Those seeking real football quality to-day will have to go either to Syracuse or Philadelphia, where contests that deserve more flattering positions in the season's schedule are to be staged. What promises to be the best exhibition of the day will bring together Syracuse and Pittsburg in the Salt City stadium. Pressing that game closely for the leading honor is the annual tussle between Pennsylvania and Penn State at Franklin Field.

Neither Harvard nor Princeton faces a formidable opponent to-day and both should pile up presentable scores. Princeton will tackle Lafayette, which once was able to give the Tigers a real battle, but in late years has proved easy prey for Old Nassau. Harvard will go through the motions of a game with Massachusetts Aggies, who recently fell before Dartmouth 62 to 0.

Last season, under the coaching of Dr. Brides, now assistant to Ted Jones at Yale, the Aggies held Harvard to 7 to 0, being beaten by an intercepted forward pass in the final moments of play. This season the Farmers, minus most of their stars, have in the ebb of their football fortunes.

Cornell should have no trouble with Bucknell, but Dartmouth is likely to have a hot tussle with Georgetown. The White Indians and the Washington eleven will help dedicate the new municipal stadium at Haverhill, Mass.

Syracuse Averages 185 Pounds.

Pittsburg and Syracuse have never met. Under the tutelage of Glenn Warner, former coach of the Carlisle Indians, Pittsburg has made remarkable strides in the last two years. As a master of strategy and a developer of backs Warner has no superior. Syracuse has one of the heaviest teams in the country. The eleven men weigh 2,035 pounds, an average of 185 pounds. Certainly its line, which includes Babe White and Chris Schlachter, two veritable behemoths, is the heaviest in the ring. The game will develop a struggle between the strategy and running game of Pittsburg and the stalwart line of Bill Hollenbach's eleven and it should be a hummer of a scrap.

Penn State defeated Pennsylvania last year by 13 to 3, and there is no visible reason for supposing that a similar result may not be recorded to-day. They have met twenty-two times and four times State has gone off with the ball. Once they battled to a tie. In 1899 State won by 29 to 0, in 1911 by 22 to 6 and in 1912 by 14 to 0. The tie, 3 to 3, came in 1909.

Under the new regime of Bob Folwell Pennsylvania has been coming along rather slowly, as might be expected when a new system is being installed. Last Saturday Pennsy lost to Swarthmore, 3 to 0.

Latrobe Out of Game.

Princeton will go into the game with Lafayette still minus the services of Billy Moore. There will be one change from the lineup which met Tufts last week. Latrobe at right tackle will give way to McGraw. Eddy will start at quarterback with Brown, Tibbott and Driggs behind him.

At Harvard practically all of the regulars will go into the game with the Aggies. The probable lineup follows: C. A. Coolidge, left end; Wheeler, left tackle; Dadmun, left guard; Harris, centre; Clark, right guard; Caner, right tackle; Harte, right end; Robinson, quarterback; Casey, Thacher and Horween, backs.

The Army will have an easy afternoon, as it meets Trinity, which is rather weak this season. The Navy faces another hard opponent in West Virginia, which gave Pennsylvania so hard a game not so long ago, losing at 3 to 0. Rodgers of West Virginia is good enough to make trouble for the best in the country.

Soft Game for Brown.

Brown will very likely have little more than a practice session with Williams, which proved so easy for Cornell last week. Amherst and Springfield look fairly even, while Colgate, fresh from its victory over Illinois, will probably wade through Rhode Island for a big score. Swarthmore will get a chance to avenge the bad defeat by Franklin and Marshall last season.

Washington and Jefferson, which plays Yale next week, will wind up its preparation for the big game with a session with Westminster to-day. Lehigh should trounce Lebanon Valley and Tufts should have no trouble with Boston College.

The situation in Maine will be cleared up a little, as Maine meets Bates and Colby takes on Bowdoin.

IRONSIDES VS. LINCOLNS.

The Ironsides, champions of Newark, will play the final game of their series with the Lincoln Giants at Olympic Field, 138th street and Fifth avenue, to-morrow. The Newarkers were defeated in the first game, but won the second contest, which went eleven innings, 3 to 2. A minor league battery will be in the points for the visitors, while Williams and Wiley will work for the home team. In the first game, at 1:30, the New London club will tackle the Lincoln Giants. The New Londoners also have played the home team two games and broke even, hence two interesting games are assured. Reuling will pitch for the Lincoln Giants.

