MILK FIRMS REFUSE TO BUY FROM STATE

Ignore Dillon's Threat and Will Offer Farmers a Slight Advance.

READY TO FIX CONTRACTS

Broome County Dairymen Will Dump Their Goods Unless Price Is Raised.

Although the Dairymen's League insists the big milk distributors of this city must pay an advance of nearly a cent per quart for milk during the next six months, and that contracts must be made through State Commissioner John J. Dillon as selling agent, the distributors propose to do business at the same old stand and in the same old way.

On Friday next the Borden, Sheffield Farms-Slawson-Decker and other companies will announce at their plants up State and elsewhere what prices they will pay for various grades of milk. Their representatives will be on hand to sign contracts with the producers for their milk for six months beginning October 1.

It is understood that the retailers intend to make offers of slight advances in prices to the farmer, but the rate will not be as great as the producers have demanded.

The time limit set by Commissioner Dillon for the largest distributors to make known whether they would do business with him as the selling agent for the producers expired yesterday, and not one big retail concern accepted the invitation to buy milk through the State department. Only one company, Borden's, sent the Commissioner an official communication on the subject, and he did not make that public.

Mr. Dillon said that twenty-five or more small dealers have agreed to buy milk through him if he can get it into the city. He insisted all were enthusiastic over the idea of getting out of the clutches of the big distributors from whom they now get their supplies.

The Commissioner is certain that his plan to act as selling agent for the farmers will succeed if the producers in various communities establish cooperative creameries so that their output can be pasteurized and properly handled. His department is now disposing daily of about 1,500 forty quart cans of milk to small dealers from five or six cooperative creameries at rates ranging from 30 to 40 cents per can above Borden's prices. These contracts were made during the summer.

Experience of the past has shown that big distributers obtained possession of some private plants by means of leases, although the plants were erected by farmers with the idea of breaking loose from what they called the "control of the milk trust."

Commissioner Dillon has been informed by small dealers that the big distributers have increased to them the price of a can of milk from $2.15 to $2.25, thus adding to their worries.

Officers of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters said yesterday the milk companies have agreed to recognize the union and that there is no danger of a strike of 6,000 milk wagon drivers. Borden's, it was announced, posted signs in their stable advising their employees to join. A few minor differences between the companies and their men still remain to be settld.

Will Dump Milk on Ground.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Broome county dairymen, who have just organized, announce that they will dump their milk on the ground before they will sell at contract prices offered by the big creamery companies.

HEARING ON CITY SALARIES.

First of a Series Held Before Public Service Commission.

The first of a series of hearings by the Board of Estimate on the final report of the committee on salaries and grades was begun yesterday. Mayor Mitchel was not present, being at the hearing before the Public Service Commission.

Comptroller Prendergast explained that the report consisted simply of recommendations made by the Bureau of Standards after three years of study, and that they will not go into effect until they are carefully studied and authorized by the Board of Estimate. He said that in the main they seemed to be very fair.

Alfred J. Talley, counsel for the New York Civil Service Society, of which most of the city's employees are members, objected to the fixed salary of the nurses employed by the Department of Health in field work. A maximum of $900 a year was fixed in 1909 and has not been changed, while nurses in private hospitals and other departments get a maximum of $100 a month.

BRINGS TALE OF SUBMARINES.

Cunard Voyager Also Says He Was Victim of Zeppelin Raid.

Two passengers on the Cunarder Orduna, which reached port yesterday, were positive that the steamship had veered ten miles from her course to avoid a submarine. The men giving this information were Ralph E. Cropley of Summit, N. J., and S. F. Washington, a lawyer, of Canada.

Thomas McComb Taylor, commander of the vessel, denied that the Orduna had changed her course, and said his log book showed she had kept to her regular path. He added that it was impossible for passengers to tell whether a ship was sailing its course or not.

Cropley, who says he went abroad on a secret mission, also dropped hints that the Germans were after him. He said a new danger had been added to ocean travel by mines in the transatlantic lane. Cropley's chin and neck were covered with bandages because of injuries which he said he received in a recent Zeppelin raid on England when a fragment of a bomb struck him.

SCHOOLS ORDERED TO OPEN SEPT. 25

Entire Cessation of Infantile Paralysis by October 1 Is Predicted.

BUT 66 CASES IN 2 DAYS

Teachers Assembled and Will Be Instructed How to Detect the Disease.

Reports to the Health Department yesterday, covering a period of forty-eight hours—double the usual time—showed only sixty-six new cases of infantile paralysis and twenty-three deaths in all boroughs of the city. This was the lowest average since th outbreak of the epidemic.

So encouraging were the figures that Commissioner Emerson and President Willcox of the Board of Education announced that the public schools positively will open on September 25. The Health Commissioner predicted an entire cessation of the epidemic by October 1. Manhattan reported thirty new cases and fourteen deaths for the two days. The figures for Monday showed but twenty-two cases and nine deaths. In other boroughs the decrease was even greater.

School principals reported for duty yesterday and the Teachers Institutes opened their sessions.

Teachers to Be Instructed.

At Washington Irving High School tomorrow night the teachers will be instructed in ways and means of detecting the disease by officials of the Health Department. They will be told what little is known of infantile paralysis, the purpose of the lectures being "educational preparedness," as Mr. Willcox expressed it. Representatives, sent by the State Board of Health, will assist the city authorities in the work, which contemplates a series of lectures from now until the opening of the schools.

As soon as the schools open all quarantine restrictions will be lifted, including the ban on attendance at motion picture shows and other forms of amusement. The after care of the children who have been inflicted with the disease is still to be pushed vigorously by the special committee in charge of this work.

Studying the Carriers.

Speaking of the opportunity for studying the germ and carriers of the disease now that the epidemic is practically over, Dr. Charles E. Banks of the United States Public Health Service, said that invaluable investigation work will result from a careful study of the different methods used in combating the epidemic in the Wilard Parker, Kingston avenue and other hospitals. Results of the Federal investigation of infantile paralysis, he said, would not be known for at least two months.

"We now have in our care 5,969 cases at the hospitals and at home," said Health Commissioner Emerson; "1,257 cases have been terminated by recovery and deaths have numbered 2,133 out of the 8,551 cases reported to date."

Columbia University, it was announced yesterday, will open September 27 as scheduled, on the assurance of the State Board of Health that the danger of contagion has practically ceased.
