ASKS $1,000,000 FOR WAR.

Salvation Army Begins Campaign to Raise Large Fund.

The Salvation Army has begun raising a fund of $1,000,000 for war work. The campaign will be carried on throughout the United States during the next few weeks, directed from Chicago by Evangeline C. Booth, Commander. The money will be used to establish and maintain recreation and refreshment huitments in advance of the camps of the United States expeditionary forces in France, rest rooms, hostels and naval and military homes and ambulances.

The Salvation Army already has established seven recreation and refreshment huitments, and is planning the erection of fifty or more in American camps in France. It now has 153 huitments in the camps of the Allies which cost $350,000, and 77 hostels and naval military homes equipped with 4,000 beds which cost $400,000. There are five huitments completed adjacent to the cantonments in the United States.

President Wilson and Secretary of War Baker have indorsed the campaign to raise the $1,000,000 fund. The Salvation Army's chief plea is that it reaches that element of the troops not reached by the Y. M. C. A. and other organizations.

LANE REPORTS DYE INDUSTRY GROWING

180 Color Concerns Now as Against 5 or 6 in 1915.

Special Despatch to THE SUN.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Action by Congress to encourage leasing of waterpower rights and development of new petroleum fields is predicted by Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, in his report for the last fiscal year, made public to-day.

The review gives statistics of the phenomenal growth in the chemical industries of the United States in the last two years. The capital now invested in these industries is more than twice what it was in 1915. Where before the war five or six American concerns with 400 employees were competing with the Germans in making artificial colors and dyes there are now in the United States ninety enterprises making special colors and ninety concerns making crudes and intermediates.

The gasolene production has increased from 55,000,000 to 70,000,000 barrels a year since 1914.

The Cotton States Weather Forecast.

For North Carolina—Fair to-day; much colder in the east portion; fair and continued cold to-morrow.

For South Carolina and Georgia—Fair to-day; colder on the coast; fair and continued cold to-morrow.

For Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee—Fair to-day and to-morrow; warmer to-morrow.

For Louisiana—Fair and cloudy to-day; rising temperature; fair to-morrow.

SAVES $2,000 CASH FROM HOLDUP MEN

Victim of Bandits Threw Portfolio Over a Hedge.

By throwing a portfolio containing Government contracts and $2,000 in cash over a high hedge just before he lost consciousness, Hans Otto Schundler, a marine machine manufacturer, saved it from two men who attacked and beat him in the Parkville section of Brooklyn early Saturday morning. Two rings valued at $3,000, a gold watch and chain and $50 in cash were stolen from him.

Schundler had arrived from Boston on a midnight train and started to his home at 1703 Avenue K via the subway to Brooklyn Bridge and a Brighton elevated train. After walking a short distance from the Avenue J elevated station the men attacked him from behind. He threw the portfolio away and knew nothing more for half an hour. When he regained consciousness he found a three inch gash on his head. The attack took place half a block from a police booth at Avenue J and East Seventeenth street.