Golf Club Course for Farm.

WESTPORT, Conn., Oct. 20.—The Golf Club farm, a tract of land consisting of 200 acres, was sold to-day to a New York city silk importer. The sale included a nine hole golf course and a thirty-five acre park. The purchaser will use the land for a stock farm for breeding fancy cattle.

By DANIEL.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 20.—Yale's football team proved itself a combination of tremendous possibilities which are likely to be realized when it defeated the eleven from Virginia Polytechnic Institute in the Yale Bowl this afternoon by 19 to 0. From the standpoint of mere numbers and comparative scores the size of the Eli total was a bit disappointing. The engineers from Dixie had been beaten by West Virginia by 20 to 0, and West Virginia in turn had fallen a victim to Pennsylvania.

However, in its relation to Yale's showing to-day and the value of the score as an index to the real calibre of Tad Jones's team arithmetic is given the lie. Certainly Yale was far from top notch form, but in streaks it gave exhibitions of brilliancy that had not been flashed by a Blue eleven at this stage of the season in many years. The outstanding fault of the Elis was a lack of team work, but the individual excellence was there. It's a fast, heavy aggregation of men who know football and it remains for Jones to weld it into a machine.

Yale gave its impressive exhibition despite the absence of at least three men who may be regarded as regulars—Captain Cupid Black, Sheldon and Callahan, the centre trio. In place of Callahan at centre Jones used Rex Hutchinson, who had been playing in the backfield. Hutchinson did so well in his new place that it behooves Callahan to play as he has never played before in order to get his place back. Graham and Gale started at the guards.

Many Scouts Look On.

Yale played fine football, although it held itself in check at all times. With a number of scouts, including Reggie Brown, chief of the Harvard board of strategy, and Sol Metzger, the Washington and Jefferson coach, looking on, the Elis took good care that they showed absolutely nothing new. They played straight football throughout, varying line bucks with occasional end runs. Only once, in the third period, did Yale deviate from the strictly orthodox.

The deviation came in the form of a forward pass, from Le Gore to Gates, from the sixteen yard mark over the goal line for a touchdown. It was the only forward or any other kind of pass the Blue attempted. Virginia Poly tried six forward passes and completed two for thirteen yards.

The game was played under rather discouraging conditions. The ground was soggy and all through the contest a heavy fog hung over the Bowl. At times a fine drizzle added to the discomfort. Despite the wet going Yale was guilty of only one fumble, which was not recovered. Virginia Poly was not so clean in its handling of the ball, for it made four fumbles, only one of which was recovered.

Jacques Is the Hero.

Jacques, who started at fullback, was the hero of the day. It was he who made Yale's first two touchdowns in the opening quarter and who accounted for a majority of the nine first downs credited to Yale. Jacques repeatedly ripped through the Poly line and tore off a number of long runs. Harry Le Gore was there in all his glory, except for his old bete noire, his inability to kick goals from touchdowns. Braden, who went in for Jacques in the third period, played like a veritable Coy.

The best individual feat was a forty-eight yard run in the fourth period by Neville, who had replaced Le Gore in the previous quarter. On a dash through right tackle Neville dashed from his own 25 yard line to Poly's 27 yard mark. Yale broke the Poly line in twain and Neville came through, with Hutchinson making the interference. Hutchinson took care of three tacklers before Roden finally brought Neville to earth.

Jacques and Neville followed with a first down, and here the Virginians made their best stand of the day. They held Yale for downs on the four yard mark and Nelson punted out to his own 40 yard line. Yale organized another march and came to the 25 yard mark, but here the Southerners again showed their mettle and took the ball on downs.

Virginia Poly played a clean, snappy game and showed a world of life. It gave a splendid exhibition of clean, hard tackling and altogether did credit to the coaching of Ingersoll, the former Dartmouth star.

Charley Taft Plays Well.

One glaring fault in Yale's game was the comparative weakness of the line on offense. On defense the forwards were as a stone wall, but when Yale went on the attack the line repeatedly allowed the Virginia forwards to break through and smear the play before it had fairly started. In coming down the field under kicks there was nobody on the field who excelled Charley Taft, son of the former President. Taft played an unusually fine game at left tackle.

