The Increase in the Number of Casualties.

The increase in the number of casualties, as shown by this list, does not reflect current losses. It includes all casualties, both major and minor, in compliance with the order of the War Department that all casualties be reported and published. Heretofore only the major casualties were published and these were reported by cable. There is now in effect the policy of despatching the list of casualties by courier from the front to Washington. The list brought by the courier contains both the major and minor casualties, which accounts for the increase in the number reported.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The following casualty lists were made public to-day:
