Evening theme "The Test of Character." All are cordially invited.

When asked what constituted the great appeal in "The Birth of a Nation", the producer, Mr. Griffith, picturesquely remarked: "Because it is the story of a lost cause. Napoleon is a great and popular figure of history not because of his triumphs—but because of the island of Elba. And what in the life of Christ has influenced people throughout the ages? His beautiful life! No. What then? His crucifixion—the cross." Certainly fine and moving words, these, which show the character of the man who could originate such a thing as this spectacle and also, where his heart lays.