They looked like spectres battling in the mist when Nelson kicked off to Jacques to open the game. Le Gore, Jacques and Van Nostrand featured in a steady march of eighty yards for a touchdown scored by Jacques from the 2 yard mark through tackle. Le Gore failed to kick the goal. A fifteen yard dash through tackle by Jacques was the feature of the march.

Shortly after the kickoff Le Gore made the best punt of the day, for fifty-eight yards, which was considerable kicking with a waterlogged ball. The second touchdown was registered after a march for forty yards that started when Nelson punted to midfield and Van Nostrand ran the kick back ten yards. Le Gore made a first down, Jacques followed with another and then Jacques went through left tackle for his second touchdown.

Again Le Gore could not kick the goal. On the first play after the kickoff Le Gore ran seventeen yards. Shortly afterward Le Gore's punt was blocked, but he recovered on Yale's 20 yard line. In the second period Yale's lone try for a field goal, by Le Gore, was blocked by Funkhausen.

Yale Gets a Present.

Yale's third touchdown was recorded early in the third period. Virginia made the Elis a present of the score, which was made possible by a fumble by Funkhausen on his own 17 yard mark. Yale recovered the ball and took one stab at the line for a yard. On the 16 yard mark Yale worked a forward pass, Le Gore to Gates, over the line for a touchdown. Comerford kicked the goal, making it 19 to 0.

In spite of the rain 3,000 persons turned out for the game. The contest had been moved up a day owing to the big Yale pageant, which is to be held in the bowl to-day. The lineup:

COX TROTTER ADDS TO RACE LAURELS

Driven by Owner, Mabel Trask Defeats St. Frisco in Grand Circuit Feature.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—Mabel Trask, the speedy little chestnut mare owned by Barton Pardee and driven by Cox, added to her victories over her harness rival, St. Frisco, when in straight heats in the Grand Circuit races to-day she won the Georgia Railway and Power Company cup and the big end of a $2,500 purse. Her best time was 2:07¼, in the third heat.

The two favorites trotted consistently, St. Frisco with Geers, driving, finished each heat in second place, and in neither more than a neck behind. The race was for the 2:08 class trotting, with a field of five.

Lee Axworthy, the world's champion trotting stallion, came out between events, with B. F. White at the reins, and started to lower the Georgia track record of 2:05. He reeled off the mile in 1:59¾.

Peter Mac also exhibited in a special event in a mile performance. Piloted by M. McDevitt, he made his mile in 2:04½, thus himself beating the Georgia record as it stood before Lee Axworthy lowered it. The summaries:

RED SOX PLAYERS FINED.

Ban Johnson Aroused by Barnstorming of Champions.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Aroused by the persistent hunt for money exhibited by the players of the major leagues, B. B. Johnson, president of the American League, publicly denounced such actions here to-day and threatened to fine a half hundred or more players who have been guilty of "barnstorming" since the season closed. Especially is President Johnson put out by the way the Boston Red Sox went from the world's series to New Haven and played the New Haven Colonials, who were led by Tyrus Cobb.

In this New Haven struggle every active member of the Red Sox was in the game excepting Hooper and Gardner, each of whom had started for home. Ruth pitched the game and Cady caught. President Johnson said that inasmuch as these players ignored the recent ruling of the league against barnstorming he not only had fined them but would deny them the use of the world's championship emblems, which annually are given to each player on the title team.

Cobb, who played first base and practically led the New Haven team, also is to be fined, according to reports. There are many others, including the old Athletic stars who banded together and played through Maryland and southern Pennsylvania, who are to come under the lash of Ban Johnson.

DUFFY TO REFEREE GAME.

Frank Duffy of the Monaghan football team has been selected to referee the big game between Kerry and Kilkenny at the Monumental games at Celtic Park to-morrow afternoon. Duffy is one of the best players of the Gaelic game and a member of the committee that made the rules governing the game in America. P. J. Conway, president of the Irish American club, has been selected as the official timekeeper. Mike Ellearney of Louth will referee as Galway and Clare game and Patrick Harty is to referee the hurling game between Kerry and Offaly teams. The first game will be called at 2 o'clock sharp.

Pingry School vs. Newman at Elizabeth.
Leonia vs. Passaic at Passaic.

