REACTION FOLLOWS COTTON'S BIG GAIN

Selling Offset by Bullish Advices, While Bulges Meet New Offerings.

N. Y. OPERATORS UNLOAD

Bulls Believe Storm Will Be Followed by a Cold Wave With Frost.

Reactionary tendencies marked the cotton market yesterday. Instead of going down as they went up—very suddenly—the quotations are vacillating, working themselves into lower levels in long, circling sweeps, thus putting the market on a stronger basis, driving out weak accounts and putting the staple in firmer hands.

The net result of yesterday's trading was a decline of 10 to 29 points. It represented heavy unloading by New York operators, some Liverpool selling and a shower of Southern hedges. But the offerings were fairly well absorbed. Trade buyers dropped into the market after the initial decline and cleaned up much stock.

Trade factors pulled violently each way. Liverpool experienced a sharp break near the close, and this probably was the dominating factor. Futures abroad opened 1½ points lower to 3 higher and then broke violently about 20 English points, finally ending irregularly at 5 to 3 points below yesterday's closing prices for the near months to 1 point net advance for the more distant options. Spot cotton was 5 English points lower at 10.84d. for middling, with sales of 8,000 bales.

Bulls placed their main dependence in the belief that the Gulf storm will be followed by a cold wave likely to bring frost. The crop damage from the storm that swept inland Wednesday morning is small.

Sinking of the Cunard liner Alaunia was used by the bears in the late afternoon as a factor with which to hammer the market. In the last ten minutes it was approximately 50 points, or ¼c. a pound, lower than the high of the previous day.

The first call found the market barely steady, off 2 to 21 points. This break as well as subsequent ones were followed by advances as the market's keen strength made its presence felt.

A report in the late afternoon that the National Ginners Association figures one 7,720,000 bales received little attention.

Exports were 12,774 bales, making 1,331,806 so far this season, compared with 1,086,027 last season at this time.

GRAIN MARKET.

WHEAT—Europe was again a heavy buyer of wheat, and the appearance of competitive orders from neutral countries as well as buying by the Allies caused renewed activity among bulls and prices again scored new high records. The day's operations were estimated at as high as 1,500,000 bushels. The demand was principally bullish sentiment. There were also unconfirmed rumors regarding the possibility of the Government taking over control of wheat in Canada. The heavy foreign buying was at the highest prices in nearly twenty years. A Broomhall cable said that the crop in north Argentina is practically a failure and that the recent estimate placing the exportable surplus at 64,000,000 bushels will have to be reduced. Argentine shipments for the week were estimated at 1,600,000 bushels, compared with 3,416,000 last week and 144,000 last year. Advices from abroad said that arrangements are being perfected for an enlargement of ocean tonnage for commercial uses and that rates are being adjusted to a more satisfactory basis. In the local cash market No. 1 durum was quoted at $1.97¾; No. 2 hard, $1.84¾; new No. 1 northern Dulluth, $1.96¼; No. 1 northern Manitoba, $1.91¼, all f. o. b. New York.

CORN—Market sold at new high records and closed strong with net gains of 3 cents. There was further export demand, but little cash corn was available and cash prices averaged 3½c. over the May. The West also had a bullish influence. Crop advices from Argentina were unfavorable and it was said that tonnage from there was being diverted to other grains. Argentine shipments for the week estimated at 2,400,000 bushels, compared with 3,552,000 last week and 3,740,000 last year. Export sales estimated at about 200,000 bushels. In the local cash market No. 2 yellow was quoted at $1.08 c. i. f. New York.

OATS—Strength in other grains as well as unfavorable weather for the movement had a bullish influence and prices were firmer, with more active covering. Export sales estimated at 400,000 bushels. Local cash market firmer; standard quoted at 54½@55c.; No. 2 white, 55¼c.; No. 3 white, 53½@54c.; No. 4 white, 53@53¼c.; fancy clipped white, 57@59c.; ordinary clipped white, 56@57c., all elevator.

RYE—Market firm. No. 2 Western, $1.55 c. i. f. New York.

BARLEY—Market steady. Feeding, 96c. f. o. b. New York.

HAY—Market firmer. No. 1, $1.05; No. 2, 95c.@$1; No. 3, 85@90c.; shipping, 80c., all new crop.
