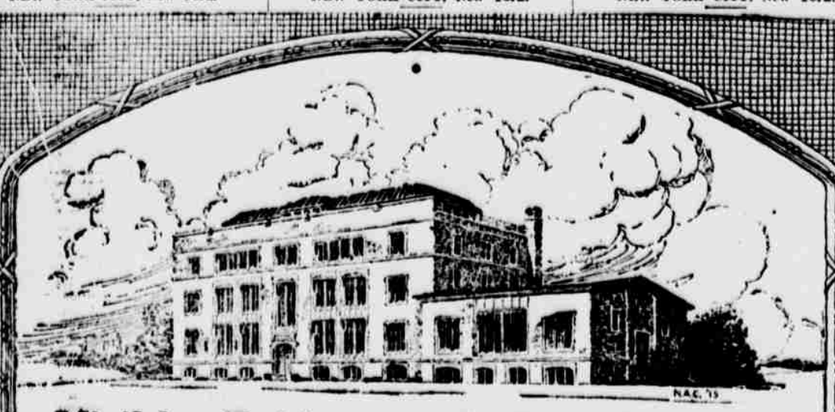
PREPARATORY SCHOOLS, COLLEGES AND ACADEMIES

INSTRUCTION. FOR BOYS AND YOUNG MEN. NEW YORK CITY, New York.



Visible Evidence of Completeness

INSTEAD of trying to make old quarters do—instead of attempting to renovate, remodel or rebuild an old building to answer the purpose, the Horace Mann School for Boys decided, first of all, what equipment was necessary to prepare boys adequately for college—physically and mentally.

The School had 25 years of experience pointing the way to what was needed. We had the FACTS gleaned from these 25 years to show us what was necessary—what was right.

We decided on an uptown location where our boys could receive the benefit of extensive grounds, green fields and fresh air. Then, we erected a school building adequate in every way, answering every possible requirement. Then,—the building was so completely equipped as to rival that of any college.

The result has been that our boys who have had these advantages have made names for themselves in college, for they had the proper foundation to depend on and to carry them through.

That is why your boy, provided he intends to go to college, should come here—where every fact, every proof points to a sound preparatory education.

Inspection of the School is invited. Send for our booklet.

Latest News of Events in the Scholastic World

THE Barnard School for Boys has once more transferred its activities from the shores of Mallett's Bay, Vt., where it has its summer camp, to its regular site at Fieldston, West 244th street, New York city. It will also transfer as much as possible the outdoor life which the campers have been enjoying on their summer outing. It has been the policy of the school to send to college boys who are strong and vigorous not only in mentality but also in physique. During the summer extra facilities have been provided at the school for outdoor study, and a sun parlor has been added to the building for the use of the larger boys.

The health of the students is guarded in every way possible, and on the advice of the school physician the regular session will not begin on account of the epidemic of poliomyelitis till October 16. A group of Barnard boys served their time as rookies at the Plattsburg camp during the summer, and Perry R. F. Marshall, the master in mathematics, has just returned from duty in the New York infantry of the United States army on the Texas border. The enrolment at the school promises to be the largest in its history, and the boys are looking forward to a successful year.

COLUMBIA GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Columbia Grammar School of 5-7-9 West Ninety-third street will reopen for its 153d year on Monday, October 9. This school is one of the oldest preparatory schools for boys in New York. It is registered by the Regents, and in addition to the senior department it has a primary department for boys from 6 to 11 years old, carefully graded and with no home study. The buildings are new and fireproof, the class rooms large, airy and well ventilated, with laboratories and gymnasium. There is also a permanent openair playground attached to the school and an athletic field. B. H. Campbell, A. M., is the head master.

TOME SCHOOL.

PORT DEPOSIT, Md., Sept. 30.—The Tome School will open on Monday, October 2, with the largest enrolment of students in the history of the school. Boys are registered from all over the United States, including places as far distant as Montana and Colorado on the west, Florida, Texas and New Mexico on the south and Maine on the north. In addition there are representatives from seven foreign countries. While the number of new students eclipses previous records, with the exception of those who are entering college, almost every one of last year's boys is returning.

The following changes have been made in the faculty: John E. Edwards, B. A., M. A., Lafayette College, superintendent of public education of Allegany county, Md., assistant director; Everett Louis Backes, B. A., Harvard University, instructor in modern languages; Eliot Payson Corvin, Litt. B., Rutgers College, instructor in the first form; Claude Burns Wivel, Philadelphia College of Commerce, head of the commercial department, and George Francis Green, Temple University, Yale University, director of physical training.

Making Conditions Ideal

The atmosphere of the school—its situation and its environment—is an all important feature in the training of the young girl.

Oaksmere, fronting directly on Long Island Sound, set in a wooded park, in a lovely section of Westchester County, comprises one of the most attractive country estates in America.

Thus is supplied an accurate reflection of the atmosphere surrounding the type of home from which Oaksmere girls gather.

Could a condition for a school be more ideal?