Scholastic athletic teams open wide the door into the winter season to-day. A score of football games are scheduled, while the soccer teams also will have a busy time of it. Of most importance in the gridiron division is the contest which brings together the eleven of Commerce High School and Stuyvesant at Ohio Field this morning. This is one of the big games of the year, and as both teams have displayed pleasing work in practice an interesting struggle should result.

The De Witt Clinton team, under the leadership of Coach Cook, will entertain Yonkers High moleskin wearers at Lenox Oval this afternoon. The Red and Black boys still are smarting under the recent defeat inflicted by Fordham Prep and plan to avenge themselves on Yonkers. Morris High's team will travel to Plainfield to do battle with the Jersey eleven.

Good Game in Brooklyn.

In Brooklyn interest is focussed on the Commercial-Brooklyn Prep contest scheduled for Commercial Field. The Crown Heights squad, captained by Arthur Kelly, is out for revenge, as last year it lost to the Scarlet and Gray aggregation in a hard game. The Brooklyn Prep players went through secret practice yesterday on their gridiron adjoining the school, and showed to good advantage. The same team that started against Adelphi last Saturday will line up against Commercial.

Jack Forsythe will lead his reconstructed Erasmus eleven against New Utrecht at Washington Park in the afternoon, and in the morning the former home of the Brooklyn Dodgers will be the scene of a game between Poly Prep and Manual.

Eight teams will take the field in the second round of the soccer tourney. Commercial will play Erasmus at Commercial Field; Evander Childs will meet Morris at Crotona Park; Commerce and Curtis will battle at Crotona Park, and Townsend Harris and Clinton will fight it out at Jasper Oval.

Orange Loses to Bloomfield.

Orange High School's gridiron warriors were humbled by the Bloomfield High School team at Orange, N. J., yesterday, 13 to 3. The game was one of big intersuburban encounters of the season for both the elevens, and there was considerable demonstration by Bloomfield's rooters following the game. The lineup:

BIG BILL AT RIDGEWOOD.

Wallace's Ridgewood grounds, Halsey street and Wyckoff avenue, Brooklyn, will be the scene of two good games to-morrow. In the first tilt the Bushwicks, semi-pro champions of Kings county, will tackle the American Nationals, and in the sunset tilt the Union Course Athletics will be the opponents of the home team. The Nationals and Athletics dispute the claim of the Bushwicks to the leading honors across the big bridge, and to-morrow's games were arranged for the purpose of giving these teams a chance to show their worth. Keilcher and Girard will pitch for the Bushwicks and Hohman will catch.

SEVERE TEST FOR ILLINOIS TO-DAY

Will Meet Ohio State in First Big Nine Contest—Team Confident.

OTHER GAMES IN WEST

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Illinois football men will face a test of fire in their game to-morrow with Ohio State—the first appearance of the Illini in a "big nine" game this season. The contest is expected to reveal the full strength of Illinois and to determine if it is to be regarded as a contender for the Western Intercollegiate Conference championship.

Chicago's annual clash with Northwestern and the Purdue-Iowa game are the only other contests on to-morrow's schedule having any bearing on the "big nine" race. Michigan will take on its ancient foe the Michigan Aggies at Ann Arbor, Wisconsin will meet the Haskell Indians and Minnesota will meet South Dakota in the other important games in the middle West.

Illinois, although beaten by Colgate a week ago, refuses to be counted out of the conference campaign so early in the season. Supporters of the eleven argue that Colgate played in November form and had eight veterans who had played three years together, while Illinois was somewhat weakened by the absence of some of its stars and had had only two weeks of practice.

Following is a list of the games in the central West to-morrow:

At Urbana, Ohio, State vs. Illinois; at Chicago, Northwestern vs. Chicago; at Madison, Haskell Indians vs. Wisconsin; at Ann Arbor, Michigan Aggies vs. Michigan; at Minneapolis, South Dakota University vs. Minnesota; at Iowa City, Purdue vs. Iowa; at Columbia, Ames vs. Missouri; at St. Louis, Drake vs. Washington; at Dallas, Oklahoma vs. Texas; at Fayetteville, Ark., Missouri Mines vs. Arkansas; at Beloit, Grinnell vs. Beloit; at Appleton, Lake Forest vs. Lawrence; at Cleveland, Ohio, Denison vs. Western Reserve; at Alliance, Case vs. Mt. Union; at Richmond, Franklin vs. Earlham; at Crawfordsville, Butler vs. Wabash; at Terre Haute, De Pauw vs. Rose Poly.

