CURB PRICES ARE MORE IRREGULAR

Volume of Business Continues Large, With Considerable Profit Taking.

Irregularity was more pronounced in yesterday's session in curb stocks, but the volume of sales continued on a large scale considering the inclement weather. Profit taking in most issues occurred during the greater part of the session, but again there were several stocks in vigorous demand which sold to new high levels under large turnovers. The opening showed strength throughout the list, but in the later trading reactions in most issues caused small losses. In no case were offerings heavy.

Interest turned more to the oils, in which several large advances were recorded. The Standard Oil shares were in constant demand, with Prairie Pipe Line and South Penn Oil rising 13 points. A further advance of several points was recorded in Lone Star Oil and Gas to a new high and Standard Oil of Indiana advanced about 30 points. Some independent oils which recently have shown large advances were generally under pressure, closing with fractional losses.

Remington Typewriter was in good demand, establishing a new high through a gain of more than five points, and Famous Players-Lasky on light dealings advanced about nine. Savold Tire was strong early, but toward the close reacted slightly. It was reported that some contracts for the use of the Savold process will be consummated shortly.

More interest was displayed in mining stocks than in recent sessions. Mason Valley was under pressure, due to announcement that the mine had been closed down early in March, and National Tin established a new high. Tonopah Dive also was strong.

A broader list of bonds was dealt in with small gains in most securities.
