BUILDING INDUSTRY IN TIGHT PLACE

Manufacture of Materials and New Construction Work Forced to Stop.

FEDERAL HELP SOUGHT

Stock of Brick Only 10 P. C. of Normal—Building Loss 36.6 P. C. in Seven Months.

Impressed with the fact that in the seven months ending July 31, building construction under Government curtailment in the metropolitan district, representing a radius of 100 miles from New York (excluding Philadelphia), had shown a decline of 36.6 per cent., and at the same time the demand for all kinds of space, residence, commercial, storage and industrial, had been stimulated to abnormal levels because of Government requisitions, Washington last week gave closer attention to the critical condition regarding the building material supply and indicated a disposition to give more help to necessary construction projects after the Liberty Loan drive, says the Dow Service Daily Building Reports today.

The committee of building material manufacturers which was in Washington last week reported that they had received assurances that the presentment of facts, as to the seriousness of the building situation in and near New York, had been borne in upon various high department heads with the result that definite results toward relieving the pressure on the building situation may be looked for. This relief may be expected in the matter of providing for housing accommodation for essential or even important commercial houses that have been inconvenienced by Government requirements. In another form the relief will be given in the matter of providing fuel so that building materials may be provided in quantity sufficient to meet the building requirements when the gradual release finally gets into motion.

As an instance of this latter phase: Brick manufacturers up the Hudson have not been able to get coal with which to burn the brick moulded this summer. The stock of marketable brick on hand to-day is not more than 10 per cent. of normal. The Government has an option on practically all this supply. This means that should Washington give the necessary permission to make loans on building projects it approves of, there would be such a grave shortage of brick in this market as to seriously retard construction. The same situation applies in a measure to portland cement stocks, lime and plaster reserves, glass, sheet metal and many other commodities.

A new factor developed in the building market here last week, however, that has completely tied up the building market at the week end. The Priorities Commissioner has exacted a pledge from all applying for priorities on building materials wherein the manufacturer must guarantee that none of his materials which he sells shall go into non-essential construction. It is said to be physically impossible for building material manufacturers to comply with such a requirement. Each contractor having an unfinished job must get his priorities from the commissioner, the manufacturers say, in order to permit them to sell goods to a dealer who supplies the contractor.

LIVE TOPICS OF THE COMMERCIAL WORLD

WARNS PROFITEERS IN DRY GOODS LINE

Chairman Farwell Tells Dealers Maximum Prices Fixed Must Not Be Exceeded.

Special Despatch to THE SUN.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—A request to abide by the President's proclamation regarding the elimination of excess prices on goods between the manufacturer and consumer has been sent to all the members of the Southern Wholesale Dry Goods Association and the National Dry Goods Wholesale Association.

John V. Farwell, chairman of the committee on naming maximum prices for the wholesale dry goods trade, at a conference with Robert S. Brookings, chairman of the price fixing committee, told the latter of the steps being taken to eliminate excessive prices in the cotton goods market.

The letter sent to the members of the two wholesale associations says in part:

"Responding as quickly as possible to the proclamation of the President regarding the elimination of excess prices from manufacturer to the consumer, especially on staples used by the masses, the National Wholesale Dry Goods Association in conjunction with the Southern Wholesale Dry Goods Association ask all their members and the trade generally to respect the letter and spirit of the President's proclamation, and to that end and in conformity with prices already made on a few items in the primary markets it is requested, no matter what the shortage, that no dry goods jobber ask more than the maximum prices on the commodities named.

"Any jobber may sell these goods at as much less than these prices as he desires or as competition may dictate, but the maximum prices are not to be exceeded under any circumstances."

Advises Standard Clothing Wages.

Industrial problems of great magnitude could be solved partially by an amicable conference between workers in the clothing industry and the men who control the business, according to Prof. Earl Dean Howard, manager of the labor department of factories controlled by Hart, Schaffner & Marx. Prof. Howard, who is also secretary for the committee on industrial relations of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, made the statement at a meeting with fifteen of the largest employers in the men's clothing trade.

He said that standardization of hours of labor, wages and general conditions might do away with much of the present friction in the industry.

The plan of Prof. Howard will be discussed at the next meeting of the war service committee of the clothing industry, which represents leading manufacturers in many cities.

Early Buyers Getting Best Prices.

Indications are that prices for silk will be higher this spring, and buyers who are doing business early believe they are getting the best of the break. A decided tendency has been shown for taffetas, and while it is too early to make a definite prediction as to what weave will be most sought after the big buying in taffetas seems to point to the belief that this weave will be most popular.

The higher prices which are said to be in sight may restrict business somewhat, but manufacturers believe nevertheless that there will be a good demand. According to predictions in the trade taffetas which sold for $1 to $1.10 are to go up to $1.25, grades which sold at $1.25 or thereabout will go up to $1.40 or more, the $1.50 grades will sell at not less than $1.75, while at least $2 will be the price for better class stuff.