SOUTHERN FOOTBALL GAME

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—The larger Southern elevens are to engage in championship contests to-morrow. Indications Saturday were that in almost every instance hard battles might be expected. Virginia will meet Georgia, and in Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association territory Georgia Tech takes on North Carolina, Vanderbilt and Mississippi meet at Nashville, Sewanee goes to Lexington, Ky., to play Kentucky State, Tennessee meets South Carolina at Knoxville, Alabama takes Florida at Gainesville, Fla., and Louisiana State and Mississippi College will clash at Baton Rouge.

From College Football Camps in All Sections

Light Workout for Tigers.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 20.—The Princeton football team was put through a very light practice this afternoon in preparation for the Lafayette game on Saturday. As the ground was still soggy and no scrimmage was held. The Tigers went through some of their new formations and had a short signal drill after which the second team was lined up against the varsity for dummy scrimmage. The entire Tiger first team was in action to-day, and there is every indication that no regular will be missing from the lineup on Saturday, unless it be Lattone at right tackle. He may yet be taken to McGraw from last year's freshmen team.

Lattone is not in the best of physical condition at present and Moffatt is perfectly capable of taking care of the job. After the dummy scrimmage the varsity squad spent a short time running back kick offs and practicing was then brought to a close.

Cornell Players Shifted.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 20.—The coaches showed a big surprise to-day when they announced the Gilbert and Fitzpatrick would be shifted from guard to the tackle position in the varsity for the game with Bucknell on Saturday. The change might be temporary. These two men have only played in one scrimmage at ends, but the coaches think that they show promise and some of them are confident that the experiment will succeed. If it does the important work put in by the team will have been contributed by Taylor and Sutton, two crack ends for years, and Brett, sub left half, will also play with the varsity to-morrow.

Columbia Ready for Union.

Union college will furnish the opponent for Columbia at South Field this afternoon, what should be the final dash through the eleven on their tour of the east. Head Coach Nelson Metcalf has been working hard with the Columbians this week and the Morningsiders feel that they have at least good reason to expect that they will run up a large number of points. The line-up will find Reagener in at left guard instead of Donaldson, since work at that position has improved. With Brown back at centre L. T. Rosen will get his first trial in the back field.

Union has had a poor season, winning from Worcester Tech but losing to Cooper Tech and being blanked by Williams 12 to 0. Although saved points against Williams, Union showed a powerful offense against Cooper Tech, Hawkins and Black being the pick of the team during the game. Coach Nelson expects a tough game and a close one.

Back to Old Practice Field.

NEW BRUNSWICK, Oct. 20.—George Foster Sanford's Rutgers football squad went back to its old stamping grounds this afternoon when they went back to their old practice grounds after finding the new, improved Neilson Field too soft. They have been practising all year on an improved field on the campus of the college. The line showed up much better to-day than at any time since the game with Washington and Lee. Garrett was back in his old form at guard, and Robeson put up a star game at tackle. Rendall is expected to be back next week.

Defensive work is still needed by the line and the men were given a long drill in breaking up attacks by the second team. The offensive work of the forwards, however, is all that could be expected, and the coaches were highly pleased with them. The back field men were given a rest, but there was a long signal drill.

Fordham Game Starts at 2:30.

Coach Gargan put the Fordham varsity through a snappy three hour signal drill and scrimmage yesterday, and declared himself satisfied with the showing of the Bronx team. Kendricks, who joined the squad on Thursday, after a week's illness from blood poison, is not as well as was reported, and although he ran through the drills, he will not be in the lineup to-day.

The Fordham players will be numbered during the remaining games. The numeral thirteen was tabooed. No Maroon warrior wanted the so-called unlucky number. The numbers for the entire season follow:

Ends, Capt. Conklin, 1, and Coccoran, 2; tackles, Lowe, 11, and Cudell, 16; guards, May, 4, and Branci, 5; centre, Jeanne, 3; quarterback, McNamara, 6; halfback, Krug, 7, and McCormick, 8; fullback, Dempsey, 12, and O'Connell, 10. The game begins at 2:30 a half hour earlier than formerly, and special Third avenue "L" service has been arranged for.

R. I. State Awaits Colgate.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 20.—Rhode Island State College team after a splendid game with Maine at Orono on last Saturday is in fine condition for the Colgate game to-morrow.

