A good audience was present last evening at the First Baptist church when the chorus choir under the direction of Mrs. William Gordon Brackett assisted by Miss Helen Powers, pianist, and Prof. H. W. Peterson, violinist, gave the first of their monthly programs of sacred music for the fall. The full chorus in Dudley Buck's great production, "Festival to Deum" was particularly appreciated with incidental solos by Mrs. Myrtle Wilson and Henry Heden and Louis Lovinger. Mrs. Myrtle Wilson's soprano solo, "Beatitude," by Bingham was pleasingly rendered, as was Miss Zerline Miles' contralto number, "Do No Ask, Oh Lord," by Mosenthal. A prelude number, Shumann's "Evening Song" and an offertory solo, "La Priere," by Ernst were given by Prof. H. W. Peterson. Mrs. Brackett's solo, "The Celestial City" by Pontius with violin obligato closed a fine program. The pastor, Rev. Robert Lincoln Kelley, spoke eloquently upon the great need of Americans responding generously to all the call of need in Armenia and Syria and an offering was taken to be used for that worthy end. WARDEN SWENSON SUICIDED SUNDAY

HEAD OF STATE PENITENTIARY, PROMINENT IN POLITICS FOR MANY YEARS, IS DEAD AT SIXTY FIVE.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—Ole S. Swenson, warden of the Sioux Falls penitentiary, who on Sunday shot and killed himself at the penitentiary because of poor health and domestic difficulties, was one of the best known men of eastern South Dakota.

He was born in Norway on Nov. 9, 1845. He was a descendant of a Swedish nobleman of the tenantry class, who fled from his native country in 1694, for political reasons and settled in Norway. In the course of years the family name was changed to Swenson.

He accompanied his parents to the United States, they settling on a farm in Nicollet county, Minn., in 1857. He later attended a public school at St. Peter, Minn. At the age of eighteen he began clerking in a store in that city. In 1876 he established a hardware store at St. Peter, afterward moving his stock to Grand Meadow, Minn. After being in business at Grand Meadow for a period of four years he came to Falls, where from 1880 to 1892 he was a well known hardware merchant. In the latter year he disposed of his interest in that business and turned his attention to flour milling. He was a director of several companies having headquarters in South Dakota and Minnesota.

Prominent in Politics. From 1898 until 1902 he was chairman of the Republican committee of Minnehaha county. Prior to that time he served four years as county treasurer. In 1901 he was first appointed warden of the Sioux Falls penitentiary, and after serving two years was reappointed for another term of two years. He was then out of office until 1909, when he again was appointed warden of the penitentiary, in which position he served up to the time of his death by appointment. He made an excellent official, and was noted for the improvements he had made in the institution.

During his incumbency of the office but few prisoners ever escaped, and most of the few who did escape were recaptured. He was instrumental in having a shirt factory and underwear manufacturing plant built in the penitentiary, so the convicts would not remain in idleness.

Mr. Swenson was a thirty-second degree Mason and also was affiliated with the Modern Woodmen of the World. He was a refined and courteous man, and was well liked by all those with whom he came into contact.

KRYL TRIO IS OF HIGH RANK

THREE ARTISTS ON ONE FAMILY HERE THURSDAY NIGHT. DISPLAY VERSATILE TALENT.

A unique trio of musical artists, Bohumir Kryl and his two daughters, will make their second appearance in Mitchell on Thursday evening as the second number of the Y. M. C. A. lecture course. Music lovers who were pleased with the program of the Myrna Sharlow company recently are assured of a concert that will be fully up to that high standard on Thursday evening.

Kryl has been recognized for many years as one of the leading band leaders in the country and also as a prominent figure among the concert soloists ranking favorably with the best in the world. Both in his solo work and in his directing, he displays the final degree of appreciation and interpretation.

The bandmaster has one pronounced hobby—fondness for oil paintings which has led to the accumulation of a gallery valued at $100,000. The Philadelphia Press recently related that John McCormack was visiting at the Kryl home, spied a painting he desired, and finally traded a $12,000 Stradavarius violin to the bandmaster for it. Kryl in turn gave the violin to his daughter, Miss Josephine Kryl, who is an able student of the stringed instrument.

The young woman inherits all of her father's musical attributes. She was taken to Europe by Ysavo, the celebrated violin virtuoso, studying there under him as well as the best masters on the continent. The war interfered with her work and she is now in this country awaiting an opportunity to return and complete her instruction. She will appear in the concert.

The third member of the trio is Miss Marie Kryl, pianist. She too has been favored by an hereditary fondness for music and has been an apt student under many of the best performers in the country. Recently she received $500 for playing a concert with the Chicago Symphony orchestra and is regarded as one of the most promising artists of the young generation.

The program of Thursday evening will consist of solos by the three members of the company and some trio work by all. It will be held in the Methodist church and will commence promptly at 8-15 o'clock.
