STOCKS ON THE CURB MOVE IRREGULARLY

Profit Taking Causes Most Oil Securities to Close at Fractional Losses.

An irregular and quiet tone characterized the trading in the Curb market yesterday. There was some strength in a few of the oil stocks on light outside buying around midday, but before the close renewed profit taking by the traders caused most of the issues to close with fractional losses. The higher priced oil stocks were less active than usual and moved irregularly. Midwest Refining gained a point after opening lower and then lost the advance, while Standard Oil of New Jersey rallied after a loss of more than ten points.

Trading in the industrial list was on a small scale with unimportant price changes. Keystone Tire and Rubber was an exception and established a new high record with an advance of more than three points, due mostly to pool operations. Strength in that stock was attributed to the contract made with the Perfection Tire and Rubber Company more than a week ago, but nothing new has happened since.

Bond trading was on a moderately large scale, especially in the Anaconda new offering. American Tobacco serial notes were in good demand with the series of 1919 and 1923 selling to new high records. There was initial trading in the new Cities Service 7 per cent. debenture bonds, series C.

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE.

Heavy selling pressure in the afternoon made for a substantial reduction in values yesterday on the Consolidated Exchange. Stocks were in supply from the outset, and in the absence of any pronounced demand prices responded easily to pressure. What buying there was centred in the oil, tobacco and distilling stocks. The weakness was more pronounced in the industrials than in the rails. Losses in the latter were fractional, excepting in Reading and Southern Pacific, which sold off more than a point. Steel shares led in the downward movement. Equipment, copper and marine shares were in supply, with losses of about a point. Trading in Liberty Loan bonds was active, with prices steady.

COFFEE MARKET.

There was a sharp decline in coffee futures yesterday morning, the start being 30 to 70 points lower and free offerings by one of the leading local bear operators, with very little demand in evidence. Around midday a little covering sent values up 10 to 30 points, but during the late afternoon the bears again hammered prices which declined rapidly, closing at net losses for the day of 65 to 80 points. Santos futures were weak, being 50 to 200 reis lower, while there was a decline in Rio spots of 25 reis. Firm offers were reported lower again, and in the local spot market Rio 7s were ⅛c. lower at 16¾c. In the cost and freight market Santos 4s sold at 20½c., steamer shipment, London credits.