Practice was somewhat light on Monday, but the players were driven harder on Tuesday, and on Wednesday a lively scrimmage was held between the first and second teams. To-day the team had only a short signal drill.

The team will be somewhat crippled to-morrow by the loss of Le Secot, fullback, and Dunham, left end, who will be unable to play because of injuries. Their places will be filled by Keegan, fullback, and Greenhalgh or Byrne at right end, with Kimball taking the left end.

Harvard Freshies Win.

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 20.—Percy Haughton gave the Harvard team a light session of kicking and signal work to-day in final preparation for the game with Massachusetts Aggies to-morrow. R. Horween and E. Robinson succeeded in kicking several field goals from the twenty yard line in the course of practice. While the varsity was in action in the stadium the second team defeated the strong freshman eleven, 10 to 0. Nardin, 18, scored the goal after the second team backs had ploughed through the 200 pound freshmen line.

J. C. Caner, '17, will get into scrimmage this afternoon for the first time after a layoff of two weeks. M. Taylor will not get into the game at left tackle for at another week. W. Wheeler will take similar time off. A. Clark, after a week's absence from scrimmage, will play at right tackle. C. Thacher will be back in the lineup for the last time.

Big Game at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 20.—Although a long list of games will be played in this city tomorrow, the game between Syracuse and Pittsburg will be the feature of the day. Both teams have been practicing hard for the game and are in good condition. Coach Warner's protégés have had a long rest, as they have not played since Oct. 7, when they defeated Colgate, 20 to 0. Pittsburg has been practicing for the game for the last two weeks, and has been in good condition for the game. Pittsburg has brought a team to the Orange and Black before in the history of football. Never has there been as great interest in the game as in October, game as it is the same team as Syracuse. The city has gone football crazy, and seats for the game are at a premium.

The Pittsburg squad arrived in town last evening and worked out in the stadium today. The Orange and Black has had in a week of hard practice and is in fine condition. A light signal drill was held on the field this afternoon. Coach Sanderson lake coming in to the city just before the game.

Wesleyan's Lineup for N. Y. U.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Oct. 20.—Wesleyan and New York University, which meet here during Ohio Field week, have won all except two games over the Wesleyan team has lost only to Colgate and Williams, and has defeated Amherst, Trinity, Tufts and Springfield. The Wesleyan team has been developing speed, and the backfield has been developed for Talbot and Sayer, guards; Woodruff and Brown, tackles; Boswell and Webber, ends; Wells, quarter; Dreyfus and Hammon, half; Wilson, fullback.

Army to Use Scrubs.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 20.—The Army took its last drill to-night to prepare for the Trinity game to-morrow. It will be the first game between the Cadets and the Hartford collegians since 1910. The Easterners came here regularly past years for football games with the Army, but never with much success.

Tomorrow's game is expected to be easy for the soldiers. The coaches said to-day that the majority of the second string men, including Parks, Morrill, Green, Hammon, Chapman and Colby, would be used against the visitors unless the tide turns the other way. The Cadets simply ran through signals to-day.

Penny Loses Neill.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—William Neill, star guard on the University of Pennsylvania football team, has been declared ineligible by the faculty committee on athletics because he played three years on the Wilmington college team at Wilmington, Del., before coming to Pennsylvania. Neill was a regular on last year's Pennsylvania team and therefore had played four years of college football according to the ruling.

Coach Folwell declared that Whitman College only recently had been raised to the college rating and that Neill's eligibility had not been questioned until the crack season, who has been playing on the scrub team, will be a valuable reserve and will take Neill's place in the varsity lineup.

The team to-day had a long signal drill in final preparation for the Western game with Penn State. After the drill several plays involving the use of the forward pass were practised.

Outlook at N. Y. U. Bright.

The final practice at Ohio Field yesterday in preparation for the Wesleyan game showed the New York University football team to be in first class condition. With all the regulars back in the lineup, the prospects that the local eleven will redeem itself for last season's defeat are brighter.

Coach Eustis put the first squad through a long signal drill, and after the big football rally, which was held in the Washington under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., the players returned for a short back board talk.

Forward passes and plays from open formations, which are expected to play a large part in to-day's contest, were drilled. Cann was given a fifteen minute practice in punting from behind the scrimmage line.
