue? A wins.

Dear Tom—(1) What year did the new Polo Grounds open? (2) Did Amos Rusie ever pitch on the old Polo Grounds? (3) If so, did Jack Warner catch for him? E. C. LILLY.

(1) The Brotherhood opened the field where the Giants now are in 1890, the Giants moving there in 1891. For several years prior to that the Giants played on what is now known as Manhattan Field. (2) If you mean the old field at 110th street, known as the original Polo Grounds, no, though he played on Manhattan Field in 1890, the year he came to New York. (3) No, Warner did not come here until 1893.

TUFTS COLLEGIANS LEAD IN FIELDING

New England Ball Players Averaged .964 for Twenty-two Games.

HARVARD TEAM SECOND

Tufts, which led the college baseball nines in team batting, had also the best fielding combination, turning in an average for its twenty-five games of .964. Harvard too had a splendid fielding nine which had an average of .960, and Columbia, which with the two others ranked as the best all around team of the East, had an average of .953.

Dartmouth was close to Columbia with an average of .952, while Yale, whose hitting was below par, fielded at a .949 clip. Pennsylvania too, despite its weakness in other directions, had a capital fielding nine, with an average of .949. Lehigh, Brown and Holy Cross were within a couple of points of each other, while Princeton, with .937; Williams and Fordham with .936, and Amherst with .935, rank next.

The individual leaders among those who played their positions regularly were: Case, Georgetown, first base; Perkins, Dartmouth, second base; Shepley, Yale, third base; Saunders, Tufts, shortstop; Ferey, Harvard; O'Connell, Cornell, and Seibert and Statler, Williams, outfielders; Smith, Columbia, pitcher, and Harte, Harvard, catcher.
